Sophomore Basketball

Young cagers display varsity potential

Champaign Central's sophomore cagers formed a good foundation for excellent future varsity squads. Through patience, persistence and plenty of practice, Coach Charlie Due gave the team valuable experience for varsity play. The young Maroons successfully completed the season with 11 wins and 4 losses.

Tom Geissler and Bobby Jo Jackson were two outstanding players who with their talents added strength to the varsity squad. They will prove to be invaluable as juniors on next year's team. Other outstanding players were Richard Witt, Jim Koss, Ron Oliver, Ron Terry and Willie Newbern. Other sophomores provided good back-up and replacement material.

ing ding year helps lay oundation for tankmen

In his second year as swim coach, Dick Mulvihill led a building year which gave some good experience to the sophomore-filled squad. Senior letterman Bob Carpenter tried his best for his final year at Central, and senior diver John McCulley finished the season with only one setback in competition. Senior Jeff McGill and junior Don Delbert also put in good performances for the Maroon tankmen. CHS finished 4-12 in dual competition and looks ahead for more successful seasons.

Tennis

Netmen volley for six key varsity positions

The Champaign Central tennis team, deeply hurt by last year's graduation, found the going rough in this rebuilding year. Coach Mulvihill had only two returning lettermen, Ed Chin and Jim Lewis. They were placed in number one and two positions consecutively. The other four spots left open on varsity were evenly fought for by John Parks, Rick Tanner, Mark Holste, Bill Campo, Jerry Gorman and a handful of sophomores who were exposed to competitive tennis for the first time.

Coach Mulvihill spent most of the time teaching the fundamentals of the game and trying to develop consistency and confidence in his players.

Hopes for a brighter future increased with each passing week as poise and technique became a part of a good number of the CHS netmen's games.

Golf

Putting power gives linksmen edge in meets

Running up stairs and practicing with a net proved helpful for the improving golf team. Second-year coach Richard Wooley hoped to succeed in bettering last season's record. Returning lettermen Scott Glover and Rob Eisner, with the assistance of Tim Nally, have done well for the linksmen. The sophomore team members surely look promising for future years and gave Mr. Wooley a building block. Senior lettermen, Bob Hepler and Jeff McGill, climaxed their golf seasons with superb performance in both dual competition and tournament play.

Track

Renewed enthusiasm coupled with promising talent made this year's track squad a strong contender in the Big 12 title race. Coach Seaman relied on lettermen Paul Andrew, Chuck Bayne, Bruce Garret, and Tom Good, along with veterans Marc Cutright, Dave Henry, Terry Tanner, and Jackie Vonner to pace the cindermen into Conference and District contention. Seaman was pleased with the great interest shown by sophomores and comments that there is great promise among them. Early spring training, the great amount of enthusiasm, and the talent from both veterans and newcomers made this year's track team a satisfying one for Central mentor, Paul Seaman, and assistants Coleman Carrodine and Fred Schooley.

Baseball

Lettermen prepare for fourth Big 12 title

Returning lettermen are Maroon diamondmen's power as they anticipate equaling their 3rd place finish in State finals and capturing their 4th Big 12 title.

Early season practice of weight-lifting, bat-swinging, and stair-climbing conditions conference winners.

Experience in every position will prove to be a major factor in Big 12 games. Returning pitcher Dave White and hitters Dan Bone, Chris Hansen, Steve Mayberry, and Craig Pierce provide the needed experience and unity to make a strong team. Other hopeful players are juniors Dave Ashby, Dan Carlier and Steve LaRoque along with many sophomore prospects.
