Symposium: Economic Development, Jobs and Technology

eBlackCU, a collaborative portal on African American experiences in Champaign-Urbana, is hosting a symposium tomorrow at the Champaign Public Library. The event is aimed at bringing the community together to ensure that the historically under-served African-American community will get jobs and careers in the new digital society. Come to this event to learn more about some of the educational, career and job opportunities available, and to find ways for community groups to support each other as we move towards the future. This event is free and open to the public. No registration is required.

Saturday, January 8

Champaign Public Library

200 West Green Street, Champaign

9:00am - noon

For a more detailed agenda, visit the CCNet event calendar.

Presentation: CERL and Solar

Hosted by CCNet's Renewable Energy group. The event will feature a presentation by Roch Ducey from CERL (Army Core of Engineers Construction Engineering Research Laboratory) about a metal roof uni-solar shingle project at an army base in Hawaii. Discussion will also touch on CERL and future research at U of I.

Tuesday, January 11

Champaign Public Library

200 West Green Street, Champaign

7:00pm - 8:30pm

Illinois Electric Vehicle Club

This monthly group meeting is for anyone who wants to "travel different", even if that means just learning how to coax the maximum fuel efficiency out of their Hummer.

University YMCA

1001 South Wright Street, Champaign

6:00pm - 7:00pm
