IN MEMORY OF Ms. MAXINE CATCHINGS

(DECEMBER 24, 1937 - APRIL 30, 1994)

THIS MOMENT

You may never see tomorrow; there's no written guarantee and things that happened yesterday belong to history. You can not predict the future, and I can not change the past. You have just the present moment; you must treat it as your last. You must exercise compassion, help the fallen to their feet be a friend unto the friendless, make an empty life complete. Kind words you fail to say this day may ever be unsaid, for you know not how short may be their path that lies ahead. You may never see tomorrow; but this moment is your own, it's yours to use or cast aside; the choice is yours; alone. You have just his precious moment in the sunlight of today. Where the dawning of tomorrow meets the dusk of yesterday.

Dear Precious (Terrica T. Miller):

It is not always easy being an eagle, but once you spread your wings and connect with the Spirit you can soar. There is nothing that you and God cannot handle or accomplish. Therefore, you will never walk alone because the Angels and the Ancestors are watching over you. Aunt Vee and your family will also, be there. Before, I moved to Chicago your great-grandmother Valerie Miller, said these words to me "Whenever you are tired and getting just to busy, Baby, you need to get somewhere and get still" and "Always stay Sweet". Aunt Vee's translation rest your mind, pray and keep your beautiful personality. Today, I still live by those words of wisdom and I am passing these same words on to you; Pray, Get somewhere and get still and stay sweet.

CONGRATULATIONS AND I AM VERY PROUD OF YOU!

Many, Many Blessings and with Love,
