PLAGE INKUUDA LIVING CODE, JESUS' PURPOSE Colored Baptist Leader Gives Three Sermons Before Local Congregations

"Jesus came not to set men at war over doctrines and creeds, but to bring peace through a code of ethics of living together," Dr. J. C. Austin, colored Baptist church executive, advised his listeners at one of three messages given before church meetings Sunday in Cham paign-Urbana.

Dr. Austin, in a modest but convincing manner, urged "a verdict in favor of truth and justice" and his remarks were accepted with close attention by his listeners.

He is chairman of the Foreign Mission board of the National Baptist convention, Inc.

Dr. Austin, who came to Illinois from Pennsylvania, told in a dynamic way an interesting story of his early life, from his birth on a farm, reared by Baptist parents wit hhis father, a Baptist minister, through his school days. He was educated at Wilberforce, Temple and Chicago universities. He has traveled and studied in Europe, Asia and Africa, and is at present directing foreign missions work for his denomination.

Speaks Three Times

This prominent colored churchman spoke to three audiences here Sunday. At 11 a. m., he appeared in the Pilgrim Baptist church pulpit, introduced by Rev. H. C. Charity, pastor. His subject was "True Friendship."

His main message was given in the afternoon at the Mt. Olive Baptist church, of which Rev. C. W. Saunders is pastor. In the evening, Dr. Austin spoke on the theme, "Vital Contact," in the Salem Baptist church. Rev. R. S. Webb is pastor of this church, and introduced Dr. Austin.

"The Basis of Enduring Structure" was the subject of Dr. Austin's afternoon address, in which he dealt upon the religious status of the state, and the problems of strife and war within the ranks of the churchmen. He pleaded for a new peace and unity and religious fervor that "overlaps race antipathies and denominational barriers."

Is Fluent Speaker Dr. Austin is a fluent speaker, and his messages here were regarded as highlights of the year's calendar for the three churches at St. Luke's Church Thomas A. Dorsey. Chicago, gospel songwriter, will appear at 8 p. m. Thursday at St. Luke's C. M. E. church, Rev. W. C. Doty, pastor, announced. He will be accompanied by Sallie Martin, his assistant. Near a shady wall a rose once grew Budded and blossomed in God's free light. As it grew and blossomed fair and tall

It came to a crevice in the wall Onward it crept with added strength With never a thought of fear or pride It followed the light through the crevice's length

And unfolded itself on the other side.

Shall claim of death cause us to grieve And make our courage faint or fall? Nay! Let us faith and hope receive The rose still grows beyond the wall. Scattering fragrance far and wide Just as it did in days of yore. Just as it did on the other side Just as it will forevermore.
