This event will serve as a time for Black faculty, staff, and graduate students to recognize one Black faculty member, one Black staff member, and one Black graduate student who has made "outstanding contributions" to the Black community at the University of Illinois. It is our hope that this event will also create a space for current Black graduate students to build relationships with faculty and staff who can support them through the graduate school journey.

We sincerely hope that you will join us for this event.

Light refreshments will be served.

If you do not plan to attend the event, please help us make this event a success by nominating a Black Faculty, Staff, and/or Graduate Student for the "BGSA Outstanding Contribution" Award. Nominations are due today!!

Please share this information with colleagues and friends.

Thank you,
