The number of children read to at daily story time is from twenty to sixty. Attendance at movies is always well over fifty people. (appendix VIII)

Recommendations

We feel that the observations and recommendations of Miss Fannie Jones, consultant for the State Library were both worth while and challenging. We feel that we have taken those suggestions in the spirit of good will and hope for success in which they were given. (appendix XI)

We would recommend the following: that the need for the study room to be totally enclosed be considered at the cost shown by the lowest bidder, that the need for the Project Director to travel to conferences, conventions and other gatherings at which relevant library materials might be found be reflected in the budget, that the need of our patron for audio-visual materials and aids be reflected in the budget, that the positive aspect of relevant speakers be given just financial consideration, that the extreme need for some form of transportation for pick-up, delivery and in community services be given just consideration,
