

HORNER TO CALL PARLEY IN MOVE AGAINST CRIME

Session Will Encourage Cooperation Between All of Illinois' Police Officers

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 19—(INS)—A new conference to combat crime will be called in Springfield soon, Gov. Henry Horner has revealed today.

The executive revealed his plans in an address to the Illinois State Sheriffs' association convention at Quincy, which was wired to Quincy and then broadcast to the session.

Purpose of the new crime session will be to encourage cooperation between all of Illinois' police forces.

In his address the governor lauded sheriffs and the state police for their drive on crime since the first statewide conference on crime was held in 1934. He especially praised the work of Thomas J. Courtney, state's attorney of Cook county.

"Organized crime in Illinois has been practically wiped out," he said. "Since that first crime conference there has not been one unsolved bank robbery in our state.

"To wipe crime out entirely for all time in our state and every community of it is a millennium which you and I, as practical men, do not expect. Whatever the reason, there will always be crime. Although crime is on the wane, the fight must go on."

The governor expressed his disapproval of the constitutional provision limiting a sheriff to four consecutive years in office. "This," he said, "in my judgment is indefensible in these modern days when efficiency is of the greatest importance in that office."

A. V. COX IS GIVEN DIVORCE BY ARMSTRONG

Judge John H. Armstrong held a brief session of circuit court Thursday morning and adjourned until 9 a. m. Friday.

He granted A. V. Cox a divorce from Eve W. Cox on a charge of desertion. The defendant is an actress, and found she could not follow her career and keep up a home, evidence showed. There are no children.

The suit of Lelah Schwietzke vs H. M. Campbell was heard by

Legionnaire's Duty to Care For Children of Vets: Ball

"The American Legion, like the G. A. R., is a dying organization," Fred D. Ball, Chicago, Legion child welfare commissioner told 175 at the Legion's child welfare clinic Wednesday night. "Every ex-service man should rally to the support of the Legion while there are yet enough men to have an active organization."

"It is the Legionnaire's duty," he added, "to care for the children of veterans. Keep the homes and children intact; and assist the activities of both Boy and Girl Scout movements whenever possible. Keep children busy—it prevents delinquency."

"Don't Fail Children"
Miss Natalia Greensfelder, child welfare worker, department of public welfare, told of state activities of disabled veterans should be adequately cared for by the government. This isn't charity, nor does it require continued contributions.

"If we of the Legion do not provide for our children now, who will do it after we've gone?" he asked.

The caravan was sponsored locally by the American Legion, its auxiliary, the Forty and Eight and Eight and Forty. Francis D. Scully, Chicago, chairman of the department's child welfare commission, presided. The troupe departed for Jacksonville Thursday morning.

NEW RECREATION CENTER PLANNED AT 601 FREMONT

Plans for acquisition of another Recreation Commission community center to be located at 601 East Fremont street, were completed at a meeting of the Douglas area committee Wednesday evening.

The new center will be ready for occupancy about Dec. 1.

The Champaign-Urbana Junior Woman's club, cooperating with the Recreation Commission, is planning furnishings which will be ready when repairs on the house are completed.

"The program in that area has been conducted since last spring in Lawhead and Willard schools. The new center will give leaders in that neighborhood an opportunity to do a much better work than has been possible in the past," Guy Ware, commission superintendent, said.

"The pre-school program will continue at Lawhead under the direction of Miss Marion Johnson, with cooperation from the school principal, Miss Hawkins. Work at Willard will consist mostly of athletics, using the school grounds when weather permits, with a basement room as headquarters."

The program in the new center will consist of crafts, social activities, music, dramatics and other leisure time activities for all ages.

Because the center is located close to Douglas park, the area committee is optimistic about a year around program.

The staff in the Douglas area is: Mrs. Odella Wesley, director; Miss Marion Johnson, pre-school director; Miss Lulu Williams, crafts and clubs; Miss Rosemarie Louis, children and girls' clubs; William Pealer, athletics and boys' crafts; Charles Roberts, building janitor.

The Douglas area committee: George Ray, chairman; Mrs. Helen Hite, co-chairman; Mrs. Winifred Green, secretary; Claude Britt, treasurer; Mrs. Odella Wesley, recreation supervisor; Johnny Walker, Dr. L. P. Diffay, Allen Rivers, R. R. Edwards, Homer Chavis, Mrs. Pearl Wells, Cecil Nelson, Clarence Campbell, Dr. H. D. Ellis, Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, Jesse Britt, James Jackson, Rochelle Broom, Miss Mae Hawkins, and Ray Hines.

A.W. THREATENS STRIKES AGAINST TWO FORD PLANTS

By GEORGE D. CRISSEY
 ed Press Staff Correspondent
 ST. LOUIS, Dec. 4—The United Automobile Workers indicated today that strikes in two more assembly plants of the Ford Motor company would be called next week and if they failed to force the company to deal with the union strikes in "feeder" plants supplying Ford with parts would begin immediately.

Richard T. Frankenstein, international vice president and secretary of the union, hastened here to organize the strike called against a local Ford assembly plant, scheduled Nov. 25. It has not prevented the plant from operating. He indicated that the union was about to begin mass picketing on a most massive scale to close the plant. Frankenstein's arrival to conduct the strike and to address the strikers, indicated that the United Automobile Workers' strike heralded and long prepared for on Ford, the only major employer who has not signed a union contract, was about to begin.

From headquarters in Detroit, Frankenstein is in charge of all union's activities to enlist Ford workers and obtain a contract with the Ford company. Arriving here last night, he will go to Detroit today.

Addressing a mass meeting of union last night, Frankenstein said: "I'm not sure of how many workers are actively supporting here, but I do know that there are enough workers in this city when you say no one is going to the plant and no one is going to build cars, that they won't go in they won't build cars—and day may not be far off."

ILLINOIS COAL IS USEFUL FOR COKE MAKING

The Illinois coking industry is expected to be expedited by a bulletin issued Saturday by the State Geological Survey definitely showing that Illinois coal is satisfactory raw material for the making of coke as a smokeless fuel for some heating purposes.

The bulletin sums up results of five years of field and laboratory researches on coke making and economic studies of the midwestern fuel markets by members of the survey staff. The state's coking industry received its start at West Frankfort in 1934.

A new process developed there will, the survey said, undoubtedly lead to the erection of numerous coke plants in coal mining centers throughout the state, especially as recent researches indicate that the product of almost any Illinois mine can be coked successfully by the process.

NICKELL URGES IMMUNIZATION OF CHILDREN

Immunization of school children will be urged in all Champaign schools, none of which are now safely protected from contagion, according to Supt. V. L. Nickell.

"At Columbia school, where a great amount of immunization has already been done, there is not more than 40 percent protection now," he said. At the beginning of school in September there were 47 immunized, with six more in October.

Last month when the outbreak of diphtheria hit the school, 165 more were given disease protection. Approximately 65 percent immunization is necessary, however, for safety, he said.

DOUGLAS MEN RECOVER FROM CRASH HURTS

TUSCOLA, Dec. 4—(BSC)—Dr. W. C. Blaine, Ralph Sturgeon, L. L. Smith and Clyde Sturgell were recovering from injuries received in a head-on automobile collision southwest of here Thursday morning.

Dr. Blaine was driving west on the single track gravel road with Smith in the front seat with him and Sturgeon in the rear, en route to the Blaine farm. Clyde Sturgell was driving east on the south side of the road in the one track gravel. A heavy fog obscured the highways and Sturgell, thinking Dr. Blaine did not see him, turned to the left to avoid a collision just as Dr. Blaine swerved to the same side of the road. Chris Sipp, farmer, brought Dr. Blaine to his office; and Alvia Guy and Raymond Wimple brought the other three men to Blaine's office where they were given care by Dr. J. O. Cletcher.

Dr. Blaine is confined to his bed, but Sturgeon was on the street Friday. Sturgell is confined to his home and Smith remained in bed Friday afternoon with his injuries.

SHAVINGS CATCH FIRE AT FOSTER PLANING MILL

Enough smoke to make Pittsburgh feel like a sheet fresh from the wash poured out of the P. D. Foster planing mill, Goodwin and Park streets, when shavings caught fire at 10:45 a. m. Friday.

Two alarms were put in and all three trucks brought firemen to the scene where they encountered a building completely filled with smoke. For several minutes it was impossible to enter the building as smoke was so thick.

Little damage was done to the building on contents. The fire started from a spark from the furnace falling into shavings near the furnace.

ASSURE URBANA DONATION FOR NEW CENTER

Assurance of an Urbana donation of $2,000 toward the construction of a recreation center adjoining Douglas park in Champaign for colored service men was expressed at a meeting of 35 Urbana citizens Thursday night in the Urbana Association of Commerce office.

Oscar Steer, A. of C. president, was chairman of the informal meeting which included representatives of the A. of C. board of directors, the Urbana city council and various social and service organizations.

Lyle Gullivan, executive secretary of the Champaign-Urbana Home and War Chest, who formulated and developed a cooperative plan for sponsoring the center, reviewed the steps taken to date and announced the tentative approval of the project by the Federal Works agency and the Federal Security agency. He reported that the plans are now on their way to Washington for the expected approval of the War Production board.

$18,500 From Government
Governmental approval of the plans, revised after being rejected a year ago, would mean a government grant of $18,500. Gullivan stated, toward the total cost of $22,500. Local support, he added, would include a $2,000 contribution by Champaign-Urbana colored citizens, $2,500 by the Home and War Chest organization in lieu of a donation to the Washington street colored nursery, $2,500 from the Champaign community and $2,500 from the Urbana community.

Mayor E. E. Hesk, in charge of all recreational facilities at Chanute Field, expressed the opinion that a "real need" for such a center existed in the Champaign-Urbana community, although adequate recreational facilities had been provided for colored men at Chanute Field.

Need Is Urgent
Mayor George Hurd agreed that the need for the center was urgent and expressed the full approval of the Urbana council. Other opinions expressed were the plan is "practical," that the colored persons supporting it "really mean business" and that the committee should take advantage of this opportunity to help provide a center for colored soldiers now and for the use of other colored persons in the community after the war.

The Urbana group instructed Steer and Hurd to appoint a committee immediately to raise Urbana's share of the necessary funds.

Colored Citizens To Meet Friday

A meeting of all colored citizens of Champaign-Urbana to discuss funds for the erection of the colored servicemen's center will take place at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the UME Church, Fifth and Tremont streets.

The meeting is sponsored by the colored servicemen's organization of Champaign-Urbana.

Ex-Cabbie Finds Navy Similar To Taxi Driving

By JOAN JOINER
News-Gazette Staff Writer

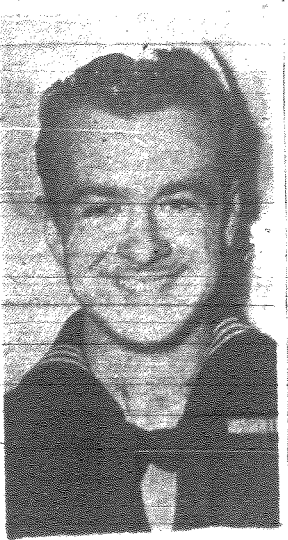

Living proof of the untruth that "a sailor has a girl in every port" because he claims "only 13 girls in the 16 ports" where he has put ashore, Gunner Second Class Glenn Slade, former Champaign cab driver, has seen some exciting times in the navy, but he says the same rule holds for fighting as it does for driving a taxi—"you try to get somewhere fast."

Slade has just returned from three months as a gunner on a liberty ship carrying supplies to Attu and other islands in the Alaskan area. He witnessed the high points of the invasion because his ship had to be on the spot to deliver supplies for the units of the signal corps when they first went ashore.

"For a three-day period at the start of the invasion, we were subjected to almost continuous bombing," he said, "and the worst thing was, the Japs were bound to attack either at mess call or bed time."

Became Collector
But when the invasion was complete, Sailor Slade became a different man. He became a collector—a pastime that he "never had time for in civilian life," and he began "picking up" after the fleeing Japs.

His most prized trophy is a Jap sniper's rifle which he found dismantled on the beach—the barrel still warm from continuous firing. The gun itself is 4 1/2 feet long, and with the bayonet attached, it is a full 6 feet. The gun has a slim breach with a long wooden section under the single barrel to provide support for the bayonet when it is attached. The detachable bayonet has a wooden handle so it can be used for "sticking" when the ammunition is exhausted, Slade explained.

He has several types of bullets—ranging from a string of small cartridges to a full eight-inch shell. And of course there were larger ones, but "there was no room to carry them," he said. He also has a hand grenade with the powder removed so "it is a safe plaything for the kids."

A canteen half full of "saki," the alcoholic drink Japs use before they enter battle, is another souvenir he picked up. As for the contents now, "all the fellows had to try it," he admitted.

Finest Photos, Letters

Another item is a flat, water-proof envelope containing several pockets which he assumes the Japs wore around their necks to protect letters and pictures. "They seem to be very fond of pictures," he said, "and they also carry a flag. I wasn't able to get one of those, but some other time, perhaps."

"I could have gotten some of my clothes," he said, "but they were too lousy. And there is no other way to say it—they stunk."

Another of his prized possessions is a picture of himself with a three-month beard. Confessing that he grew it partly for fun, he said that many of his shipmates grew beards to protect their faces from the cold salt spray in the North Pacific.

But Sailor Slade's activities have not been confined to Alaska. He wears service stripes for action in three zones—Asiatic, Pacific, and expeditional. And he was given three stars for participation in major combats, except that he "lost two on the train trip from Seattle."

"About the most exciting time I have had was when a transport I was on, bound for South America, was attacked by a fleet of 35 airplanes," he said. "Then there was the time a bomb exploded so close that the concussion threw me against the gun turret. I was in the hospital at Pearl Harbor for two weeks, but it was nothing serious."

Slade, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Slade, now live in Vermillion, spent Thursday in Champaign visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sannone, 211 day, East Hill street, and other rela-

JOHNSON TAKES VENUE CHANGE IN HEARINGS

A change of venue for two charges against Edward Johnson, Thomasboro, was entered Thursday afternoon in Urbana switching the hearings to Justice J. M. Griffith from Justice Harry C. White.

An Urbana city charge of driving while intoxicated was scheduled for hearing Friday afternoon and a state charge of leaving the scene of an accident is to be heard Monday afternoon.

Johnson is alleged to have driven a car which struck the vehicle of R. J. Krueger, White Heath, on the night of August 24 in the 1939

'YOUTH CENTER' TO BE OPENED AT BEARDSLEY

When the Champaign recreation department opens its centers next Monday, a "youth center" will be inaugurated at Beardsley, Director Hazel Hungerich said.

In addition to the Beardsley center, programs also will be maintained at Douglas center, Salvation Army gymnasium, and Holy Cross gymnasium. A women's activity featuring weaving, is already started on the sixth floor of the city building under the supervision of Mrs. Russell Tylor.

The Beardsley youth center will be open only to junior and senior high school age groups during the evenings, Miss Hungerich said. The center director, Mrs. Hazel Bradley, is planning a program for these groups that will include hay-rack rides, potluck suppers, games, sleigh rides, parties, dancing and special events. There will be a snack bar and plenty of music, she said.

The center will be open to women's groups until 4 p. m. daily, when it will be given over to a grade school program until 6 p. m.

The Salvation Army gym will be under the direction of Ralph Morrow and will have active and quiet games for grade school children from 3:30 to 6 p. m. every afternoon. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday the gym will be used by junior and senior high school groups from 1 to 9 p. m. The Holy Cross gymnasium will be used for a girls program.

An independent basketball league will be formed again this winter and those wishing to join should contact the recreation office, Miss Hungerich said.

The recreation department will furnish leadership for parties of such organizations as lodges, service clubs, church groups, P-TAs, and others, the director announced. A public address system is available.

"Get the groups together and tell us what you want," Miss Hungerich said. "We'll do our best to show you a good time."

PROPOSED COMMUNITY CENTER FOR COLORED CITIZENS. This proposed community building for colored residents can be built early next spring if subscribers of the Champaign County Home and War Chest approve expenditure of $17,000 of the Chest's surplus for that purpose, it was announced Thursday. Balance of the $30,000 needed for the building is available or can be raised, Secretary Lyle Gallivan said. Lots for it already have been purchased at Sixth and Grove streets. Plans drawn by Berger and Kelley, architects, who prepared this sketch, provide for a large meeting room, a smaller meeting room, snack bar, lounge, office, and toilet facilities.

Home, War Chest May Allot Funds For Colored Center

The Champaign County Home and War Chest executive committee disclosed Thursday it is considering a proposal that half of its $34,000 surplus be allocated to construction of a colored community center in north Champaign.

If the $17,000 is made available, it would make possible construction of the $30,000 building that has been sought by leaders of both races for several years, Lyle H. Gallivan, executive secretary of the chest, declared.

The proposal, which apparently was favorably received by the committee, will be submitted to all the 12,500 chest subscribers in the near future, Gallivan explained. He explained a letter will be sent to each donor, giving him an opportunity to vote for or against the expenditure. A final decision will be made when results of the poll are received.

Lots Available
Two lots on which to locate the building in Douglas park already are available at the northwest corner of Sixth and Grove streets, Gallivan said. They were purchased about two years ago with funds raised by a colored committee in the hope that federal aid could be secured for construction of the building.

Detailed plans for the building have been drawn, and if the chest money is forthcoming, construction can be started early next year, Gallivan declared. He said authorities of the Federal Security administration have promised that priorities for material will be available.

Other money for the building includes a previous Community Chest allocation of $2,500, $1,500 raised sometime ago by an Urbana committee headed by Mrs. L. T. Gregory, and $2,000 pledged by other individuals, Gallivan said. A committee is willing to undertake the job of raising the balance needed after the available money is lumped together.

Plans as outlined by Gallivan called for deciding the building to the city of Champaign when it is completed and for its operation by the Champaign recreation department. It would be utilized as a "true community center" and not a recreation building alone, he emphasized.

Plans Drawn
Architects' plans as drawn by Berger and Kelley provide for a concrete-blocks building that would include a large, 46-by-68-foot community room that also could be used as a gym, a smaller meeting room, a snack bar, lounge, director's office, and toilet and heating facilities.

Gallivan explained the Chest surplus was built up by an excess of collections over budgets. The proposal that part of it be used to finance the colored center was made in petitions presented to the executive committee by 200 subscribers.

A committee of Gallivan, as chairman, Professor A. H. Lybber, Doctor H. D. Ellis, Ray Scott, Mrs. L. T. Gregory, R. A. Stipe, Jr., and Richard Edwards was appointed to prepare the project in its final form.

Festival Nets $50,000 War Bond Sales

VILLA GROVE, Nov. 30—(BSC)—Incomplete sales returns Thursday morning indicated Camargo township had raised past its Sixth War Loan bond quota by as much as $25,900 following Wednesday's gala fifth annual Pancake festival at which 2,999 celebrators added over $50,000 to regular sales. The township quota was $26,200.

Major attraction at the festival was the bond auction, which netted the town's share of bond sales, but each of the 61,500 pancakes and 27,000 cups of coffee sold also brought a 25 cent stamp from adults and a 10 cent stamp from children. Compilation of receipts from food sales and sales by solicitors was incomplete Tuesday, indicating that the "over the top" plurality will be even higher.

Meals at the festival were sold from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. and from

Rovelstad 'Encouraged' By $1,455,700 Bond Sales

Sixth War Loan drive bond sales in Champaign county were up to $1,455,702.50 Thursday, with Chairman L. M. Rovelstad saying that reports thus far are "encouraging" but warning at the same time that there is a "long way to go" to the $2,541,000 quota.

Of the total, E bond sales accounted for only $291,421, with the balance coming from corporations who recognize war bonds as the best investments. Included in the over-all total were $91,350 in allocations of credit to Champaign county for bonds purchased by businesses elsewhere.

Rovelstad pointed out, however, that the person-to-person canvass is just well under way in Champaign-Urbana and does not start officially in the rural areas until next Monday.

"At this stage of the drive, we can only say we are making progress but have a long way to go," Rovelstad declared. "From the number of actual contacts made so far, it looks encouraging, but the solicitation has just well begun."

Gives Detail Figures

Mrs. W. C. Ross, women's chairman of the War Finance committee, announced that CDVO workers Wednesday pulled up sales of $24,775 in Champaign and $23,423.75 in Urbana. Cumulative totals since the solicitation was started Monday showed Urbana still far ahead of Champaign. Total CDVO sales to date in Urbana were $65,806.25, as compared with $44,324 in Champaign. Altogether, the CDVO solicitors have brought in orders for $108,130.25.

Principals which topped the lists in reports turned in Wednesday were in order:

night urged that doctors support the Veterans administration program of "home town medical care" for veterans with service connected disabilities who do not require full time hospital services.

Otherwise, Stalle said, it often would be necessary to transport veterans "great distances from their homes, families and jobs" to medical service which could be provided on an out-patient basis in their own communities and by their own physicians.

Stalle's speech was prepared for a meeting of the Central Illinois Society of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology.

The Legion commander said the Veterans administration could carry out its responsibility to provide medical and hospital care without delay only through a "nationwide medical service employing local physicians."

USO To Give Center $200 Per Month

The Champaign-Rantoul area council of the USO has agreed to contribute $200 a month toward operation of the Douglas community center, it was reported Saturday by Julius X. Davis, chairman of the Champaign recreation commission.

The USO assistance will offset the loss of federal aid, which was halted June 30.

Davis said the money will be expended directly by the USO area council for salaries and other expenses of a recreation program for colored soldiers. The funds will not pass through the city department.

In addition to the USO allocation, the recreation department will spend about $4,000 a year for operation of the center, Davis said.

City Clerk John P. Hill Saturday received formal notice of the termination of federal assistance, which has been received since December, 1943 for the Douglas center and its predecessor, the Lawhead school center. At the same time, federal authorities called on the city to return $92.23, which is the balance remaining from federal funds previously allocated.

Hill said that since 1943 the city received $12,958.77 in federal funds, which were expended for the colored recreation program.

recruiting volunteers at a moment's notice, to compete with the greatest personnel shortage in history and to meet a relief problem which has been unparalleled.

Employment records, personality traits, and health of all the applicants were checked and the most suitable for the grinding work in the field were selected. "Weaknesses were exaggerated in the field," she commented.

Experiment "Worthwhile"

Although for security reasons the international organization was not given free access to the files of each nation, the embassies of each country cleared their own workers.

The recent change in UNRRA leadership has been reflected in a change in administrative practices, she said. "Herbert H. Lehman was dignified and retiring, in direct contrast to Fiorello LaGuardia, present colorful director, whom members of the staff call 'Butch'."

"UNRRA committed many serious errors but as an experiment it was worthwhile in proving that the nations of the world can pool their efforts. If that lesson is carried over into the peace, the organization will have served a useful purpose," she concluded.

HEARING SET

MONTICELLO, Sept. 20—(BSC)—Hearing on the petition to probate the will of the late Emma Kathryn Trimble has been set for 10 a. m. October 11 by County Judge B. E. Morgan.

The advantages of improved efficiency of combustion and reduced freight by removing impurities do not overcome this cost difference. To a consumer whose sole concern is cost with no value placed upon time or convenience, a raw coal furnishes cheaper heat.

"However, the average cleaned coal possesses advantages over the corresponding raw coal that outweigh its extra cost in the minds of most domestic consumers.

"Cleaned coal involves markedly less attention to the heating plant because there is less non-combustible material to handle both before and after firing, more easily-handled clinkers, less dust, and lowered probability of interruption of service due to jamming with foreign matter in the coal.

"Cleaned coal assists in closer maintenance of a desired temperature range in the home, as indicated by more uniform heat release and quicker response to demands for heat. Less definitely it may be said that smoke emission and clinker odor are reduced, and that the appearance of the fuel bed and fire is improved."

stadium by 12:30 p. m., at the latest," the traffic committee said. "Drivers who fail to observe that plan unfortunately might find themselves still trying to find a place to park five minutes after the opening kickoff."

The committee said that automobile owners driving to the game from out-of-town should arrive in Champaign-Urbana by noon and should proceed directly to the stadium. Pre-game entertainment, including formations and music by the band and warm-up exercises by the football teams, will add to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

The traffic committee issued a special appeal to community residents, in particular, in urging early arrival at the stadium. In the past, Champaign-Urbana residents have been largely responsible for traffic tie-ups by leaving home just prior to game time.

New Parking Lots in Use

At least 10 and possibly 12 parking lots will be used for the home football games this year. The committee pointed out that the University has lost two of its larger lots located west of First street at Stadium drive. Those former parking areas are now unavailable because of temporary housing.

Three new parking areas will be used for the first time, however. A large area has been cleared south of the housing units on the west side of First street, and will accommodate a large number of cars.

In addition, the University golf course, located southeast of the stadium at Fourth street and Florida avenue, will be used. The committee said that the greens will be roped off for protection, but the drivers will be permitted to park in the fairways. Another lot immediately north of the University power plant also will be available.

Old Lots To Be Used

All other parking lots which have been employed in the past also will be used this year. The lots include the drill field immediately north of the stadium, four University pastures south of the stadium, areas directly east and south of George Huff gymnasium.

those streets, but not north of the tennis courts on the stadium approaches. After the game when the traffic starts to move out, they will be permitted to wait on First street south of Florida avenue and on Florida east of Fourth street.
