We'll Never

Let's reminisce —

1964 will be a year of change for students at C.H.S. Fans won't have to cross Wright Street to challenge a foe, for they will have a convenient in-town rival. That's right, a second high school opens its doors to Champaign youth in the fall of 1964.

To all those who have attended it, C.H.S., represents the many sides of high school life. As we look back, certain pictures stand out in our minds: our beloved one-way stairs, our precision Pepettes, the faithful floor sweepers, 70 minute classes, the daily bulletin . . .

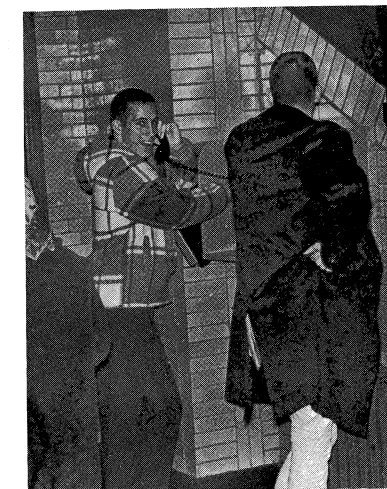

Forget . . . C.H.S.

Students will see many advantages at C.H.S. after the opening of the new high school: it will no longer take five minutes to get from one end of the building to the other, everyone will have his own locker, and maybe there won't be so many cases of indigestion resulting from hurried lunches.

To borrow the words of the poet Robert Burns, C.H.S. is our "Auld Lang Syne." And C.H.S.'ers, past and present, can never forget the impressions it has made on our memories and our lives.

Victory Reigns at Homecoming

"It is done!" The sweet taste of victory was a sure thing and the crowd went wild with happiness.

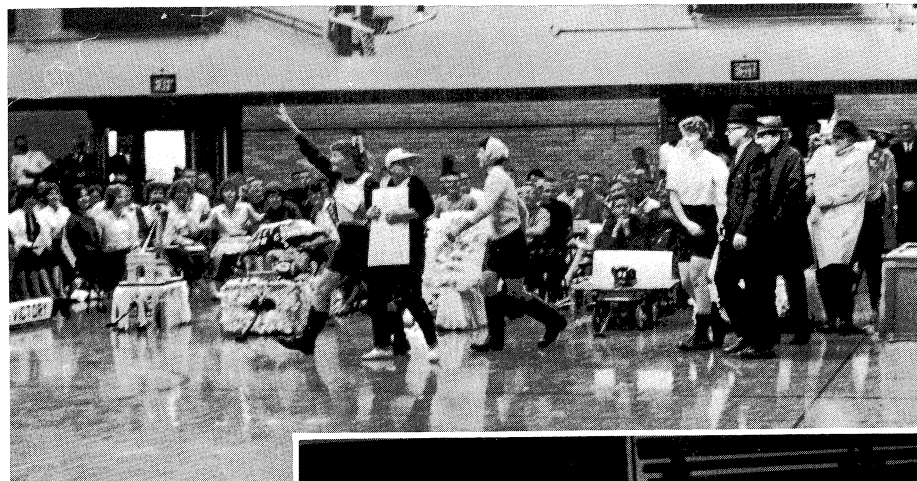

Homecoming 1963, earlier than in previous years, did not find students unprepared to display the rabble-rousing spirit, which backed the football team past each rigorous opponent until they received the laurels of victory, the Big Twelve Championship.

In the week preceding homecoming, the corridors, filled with excited murmurings, were decorated with pep posters anticipating the climax of the game and the coronation of the royalty.

An innovation this year was the construction of miniature floats by the various clubs of the school. The floats were judged on originality, neatness, and appropriateness by a panel of five teachers. Winner of the honor was the German Club with an enormously long dachshund carrying a sign saying: "The Long Stretch to Victory."

During halftime, the C.H.S. marching band formed a heart around newly crowned Queen Margaret Wise. Later that night at the sock hop, Football King John Ingleman was crowned. This climaxed an exciting night and left only the semi-formal dance on Saturday to highlight the weekend of the year.

C.H.S. teachers portray the Danville players, our rivals at Homecoming. Leading them on in defeat are the women's P.E. Department.

Homecoming Highlights

"Three Coins in a Fountain"

Three glistening, golden coins towered above the gay couples while lucky pennies shimmered in the smooth ripples of the fountain's waters. It was the night of the Tri-High Dance, the result of many weeks' planning and preparing by the members of the Tri-High Council. These decorations were complemented by the draped white and blue crepe paper reaching up to the ceiling, carousel-like. The traditional dance was held in the C.H.S. boys' gym on Saturday, November 2. The entertainment consisted of the combined talents of the three twin-city high schools. Music was provided by the Roy Ellis orchestra. The climax to the evening came with the coronation of the three queens, each representing the choice of her school.

"Three Coins in a Fountain" was the largest endeavor that the council undertook this year. The remainder of the school year was devoted to community civic projects such as helping needy families during Christmas and sponsoring the Foreign Exchange banquet which is attended by the student councils of Champaign, Urbana, and University High schools, their respective foreign exchange students, and guest speakers. The primary function of the council, which consists of student council members of each high school, is to counsel the representatives of the schools as to the problems within their own schools and those concerning inter-school relationships.

C.H.S. Stunt Show "Remembers When"

Seniors, Nancy Evans and Diane Hamacher, sing "Thanks, Dear Old C.H.S." in "Remember When."

At 7:30 P.M. on October 12, 1963, the curtain opened on "Remember When," the annual Stunt Show presented by Wig 'n' Paint. The show was directed by Mr. William Olson and Mr. Lawrence Connolly, with the assistance of student director Esther Garret.

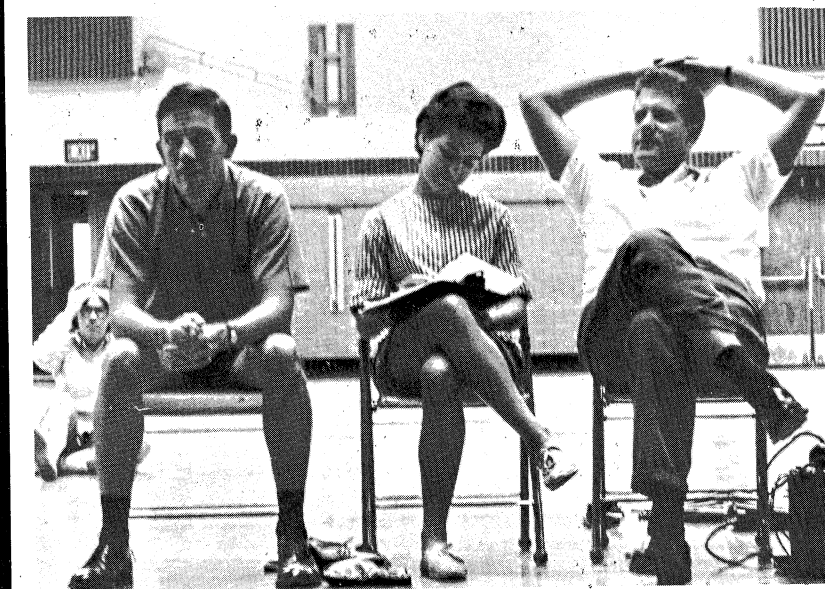

Opening with a sophomore danceline, the show moved on to musical solos, duets, and trios; jazz dances and Charleston acts; and novelty numbers, including "The Other Generation," "Shipooopi," and "I'm an Indian, Too." The senior danceline, "Another Show," brought the program to a close amid the applause of the audience. The continuity of the show was provided by Master of Ceremonies Joe Berkson, who portrayed famous figures of history and present times. We saw Joe dressed as George Washington, Father Time, Betty Boop, our own vice-principal, Mr. Nelson, and many other personalities.

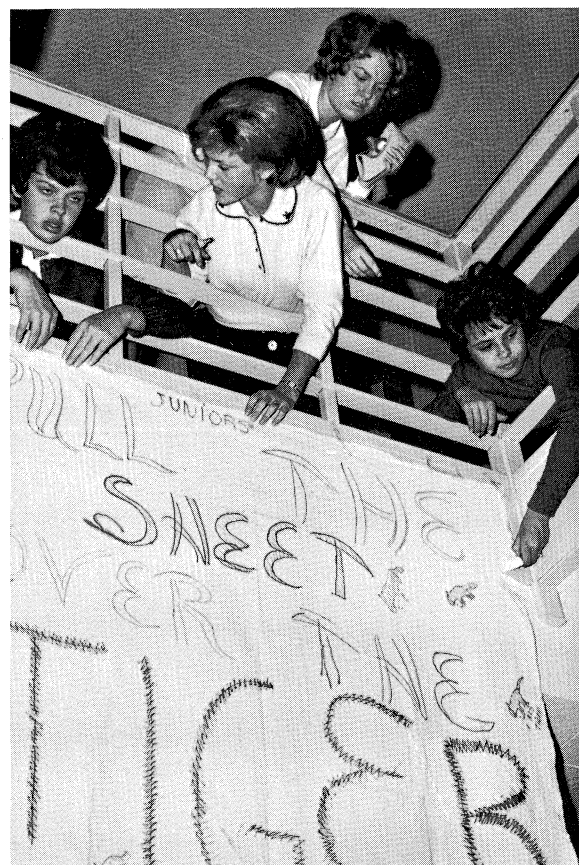

The students, faculty, and parents of C.H.S. won't easily forget their glimpse back into time presented in the gym of C.H.S. that October night of 1963.

Master of Ceremonies, Joe Berkson, portraying Betty Boop, a 1920 flipper, began the Charleston era in the annual C.H.S. Stunt Show.

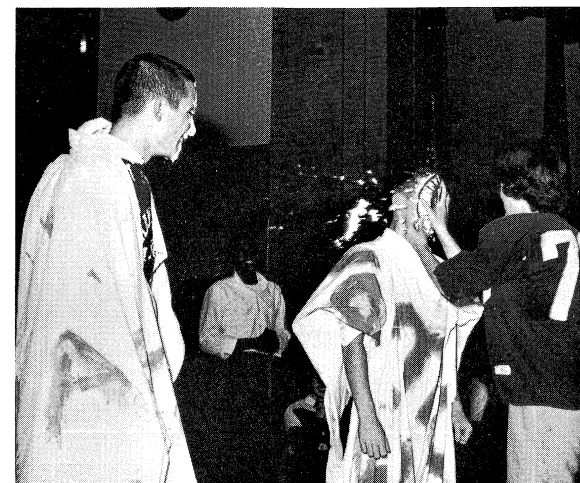

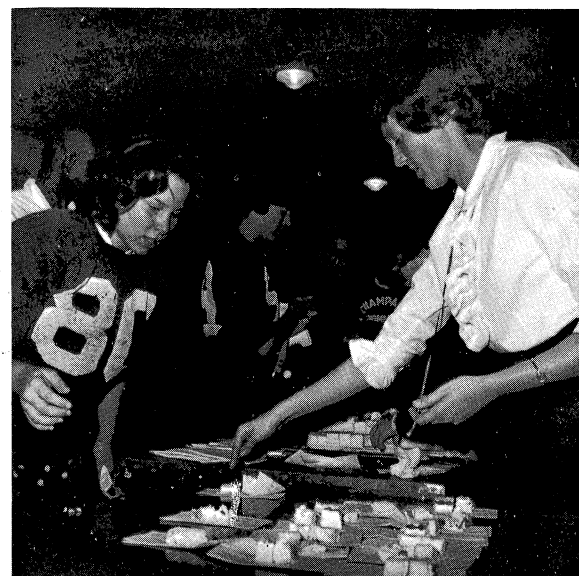

Our Directors, relaxed and ready for work, prepare for a last run of the show before the big night. Left to right are Mr. Connolly, Esther Garret, and Mr. Olson.

Enthusiastic Juniors, Nancy Stanford, Linda Poorman, Peggy Schmidt, and Sandy Conkwright decorate C.H.S.

Victory Cake is served to Nastalia Marks by Student Council member, Dorothy Korst.

"Beat Urbana Week"

As a result of scoring a 12-0 victory over Urbana, our arch-rival, C.H.S. tied for the Big 12 football championship. During the whole week preceding the game, students worked industriously to show their school spirit and pep. Poster parties were held after school is a contest to determine which class could decorate individual floors the best.

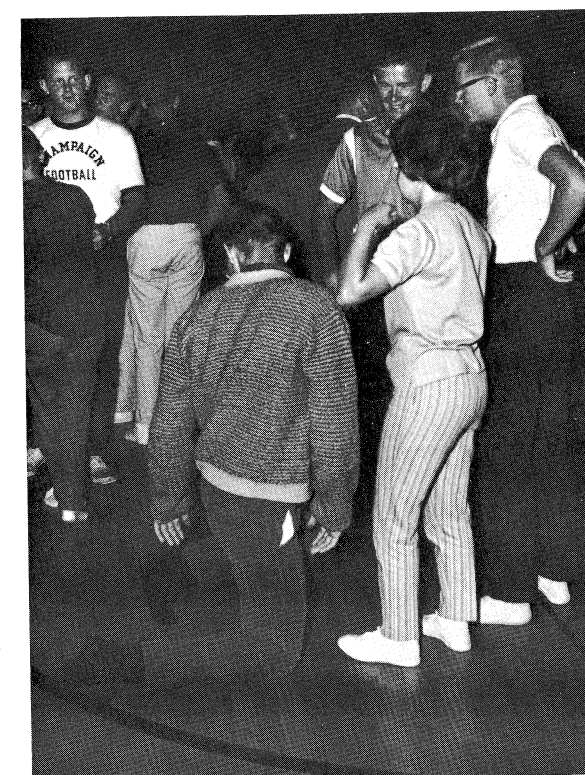

Color-a-day slogans for which the students wore certain colors on certain days were announced by the Student Council. These included "Tigers are Yellow," "Make Urbana Blue," and "Maroon those Tigers."

Concluding the busy fun-filled week was a pep assembly for which the Pepettes imitated members of the C.H.S. football team, and a victory hop sponsored by the German Club. All in all it was great fun participating in the annual rivalry between the twin cities. Especially wonderful was the fact that Champaign won!

Willie Harden, left, and Don Kennedy, right, wail it up to "What'd I Say?" at a C.H.S. hop.

We grow 'em short at C.H.S. That kneeling student's not begging, he's just tired of looking down.

After the Game is Over . . .

Pass the People, a favorite game at C.H.S. hops, is played here with sophomore Bill Keller.

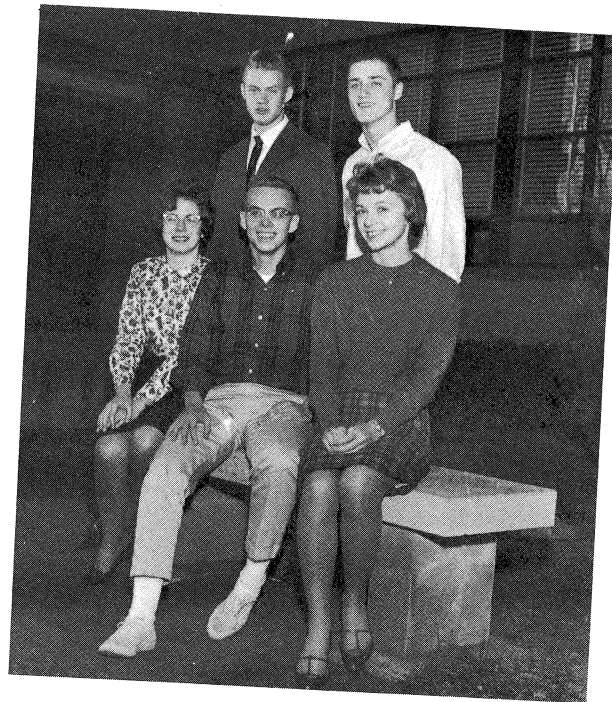

In days of old only bunnies hopped! Then in later years the hop became a dance, and still later it became an informal get-together for lively teenagers!

That these teenagers are energetic goes without saying. At the hops, which are held after football and basketball games, Champaign High students can be seen in many activities from shooting for baskets with imaginary balls to card playing for the more sophisticated. Sometimes, if you try, you can actually find someone dancing.

Entertainment comes in many different forms. Records and tapes are often used, but band music seems to be the most preferred. The music is provided by the sponsor of the evening. Sponsors are the different organizations, of Champaign High, who use the hops as money-making projects while they provide students with a place to go after the games.

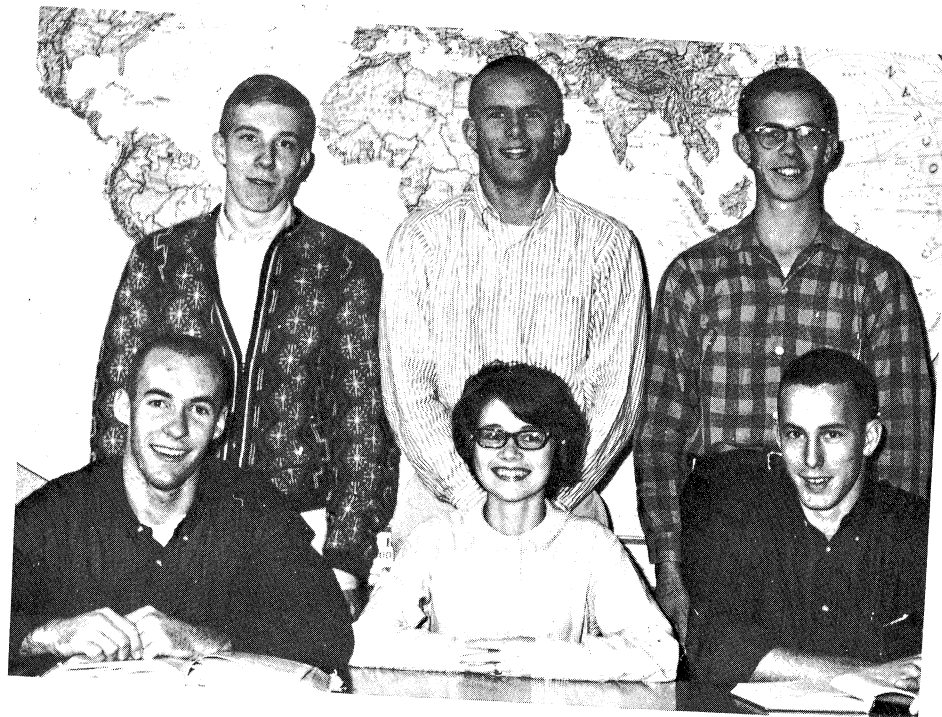

Politics Put into Practice

Election to Boys' or Girls' State and Merit Scholarship ranking are both coveted honors for Seniors. The main objective behind Girls' and Boys' State is to allow select high school students, chosen by their respective communities on their general abilities and quality of character, to enter into the world of state politics for one week. They participate in elections of city and state officials, learn the numerous duties of elected officials, file petitions for candidacy, affiliate with the party of their choice, attend mock political conventions, and audit lectures which encourage the students to comprehend the powers and operations of politics on the state level.

Juniors representing high schools from throughout the nation participated in the initial test for the National Merit Scholarship administered during the spring of 1963. This testing program was begun in 1955 by various business organizations and colleges with the intent of awarding the students who attained the highest scores to receive financial assistance ranging in amount from $850 to $6,000 in order that they may attend the college or university of their choice. From 13,000 semi-finalists C.H.S. claimed five: Jeff Hindman, Tom Hursh, Julia Thompson, Beth Tyler and John Witt.

Mike Morrow . . . "What the heck do you expect?"

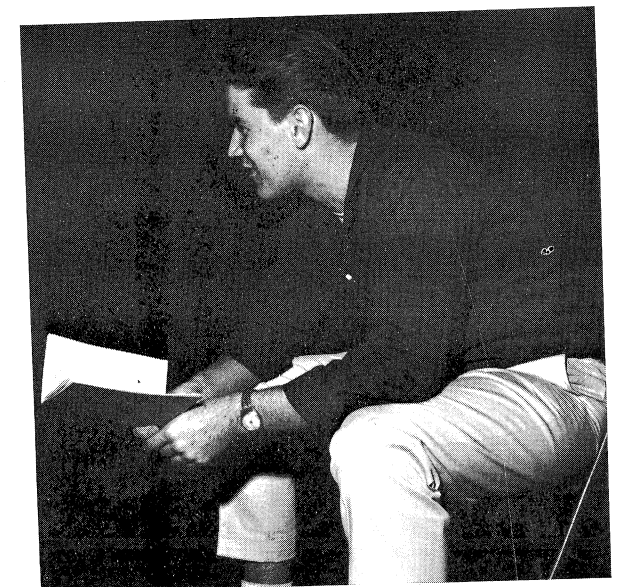

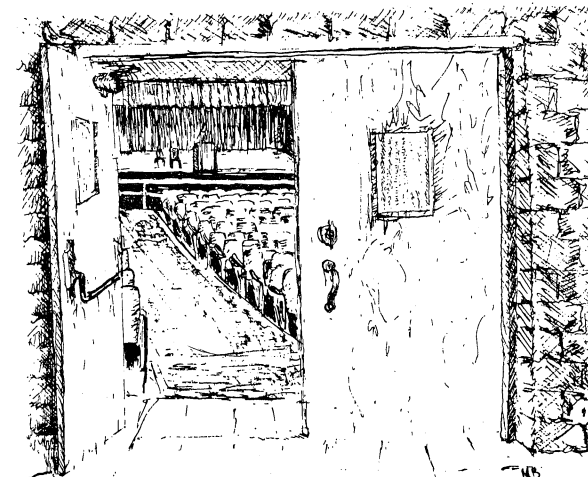

John Cook . . . "Here I am to save the day!"

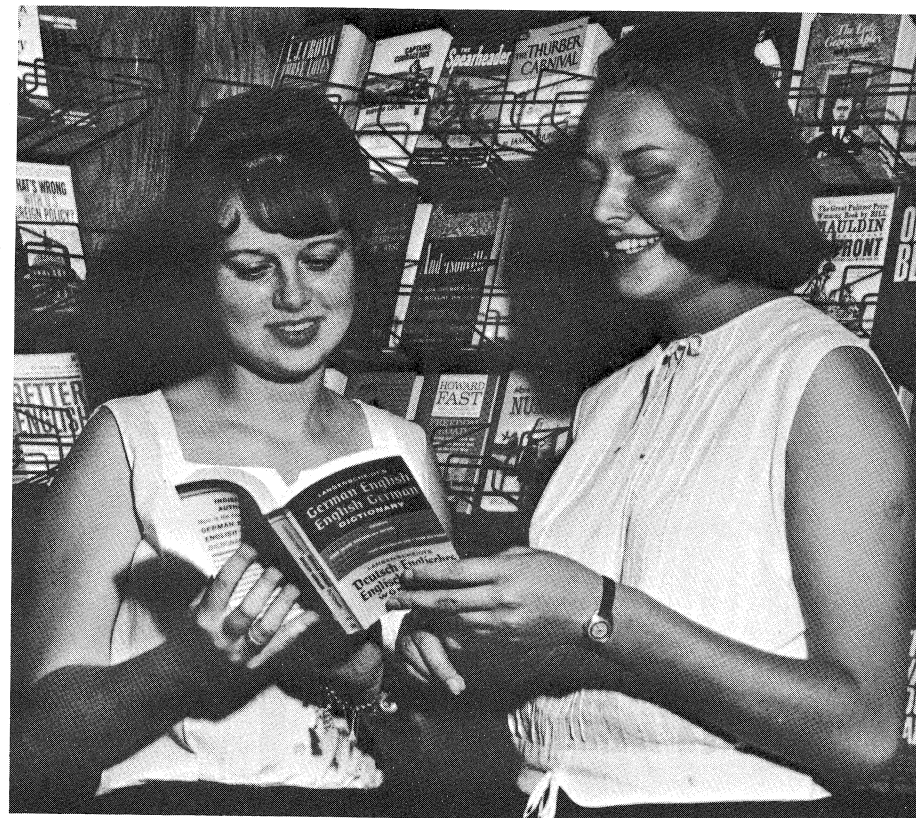

Actors in Action

Directed by Lawrence Connolly and produced by the Wig 'n' Paint Club, "A Distant Bell," the Fall Play, opened this year's successful dramatics season. After semester breaks, the three Class Plays were given and in the spring the actors of C.H.S. prepared for the Contest Play to be given in state competition.

Prompting forgetful actors with their lines is student director, Rik Bergethon.

Kriss Kress, C.H.S. German Exchange student, reviews her language with Nancy Evans, C.H.S. student who lived in Germany the summer of 1963.

Bill Unzicker and Nancy Easterbrook, standing, show Inter-state Exchange students from Carl Sandburg High School in Chicago, Doug Connell and Gloria Chord, the Champaign Chronicle.

Ambassadors of Good Will

Exchange student semi-finalists of 1964, Robin Bradle and Mary Black, show Joe Berkson his home for the summer, Holland.

To better state and world relations is the goal of exchange programs, and Champaign High participates in two of these.

Every year one high school junior is picked to represent C.H.S. in the Experiment in International Living Exchange. His requirements include a questionnaire filled out by himself, a petition signed by twenty classmates, and an interrogation by a special panel of twenty-two C.H.S. faculty members and students. Three semi-finalists are picked from these students and their names are sent to the Chairmen of Admission for the Experiment in Putney, Vermont, where the finalist is selected.

Closer home, we participate in the Inter-state Exchange. Students from Champaign visit other state schools while Champaign hosts students from these schools. We exchanged with Collinsville, Carl Sandburg of Chicago, and many other schools this year. These exchanges proved worthwhile and profitable to our school as well as theirs.

State Exchange students Sara Kretschmer, Susie Hartman, and Randy Dahl are caught ready to leave for their week in another Illinois high school.

Activity Honorees:

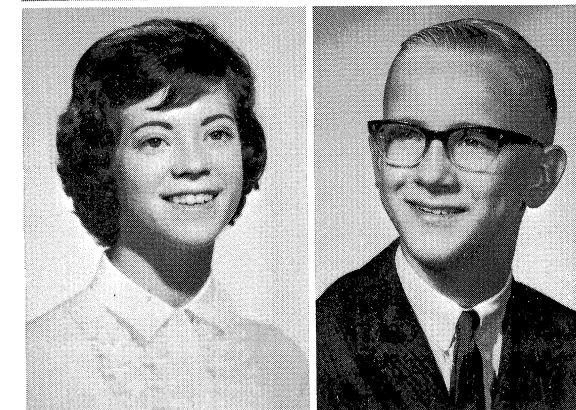

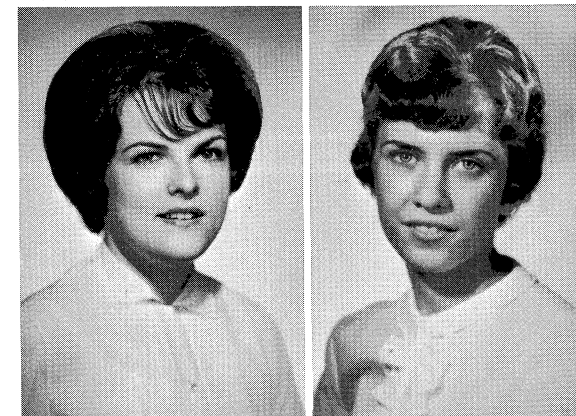

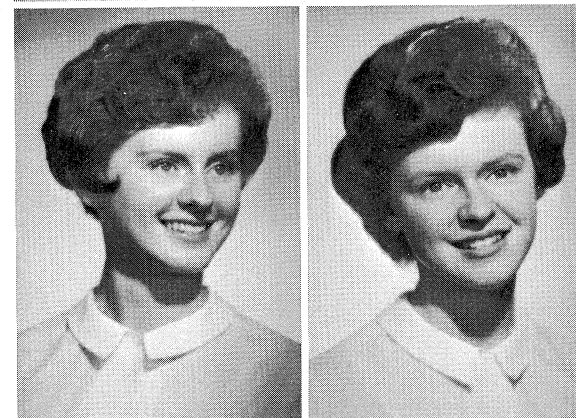

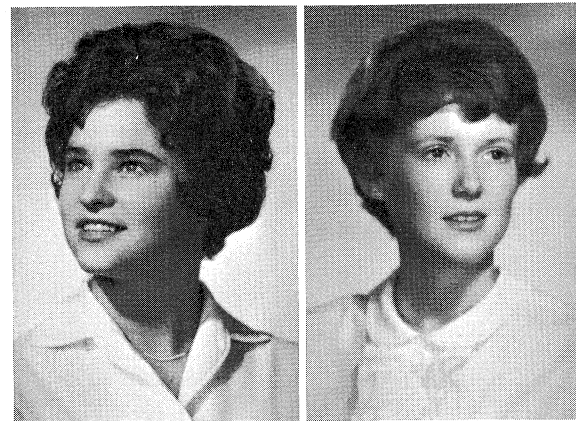

Seniors

Month

Since the 1960-1961 school year, one function of the student council has been the selection of the Seniors of the Month. These people are but a few of the outstanding seniors in our high school, selected for their participation in service organizations, their membership in honoraries, and their parts in school clubs, and activities. Faculty recommendations and student council committee members narrow the candidates by evaluating their activities as well as their citizenship.

This year's nineteen students provided a background involving a variety of interests and reflecting possible future endeavors. The field of journalism, shown in work with the Literary Chronicle, the Maroon, and the Chronicle, held the interests of Joy, Betty, Jeanie, Charles, Kay, Dorothy, Cheryl, Vicki, Sheri, and Stephanie. Music and drama demanded the time and talents of Tom, Bill, Pam, Charles, Dorothy, Diane, Nancy, Betty, Jeanie, Joy, Susie, Jan, and Susan. Student government and teaching consumed the interests of Jan, Joy, Judy, Susie, Betty, Jeanie, Nancy, Bill, Kay, Dorothy, Diane, and Sheri. These seniors truly represent the many diversified interests of today's students at C.H.S.

"Chestnuts roasting on an open fire
Help to make the season bright."

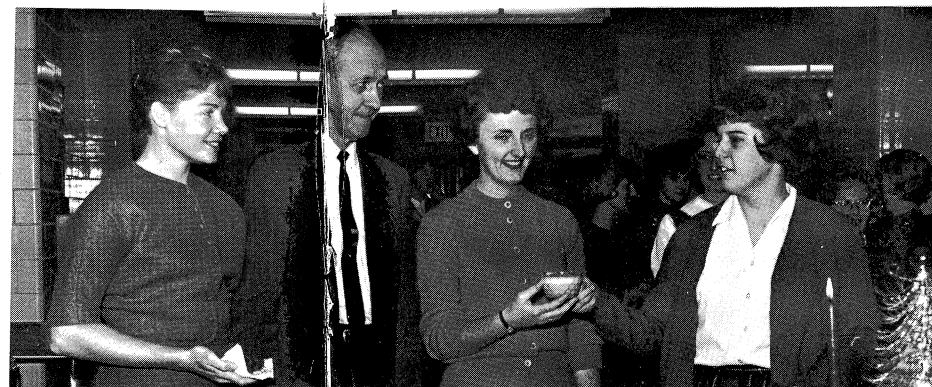

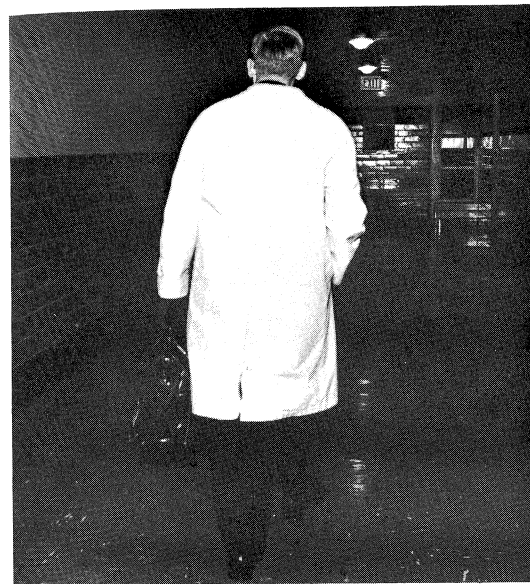

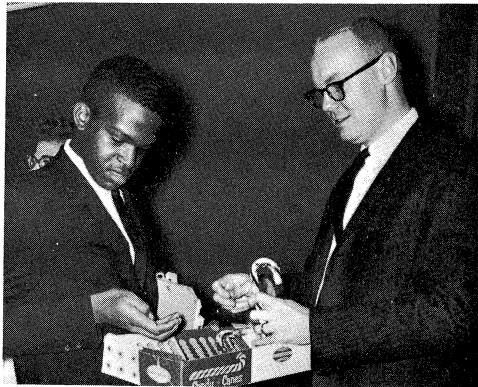

Students with reddened cheeks and noses bustle out of the wintry air and into the Christmasy atmosphere of C.H.S. as the season approaches. The gaily decorated hallways, complemented by the frosted windows, are filled with the whispers and laughter of students and with the carols sung by music department members. All look forward to the approaching vacation.

This year's decorations consisted of enormous Christmas bells on the windows, colorful chains draped throughout the cafeteria, and the traditional Christmas trees.

Christmas also means celebrations by various organizations in the school: Latin Club with its party, German Club and Weihnachtsabend, and the Maroon and Chronicle staffs with a winter sports party. The Christmas concert was presented by both the vocal and band members of the music department. Upon the last note of "Sleigh Ride", the school year 1963 came to a close.

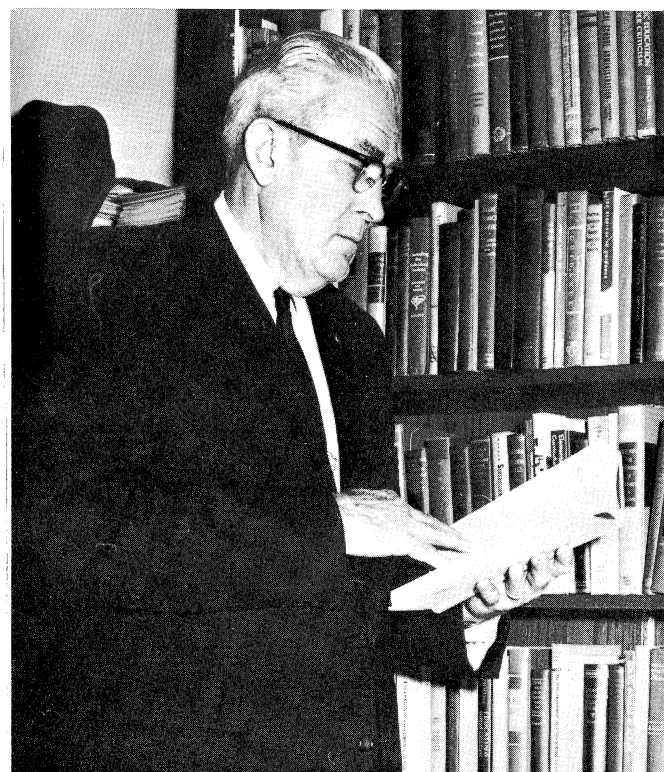

Two projects undertaken by the student body were the selection of Miss Merry Christmas and the provision of necessary articles, food, clothing, and toys, for three needy families. The crowning of Miss Merry Christmas, Kay Gregory, who was chosen by the school faculty and the chamber of commerce, was the act that officially opened Christmas in Champaign.

DR. E. H. MELLON
Superintendent of Schools

Those Who Make the Big Decisions

Can you imagine the tremendous responsibilities of the chief executive of our Unit IV School District? Dr. E. H. Mellon shoulders these responsibilities and directs matters which affect 10,850 students at eighteen elementary schools, three junior high schools, and our own senior high school. For twenty-one years he has devoted himself to the ideal of making Unit IV schools superior in every respect.

Top: DR. ROBERT LOUIS COOLEY
Bottom: GEORGE P. HANKINSON

George P. Hankinson is now serving his first year as Assistant Superintendent of Business for the Unit IV Schools. He holds a B.A. degree from Rider College and a M.A. degree from Rutgers University.

Dr. Robert Louis Cooley has recently been appointed to the position of Assistant Superintendent of Instruction for the Champaign Community Schools. He received a B.A. degree from Niagara University and a M.A. degree from Columbia University.

Spark Plugs of Unit IV

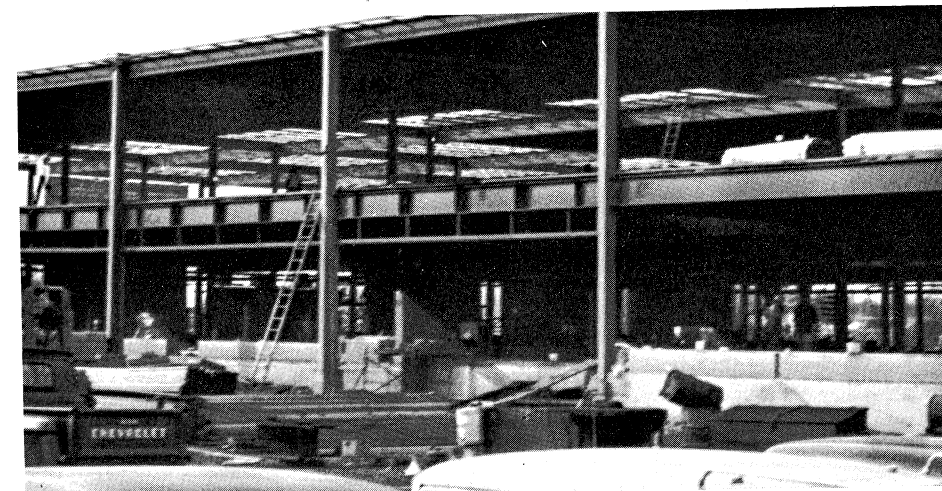

"One of the most absorbing challenges we face this year is in the field of Human Rights," according to Mr. William Froom, Board of Education President.

Speaking to a group of Unit Four teachers early in the fall, Mr. Froom went on to challenge the schools to: "provide an educational opportunity for each child in our district of equal high standard regardless of race, color, or creed."

"We stand ready", he said, "to continue at a rapid rate toward a completely integrated school system taught by the best teachers available, placed without regard to their color, beliefs, or national origin."

Mr. Froom, who is in his second term on the Board, has been elected President each year for the past four years. Regular members who serve with him and share in making decisions which affect Unit Four schools are also elected for three-year terms.

The new high school under construction, expected to be completed by the fall of 1964.

Mr. Kelly relaxes at home with his wife Evelyn, who teaches third grade at Westview School.

A Matter of Principal

CLINT R. KELLY, Principal

Teaching science in Mounds, Illinois, was the job that started Mr. Kelly on his career as an educator. He later became Superintendent of Schools in Mounds, after which he took positions as principal in Dallas City and Madison, Illinois, and Gary and Griffeth, Indiana.

While in Mounds, Mr. Kelly began collecting Indian relics, which represent a special interest of his along with stamps, guns, coins, and shells. Woodworking and reading are other favorite pastimes.

A native of Vandalia, our principal has attended three universities in his native state. He received his Bachelor's from Illinois State Normal and his Master's from the University of Illinois. He has done graduate work at the University of Chicago, the University of Indiana, and Washington University in St. Louis.

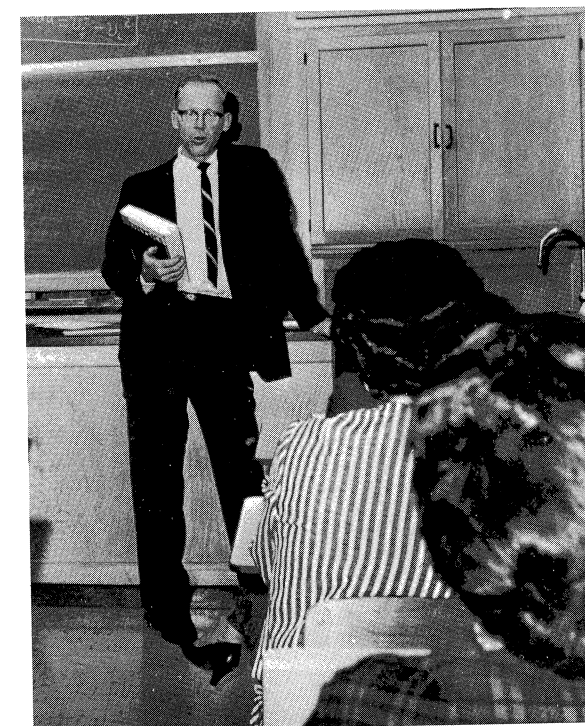

Parents pay their annual dues before starting out to meet their children's teachers.

Participating Parents and Teachers

"Do you have any questions about your child's work?" is a question frequently asked of parents by teachers at the parents' visitation night in October. Sponsoring this well-attended event has become one of the primary activities of the Parent Teachers' Association. The main purpose of the PTA is to acquaint parents and teachers with each others problems and to enable them to communicate effectively. During the school year there are five regularly scheduled meetings offering a variety of programs ranging from discussions of sophomore orientation to communism.

The PTA Council is composed of representatives from the PTA's of all schools in the Unit IV School District. This group is responsible for publishing the Unit IV Forum, a journal which appears monthly during the school year. For the past ten years this newsletter has served the school district by keeping parents informed, not only about school activities and problems, but also about matters relative to their families' welfare and development.

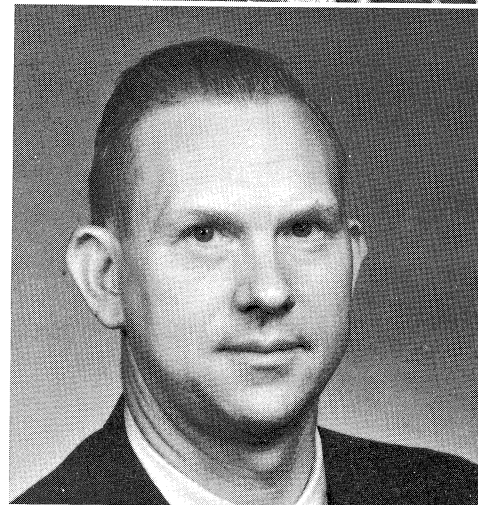

Parents receive information at the annual PTA night when they follow their children's schedules. Here Mr. Smith is doing the briefing.

Co-ordinators of C.H.S.

Miss Nell Zehner is retiring after eighteen years of devoted service to our school. During these years she has served efficiently as our dean of girls, and, at one time, as principal of C.H.S. Miss Zehner has traveled extensively throughout the United States and the world. Recently she toured India and South America and returned with numerous souvenirs to add to her collection.

Mr. Carl Nelson, dean of boys, holds his Bachelor degree from the University of Illinois and his Masters degree from Northwestern University. He has also done additional graduate work at both of these institutions.

MISS NELL ZEHNER

Mr. Gregory Maltby, left, is acting as dean of boys for approximately three hundred senior high students at Jefferson. Last year he served as a half-time administrative assistant at C.H.S. while working on his Ed.D. degree at the University of Illinois. Mr. Bruce Anderson, whose title is administrative intern, is gaining experience in all facets of school administration. This internship allows him to learn and at the same time to give service to the school.

English

Many students are unaware of the change that is sweeping our English Department. This is the first year sophomores and juniors at C.H.S. With the emphasis on preparation for college, Team English has students meeting in large groups in the Little Theatre for lectures and in small classroom-size groups for discussions and grammar work.

The department is now putting into operation a three-year program with its main emphasis on literature and writing rather than grammar. At the same time, the complete English curriculum of the Unit Four system is being studied in an effort to coordinate English from kindergarten to the twelfth grade. New titles added to the senior high reading program include Hamlet and Dicken's Bleak House for seniors, Pearl Buck's The Good Earth and Benet's John Brown's Body for juniors, and Alan Paton's Cry, the Beloved Country for sophomores.

A pamphlet and clipping file, a collection of film strips, a vocational file, microfilm equipment, and various types of projectors and screens as well as eighty periodical titles and over six thousand books comprise the combined resources of the library and visual aids department.

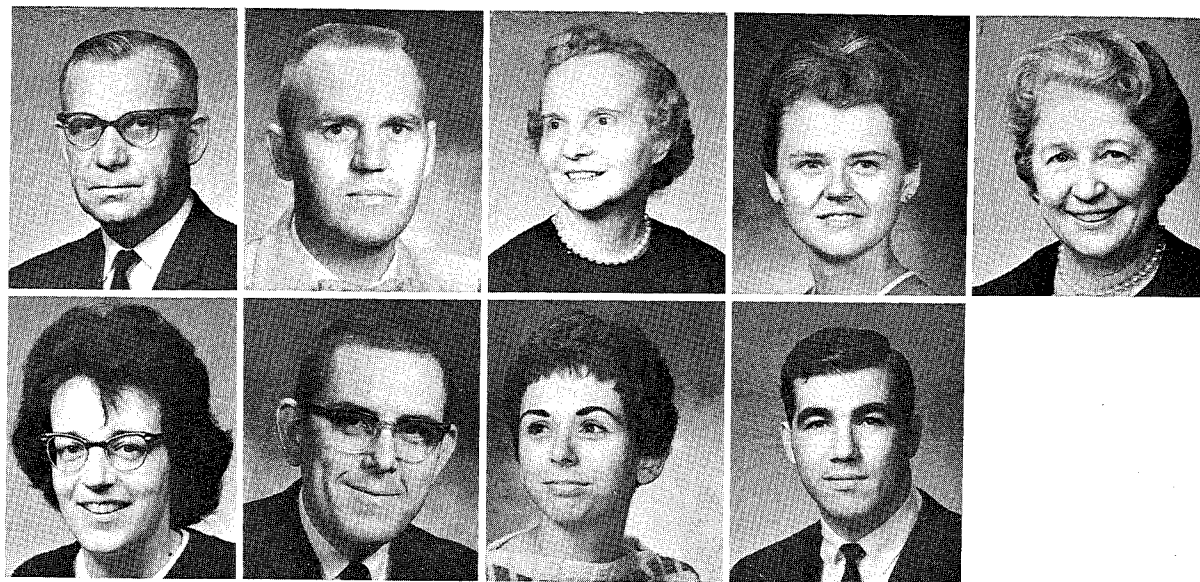

The visual aids department experiments with new equipment, this year including a projector which can be stopped on a single frame for detailed study.

Language Staff Increases to 11

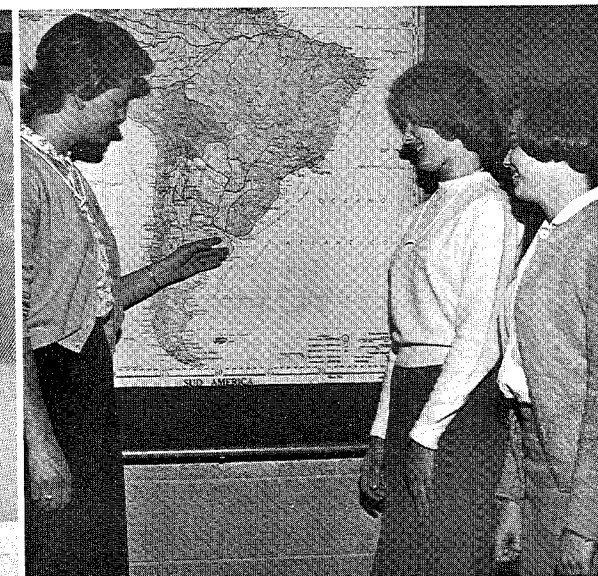

In this jet age, learning to speak, read, and write in a foreign language is more necessary than ever. The C.H.S. foreign language department meets today's needs by offering Spanish, French, German, and Latin. Each year a greater number of students enroll in foreign language classes. To meet this demand our language department has adopted the Holt, Rinehart, and Winston method of teaching which emphasizes first learning to speak and understand a language, and then mastering the literature and writing skills of the language.

These books are experimenting with the new discovery method to present old facts. They were developed by the University of Illinois Committee on School Mathematics (UICSM). Two college courses in algebra and trigonometry are also being taught for University of Illinois credit. As in previous years, some seniors are allowed to take a course such as calculus on the University campus.

Unlike a west-side gang in a recent movie, the JETS of C.H.S. is an organization, sponsored through the science department, for students interested in engineering. Those interested in a phase of medicine can follow biology with microbiology and anatomy. These courses have the benefit of new texts this year. For experience in lab work, chemistry offers opportunities from composing common table salt to gaining experience in observation by stating facts concluded by watching a burning candle. Those who have a deeper interest in science may receive the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute awards or the Bausch and Lomb awards.

Study Applied To A

Have you heard any of your friends talking in baffling political language? This could be due to their participation in mock political conventions held in contemporary history. In addition to regular and enriched courses in world and U.S. history, a course is offered in economics which deals with a study of "big business," the stock markets, and the national budget. For those interested in the mind and society, psychology and sociology courses provide for their needs by interesting experiments and projects as well as by regular classroom study.

Have you ever wondered about the huge noisy machines in the large rooms at the north end of first and second floors? Those are the shop classrooms where, under department head Mr. Griest, boys are enrolled in such courses as printing, wood, machinery, or drafting for architectural or engineering work.

"Learn by doing," the theme of the department, is well carried out as students participate in various projects throughout the year. Some of the results are entered in area-wide contests: the district competition is usually held at Bloomington and the winners advance to state judging at Charleston, Illinois.

Have you been wondering? Wondering, for instance, why high school sophomores and juniors are carrying around copies of "Little Red Riding Hood" and "The Little Red Hen"? The answer is the home-ec. program, which provides for actual training in child care by working with children as well as textbooks. Among the variety of courses offered, two selections for each grade, is naturally, training in cooking. For those interested in this area there are Betty Crocker scholarships available at the state and national level. A special course is offered for those taking no other high school home-ec. In this course the class chooses the home-ec. problems they wish to study.

Study Applied To A

Have you heard any of your friends talking in baffling political language? This could be due to their participation in mock political conventions held in contemporary history. In addition to regular and enriched courses in world and U.S. history, a course is offered in economics which deals with a study of "big business," the stock markets, and the national budget. For those interested in the mind and society, psychology and sociology courses provide for their needs by interesting experiments and projects as well as by regular classroom study.

While Urbana High School came in with a second, the CHS marching band won first place competing against sixteen other bands in the First Annual High School Band Day at the University of Illinois, November 2, 1963.

Besides band, which has a membership of about 100 and is directed by Mr. Gilbert Papp, the music department includes four choirs (A Cappella, Concert Choir, and two Sophomore Choirs) totaling about 270 students directed by Mr. William Olson, and 30 high school orchestra members directed by Mr. Jerald Slavich.

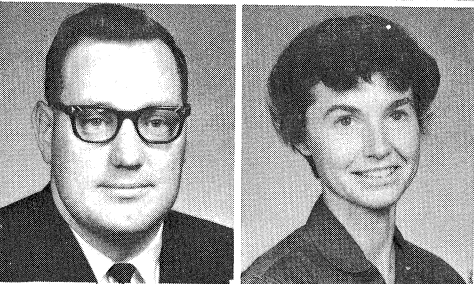

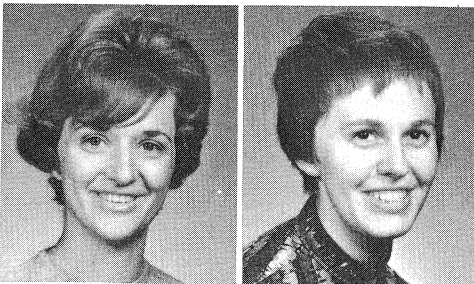

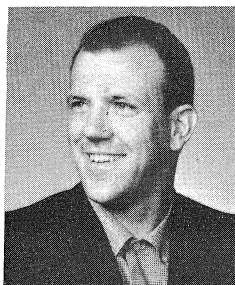

Mr. Verrollton Shaul, the head of the music department, is also the unit four coordinator of music.

A Cappella Choir purchased new robes this year, which are beige, maroon, and white. Some groups which have developed from A Cappella are Vocalettes, made up of 27 girls; Troubadors, consisting of 30 boys; and Madrigals, a mixed group. Vocalettes, during the summer of 1963, performed at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Two Aids for Career Preparation

Should I stay in school? Is it necessary for me to take a science course? These are just a couple of the questions asked of counselors by students. The counseling center is supplied with the latest college pamphlets and serves as a registrar for such important tests as the Scholastic Aptitude Test, Achievement Tests, and the National Merit Scholarship Test. a wide variety of practical courses for students wishing to obtain positions in the field of business either directly after high school graduation or to major in business in college.

Two units are offered which give students special instruction in the operation of special I.B. M. equipment. This skill is in high demand by several local organizations, such as the University of Illinois, which needs operators for their equipment.

P. E. Takes to the Open Air

"Watch out for that stop sign!" "Eeeeeeeek!" "Screech!" Behind-the-wheel driver education is only one of the facets of the CHS physical education department. The girls' P.E. classes cover such units as volley ball, tumbling, basketball, and speed-away. The boys take part in daily calisthenics, such as push-ups, "Chins," "dips," and rope climbing. Due to a larger number of students enrolled in P.E. classes than in previous years, accommodation for the classes has become a tremendous problem. The gyms are not sufficient, so classes take to the outdoors when weather permits and several girls' classes meet in the cafeteria.

Vocation Through Education

YOUTH is not an abstract title. It is compiled of initials standing for Your Opportunity Understanding Training Habilitation. As the name suggests, Youth Project is a program based on preparation for trade school or immediate employment after graduation. The goal of Youth Project is education for vocation. After the age of sixteen the students work half days under vocational counselors' supervision. The program also includes training in home ec. and shop as well as work with dittos, typewriters, and other business machines. Approximately thirty junior high age students also participate in the program.

Tiger Teeth for sale! "Beat Urbana Week," preceding the CHS—UHS annual basketball game, was highlighted by Student Council members selling carved wooden "tiger teeth" to be worn on twine necklaces by loyal Champaign High students. Student Council also sold pennants, Christmas candy canes, and pep badges and ribbons advertising football and basketball games.

As a member of the National Association for Student councils, the Council sent a representative last summer to Ann Arbor, Michigan, for the annual national convention.

This year Champaign High was chosen to host the district Student Council Convention in October, 1963. The theme of the convention was, "Conformity of Youth — Why?" and was carried out through talks by two guest speakers, and group discussions. Nancy Evans, C.H.S. senior presided over the convention.

Another activity of the Council was the collection of toys, food, and clothing to provide a merry Christmas for three local needy families.

Homeroom Delegates

The House of Representatives in action, led by Jan Moon.

A branch of the C.H.S. student government in its second year of operation is the House of Representatives, whose members are elected from their homerooms. Alternates are also chosen to fill in if the regular member is unable to attend.

The House is similar in structure to the Student Council, with its own constitution, which may be amended by vote of the membership. The organization, which holds its meeting during activity period, tries to serve as a focal point for problems, suggestions, and ideas of the student body concerning school policies.

The House of Representatives is responsible for the C.H.S. Inter-state Exchange, a program which enables selected students to learn about the operation, curriculum, and students of schools in other parts of Illinois by attending them for one week.

Special committees are set up as needs arise. One such committee chooses the Inter-state Exchange students, using original paragraphs of the applicants as part of the criteria.

Honor Students Recognized For High Marks, Citizenship

Honor society hopefuls crowd around the list of new prospective members.

"The doors of wisdom are never closed" goes one of the many Honor Society slogans seen on posters in the halls encouraging students to study harder and improve their grades.

The Illini Chapter of the National Honor Society is an honorary organization for students fulfilling scholastic requirements, attaining leadership, giving service for the benefit of the school, and possessing admirable character traits.

To become eligible, juniors must maintain a 4.75 scholastic average and seniors, a 4.50, as well as showing satisfactory citizenship. An advisory committee for the society, called the "faculty council," is made up of twelve C.H.S. teachers.

A new rule was effected this year whereby, if a senior's scholastic average drops to 4.50 and he was admitted into the society on a 4.75 as a junior, he will be allowed to remain a member.

Several money-making projects, including a hop after a game, were planned to cover the cost of an initiation banquet in the spring.

Prom, Commencement, Spring Sports

Trying to meet ad layout deadlines are Carol Rayburn and Jo Ellen Troxell.

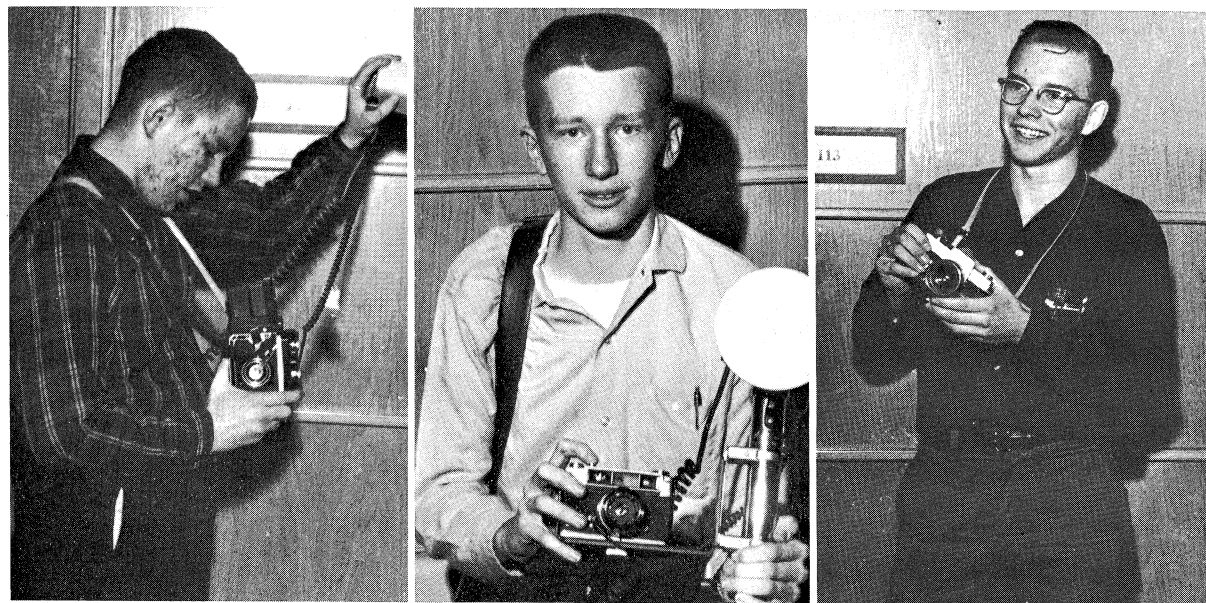

This year for the first time, the Maroon staff sent its editor to a two-week yearbook workshop at the University of Wisconsin, where students, under the guidance of Professor Glenn Hanson of the University of Illinois, drew layouts, and planned pictures for a practice yearbook prepared during the session.

This year the Maroon was not published by a local company as in the past; instead, it was sent to a publishing house which specializes in yearbooks, the Inter-Collegiate Press in Mission, Kansas.

Commencement, late spring sports, and the junior-senior prom are being included in the '64 Maroon; in a special sixteen-page spring supplement available to everyone who purchased a yearbook.

The National Scholastic Press Association awarded the '63 Maroon a first-class rating, a higher rating than that for the previous year's book.

Joy Moon, Co-Editor of Literary Chronicle.

"Sir Wallace Marmaduke Malcolm," "Fingers," and "The Wishi-Washy Wilderness" are three intriguing titles from a recent Literary Chronicle. This year's issue promises articles just as exciting.

The Literary Chronicle is a yearly publication which is distributed at no cost to each member of the student body at the end of the school year. Under the direction of Mrs. Alice Harnish, the junior and senior editors compile material written by C.H.S. students in English classes. The best themes, poems, essays, short stories, book reviews, and movie reviews are included in the booklet. Plans were made for a contest open to all Champaign High students to design the cover for the Literary Chronicle for a prize of five dollars.

Heading the Chronicle staff are: Chuck Burtis, Business Manager; Cheryl Nance, and Vicki Morris, Co-Editors.

Chronicle

The high quality of the C.H.S. newspaper, the Chronicle, is evident in its selection as president of the Illinois State High School Press Association (ISHPA) for the school year 1963-64. As president, the Chronicle will send a representative to the next fall convention to speak and to announce the winner of the honorary title for the following year.

Members of the Chronicle staff attended newspaper workshops in Chicago, Jacksonville, and Champaign, Illinois, for high school editors to learn to improve the newspaper.

Heads ISHPA

An Editorial Board was established this year to be responsible for deciding the stand the Chronicle would take concerning controversial school issues. The Editorial Board consists of the editors of the Chronicle and a representative from each class.

The Chronicle sponsored its first Christmas writing contest open to all C.H.S. students. Some of the best poems, short stories, and essays were printed in the Chronicle. The authors of the winning entries were awarded five dollars.

Paperback Books Anyone?

"Why does an elephant wear sunglasses? To read the Quill and Scroll paperback books in the sunlight!" Elephant jokes became the trademark of Quill and Scroll as members bent their efforts toward the paperback book project. This honorary club for outstanding juniors and seniors who work on the publications, Chronicle and Maroon, sold data guide cards this year in addition to the paperbacks.

To be eligible for Quill'n Scroll, a Chronicle member must have written 100 inches of copy, while a member of Maroon must have done exceptional work during a period of no less than one year.

The profits received from the selling of the books and the guide cards are used to buy books for the school library.

Zoom Along With JETS

If you are interested in any phase of engineering, the Junior Engineering Technical Society, better known as JETS, has something to offer you. Sponsored by Mr. Allen Smith, the club has about twenty-five members and meets during the activity period.

The club sponsors field trips through the engineering department at the University of Illinois for all interested members. Also, personnel from the university speak to the members on the specialized fields of engineering. Time is spent on various projects, the most important of which is a radar unit. The officers of JETS attended a leadership convention held at Navy Pier in Chicago in October, and participated in activities with other JETS officers from all over the state.

L'Organisation Française

French Club members plan decorations for their annual Hal-loween party.

"Will the meeting please come to order?" On every other Wednesday night you can hear these words as a large group of interested French students meet to learn more about France, its customs and its language. Founded at the beginning of the second semester in 1962, French Club has grown to include over one hundred members. The only requirement for membership is that the student be enrolled in a French class at C.H.S.

French Club has taken an active part in school activities this year. In addition to making a float, an "Eiffel of Triomphe", for Beat Urbana Week, the club sponsored a French bake sale the last of November, and a hop in January following the Alton basketball game. One of the major projects of the year was the table of French food at the International Supper.

Schnitzelbank Bop

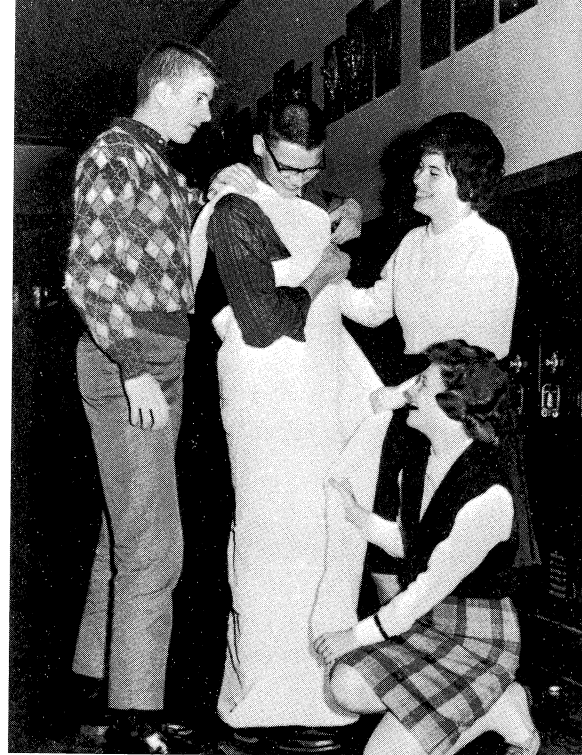

Janet Trulock is busy making decorations for the German hop, "Schnitzelbank Bop."

Schnitzelbank Bop! Was ist das? Any member of der Deutsche Klub knows that that was the name of the hop after the Champaign-Urbana game. The "Bop" was the main money-making project of the German Club, sponsored by Mrs. Bertha Darsham.

The other events during the year were the International Supper and the Weihnachtsabend, or in English, the Christmas Night. The Weihnachtsabend included a Christmas play, refreshments, and good old German entertainment and songs.

To become a member one must be or have previously been enrolled in a German Class. Club members have shown much initiative, and because of their efforts, they received first prize in the float contest for the most original Homecoming float — a long, long dachshund.

Latin - A Dead Language?

With togas flying and sandals clicking, the Latin Club members enthusiastically strove this year to increase their skill and interest in the language. To become a member one must be enrolled in a third or fourth year Latin class or have had at least three years of Latin.

The club's purpose is to help in school activities, to create interest in the study of Latin, and to honor the members. The event which was much looked forward to by the club's members was the Roman Banquet which took place in the early spring. This gay festival was decorated in the Roman style with the participants wearing Roman garb.

Latin Club, is sponsored by Miss Lois Battelfield, Language Department head.

Films And Fines

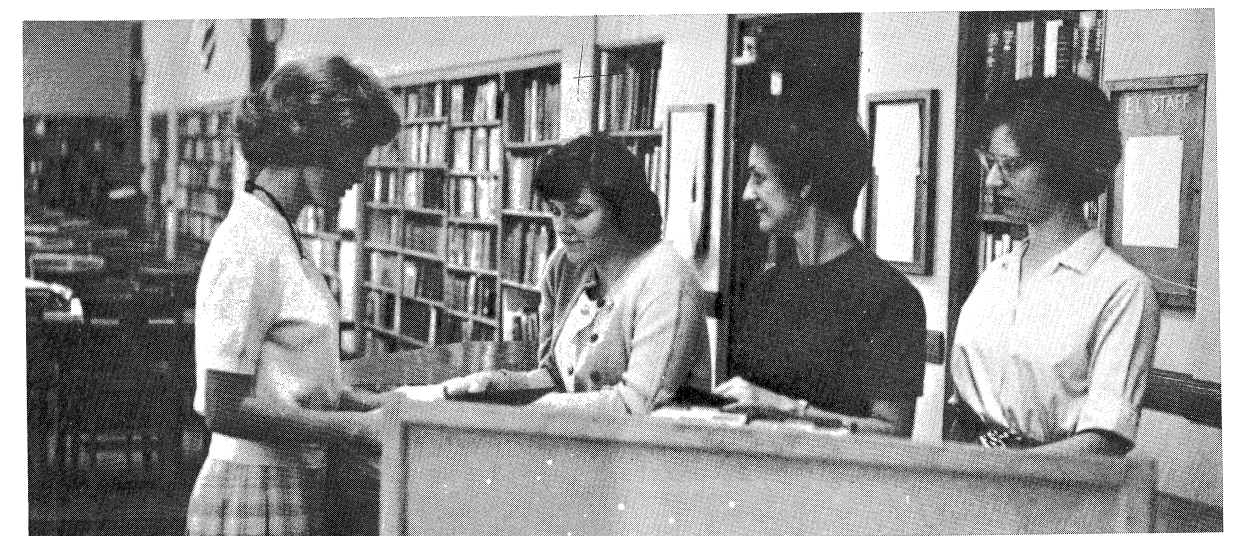

Together we stand! Library Club and Projector Club have existed for many years operating as separate units, but this year they have merged forming one group. In this way the members have an opportunity to learn library procedure as well as learning how to use the audio-visual machines. The Projector staff has frequent discussions on how to run a projector and how to care for it. At times demonstrations are given. Some members of the Library portion of the staff spend one period working during the school day. Others work before or after school. They collect fines, check out books and shelve books that have been returned.

The fifteen members of this club, sponsored by Mr. David Johnson, perform quite a service for the school by aiding teachers in showing movies, and helping students and teachers in the library.

Behind The Scenes

"Curtains up, actors bow, we liked that play, and how!" Whenever a dramatic presentation of any kind is given at Champaign Senior High School Wig 'n Paint, one of the largest and most popular clubs in the school, is at work.

During the club meetings pantomimes, skits, and cuttings from plays are performed by the club members.

Wig 'n Paint sponsors many projects such as the CHS Stunt Show, the fall play, the invitational speech tournament, and the winter play. Committees are picked for the various performances. This is how members receive points to become members of Thespians, the honorary dramatics club.

In rehearsal for the fall play, Jan Moon practices driving her sister, Diane Hamacher, out of her mind.

Curtain Calls

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." Thespians is a national honorary society for those who excel in dramatics or its counterparts. By working on a committee in Wig 'n' Paint, having a part in a play, or the Stunt Show, or giving speeches, a person can acquire points. One hundred points are required for membership in Thespians.

In the spring a dinner is held for all new initiates. Promotion of a good dramatics program at Champaign Senior High School is the aim of the club.

The Drama board is composed of the Thespians officers and a member at large, chosen by the Wig 'n' Paint members. The Board chooses the Stunt Show theme, and forms the policies for Wig 'n' Paint and Thespians.

Debaters Argue Medical Care

"Resolved: I will remember my debate cards." To a Debate Club member this was a common reoccurring thought, as cards were required every week for the various practice debates. The point of practice debates was to improve techniques, and develop perceptiveness, critical thinking and logical reasoning, to prepare debaters for the inter-scholastic debates with other high schools in the state. Competitive debates are judged, and medals awarded. The money making project of this organization was sponsorship of an after-game hop.

Business Is Our Business

Running off important information on the ditto machine are Joan Lorenz, President, and Peggy Harvey.

Do you ever stop to think how important the business world is? The members of Commercial Club do! Learning about business careers and developing future interest in the varied fields of this area are the purposes of this club. The only requirement for membership is that one must be enrolled in a business education class at C.H.S.

Commercial Club has been active at C.H.S. for fourteen years and is sponsored by Miss Dorothy Munger. During the year field trips to local as well as large area offices were taken, and outside speakers came to talk about different aspects of business. Other activities included sponsorship of a hop, the annual field trip, and a Christmas project to help orphans. The club undertook a program in which books on business education were sent overseas to the Business Education Library. The books were collected in January and packaged by the members to be sent abroad.

An Education For Jorge

Can you hold the attention of disinterested children? This is the goal of every member of the Future Teachers of America. The main purpose of F.T.A. is to acquaint its 117 members with the opportunities and challenges in teaching.

One of the very important activities of F.T.A. this year is its concern for the education and support of a Columbian boy, Jorge. Through the Foster Parent Plan the club pays money each month which is spent for the needs of Jorge's family. The Foster Parent Chairman from the club corresponds with Jorge during the year.

Cadet teaching is another unique phase of the F.T.A. program. During the second semester senior members of the club help teachers in different schools throughout Champaign. They make observations, grade papers, and sometimes even take over the responsibility of teaching a class.

Quiet, Hospital Zone

Are you afraid of the sight of blood? If so, why not join the Future Nurses of America and cure your fear? Future Nurses has been active for nine years and interests girls in the Nursing field. The only requirement is the payment of dues: fifty cents per semester.

At meetings this year F.N.A. had a guest speaker from a major hospital and invited a panel of nurses to speak to the group. In addition, F.N.A. had a formal initiation in the fall in connection with which girls received their pins, helped a needy family at Christmas, and sponsored a table at the International Supper.

In June a picnic was held, new officers were elected, and a worthy member was awarded a scholarship to an accredited school of nursing. She is chosen according to grades and her participation in the club. Mrs. Ann Sims is the club's sponsor.

During one of the club meetings three nurses came to speak to the group. They are Mrs. Griego, a surgical nurse at Carle Hospital, Mrs. Schroth, a public health nurse, and Mrs. Frank, an industrial nurse from Magnovox.

1/2 cup sugar . . . 1/2 teaspoon . . . These are familiar words one can hear when he passes the room where the Future Homemakers of America meet. In order to become a member of F.H.A. a person must be enrolled in a home economics class and must pass a required test. The club has many aims, among them, promoting appreciation of homemaking and international good will, developing an interest in home economics, and promoting leadership in home and community life.

One of the most interesting activities of F.H.A. this year was a pizza party held in November for the initiation of new members. The F.H.A. group from Mahomet were invited as guests. In December the girls made a symbolic Christmas display for the showcase.

Typing, Telephones, Tact

Hard at work are Jeanne Kelsey, Secretary; Miss Ida Mae Meyers, sponsor; and Barbara Brumfield.

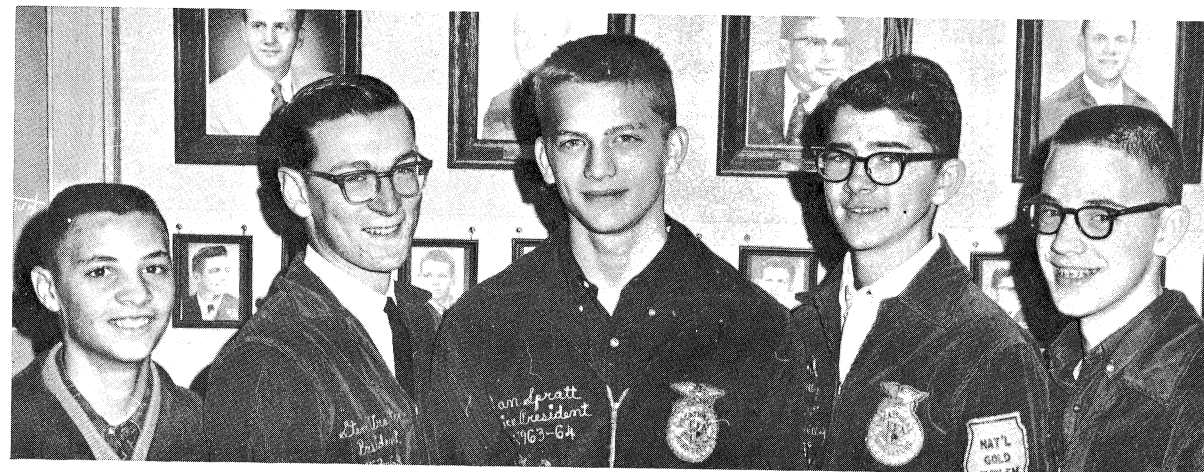

To be the efficient secretary of a big business executive is the aim of students in the Future Secretaries of America. This is a new organization sponsored by the Champaign-Urbana National Secretaries Association. Members from this larger organization meet with our school club and help plan programs and teach our local members "tricks of the trade." Their purpose is to engender interest in the secretarial field and to do all things possible to encourage advanced education which will better equip the student to qualify for a secretarial position by learning from actual secretaries. Each month, five F.S.A. members are invited to attend the secretarial work-shop at the University of Illinois. Another interesting feature is that in the spring a Future secretary of the year was chosen.

Planting, Plowing, Perseverance

Welfare, safety, and service describes in a nutshell the activities and duties of the CHS Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. The welfare and safety program investigate the different aspects of farming, such as conservation, livestock, economics, record keeping, and the soil. Along with this, the organization strives to promote leadership, community service, and patriotism among its members. At meetings held two times a month, discussions are held concerning plans for farming in the future.

This club is closely associated with a regular subject at Champaign Senior High School called Vocational Agriculture.

Sock, Mitten, Sweater Makers

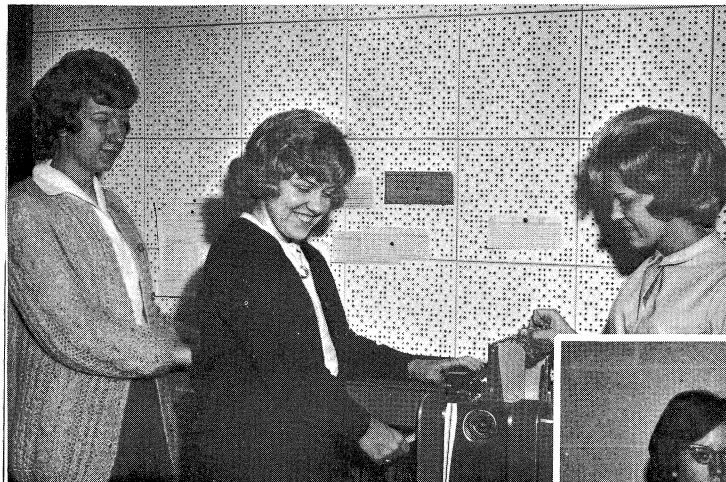

Catching up on some knitting in their spare time are Knitting Club officers: Ruth Vermillion, president; and Kathy Malloy, vice-president. Not pictured are: Judy Wilson, treasurer, and Linda Gish, secretary.

"A stitch in time saves nine," may well be the motto of a certain forty-five girls who form the ranks of the Knitting Club, which has been active for five years.

Discussions concerning patterns and types of yarn are held. The girls, with the help of Miss Mary Holmes, their sponsor, work on such items as sweaters, ear warmers, mittens, and socks. These pieces are useful as gifts, and are especially valuable, because they have been made by the girls themselves . . . and much less expensive, too!

The Knitting Club encourages an interest in knitting and helps girls become more proficient at their talent. Weekly meetings are held to which members must bring knitting materials. Every member must attend one meeting each month in order to remain in the club. Each year girls leave feeling they have accomplished much in the way of knitting.

O.O., D.E. Team Up For Career Training

While Jan Shearer puts the finishing touches on her painting, Martha Foster begins her sketch.

With easel and board in hand, members of this club can be seen at almost any time around the school painting or sketching. Fall and Spring bring the members outside to draw beauties of nature. This is Canvas Board, an active honorary for A students in art. Its members feel that art is the universal language and is an interest in itself which would take a lifetime to completely explore.

Canvas Board members are individualistic; each has his favorite area of the art field in which he excels. Some of their aims are to make artistic contributions to our school, to make the students more aware of art, and to promote a sense of art appreciation. Requirements of the club include having high grades in art and showing good citizenship.

Trips were planned to art exhibitions, museums, and schools of art located around the state. This year initiates were required to wear clashing clothes and a sign bearing the words, "I am a Canvas Board initiate." Mr. Fred Attebury sponsors the club.

Conferring on Current Events

Did you know that in Ethiopia one hundred tribes of natives speak fifty different languages each of which has fifty dialects? The members of the Social Science Club learned many other facts too, concerning the customs and living habits of the Ethiopian people through slides and discussion led by a Peace Corps member who had lived and taught school in Ethiopia.

At weekly meetings students discussed current events and problems such as the circumstances surrounding the late President Kennedy's death. Perhaps the greatest value of the Social Science Club is learning and developing one's ability to form sound opinions about current issues, as well as furthering the study of social science and interesting other students in this subject. The advisers, Mr. Selby Klein and Mr. Leslie Bowman, hope in the future to have the club work with political parties during the election years.

Orchesis Practices Modern Dance

"Boom . . . boom . . . boom . . . boom . . . boom. No, it's not a heart being heard through a stethoscope. No, it's not an elephant on his daily walk. It's the C.H.S. Orchesis Club (Wearing black leotards and tights) moving to the accompaniment of a drum.

Orchesis, which is a modern dance club, has a membership of about fifteen girls and meets every activity period in the girl's gym. Under the leadership of Mrs. Marsha Kremer, the members improvise to songs on record, as well as to drums.

Moving to a dance record are these modern dancers: Sue Platz, Libbie Sweet, and Jan Tummelson.

In the fall the club participated in "Dance Day" at the University of Illinois. Members of dance clubs all over Illinois attended two one-hour lessons in body mechanics taught by professors at the University.

Plans were made for clinics to teach prospective members about the activities of the club and for initiation of new members. Also discussed was the possibility of a dance performance for a P.T.A. group or some other organization.

Onions anyone? At a picnic in Hessel Park, the initiates of Baton Club found themselves hobbling with legs tied together to nearby houses trying to sell onions. The new members were also required to wear absurd outfits such as clashing sweatshirts and slacks.

When duly initiated, new members joined with old as Baton Club sponsored musical performances during the school year. The club is in charge of the annual Vice-Versa Dance, so named because the boys are the guests of the girls.

To be eligible, one must show an interest in music by participating in one of the many classes in the music department: band, choir, or music appreciation. Money earned through the sale of candy was used to finance an annual tour with performances at high schools in Illinois and Indiana.

Members of Baton Club who have exhibited outstanding talent in music are selected by the music department faculty to become members of an honorary organization, Modern Music Masters.

The "Big 3" in Music Perform

Champaign High is often represented throughout the city and state by our music department. A Cappella choir, Vocalettes, and Madrigals sing for Kiwanis and other community organizations in addition to performing at school concerts. A Cappella choir and Vocalettes sang at the annual Fall Concert held in November, and A Cappella made the traditional trip to Edison and Franklin Junior Highs. In February, A Cappella, along with the band, made a tour, performing in Chicago, Warsaw, Indiana, and other cities.

For School, Community Audiences

Of C.H.S. music groups, A Cappella is the largest, composed of about 100 students chosen by try-outs. Vocalettes is a smaller group of about thirty girls, who sing for special programs. They occasionally take tours as they did last summer to sing at a convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Madrigals is a mixed group which specializes in folk music. All three groups are directed by Mr. William Olson.

The production of a spring musical is one of the most popular activities of the music department. Last year "Bye Bye Birdie" was a huge success. Plans and ideas for this year's production began early in the fall.

The Orchestra is not only made up of C.H.S. musicians, but it also has the assistance of junior-high students. The Orchestra members display their talent at Pops Concerts, Chamber Music Concerts, and concert events.

"Copley's Square," "Greensleeves," "Stranger in Paradise," and "My Funny Valentine" are selections which the Dance Band plays at hops and various dances sponsored by C.H.S., junior highs, local groups, and out-of-town organizations. Under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Papp, members of the Dance Band practice two nights a week after school. Money the group receives is one of the primary sources of income for the Music Department's general fund.

Intricate Designs on Playing Field

"Guide right! To the rear march! Cover down! Band halt 1 . . . 1 . . . 2 . . . 3!" were orders that rang in the ears of the one hundred members of the Champaign High School Band as they perfected precision marching routines. During the fall students and teachers in their first hour classes heard the Marching Maroons playing while marching to and from McKinley Field.

No band member will ever forget the excitement of the University of Illinois High School Band Day in which more than seven thousand band members from all over Illinois participated. The C.H.S. band won first place.

The Marching Maroons presented various routines. Two of their "specialties" were a locomotive with real "steam" curling from the "smokestack," and a heart formation surrounding the Homecoming Queen coronation.

"High tosses, horizontal tosses, wheels, finger twirls, and grass cutters are some of the jargon of baton twirling which is very familiar to the Majorettes. In the fall five students were picked to lead the band in pre-game and half-time routines.

Varsity Cheerleaders Get Football

Ready-O! Let's go! Each spring brings eager girls to cheerleading tryouts. Ten girls are selected to qualify as cheerleaders by a board of faculty members and students. From the ten, the student body chooses five varsity cheerleaders who they feel pass all the requirements. With the help of Mrs. Marsha Kremer, their adviser, these girls arouse enthusiasm at football and basketball games. The cheerleaders must have good grades and citizenship, as well as good team spirit. This year, at the close of a winning season, the football team gave the five varsity cheerleaders trophies with "Co-Champs" imprinted on them in recognition of their help.

To assist the varsity, and to cheer at sophomore games, five sophomore cheerleaders are chosen each year by their class.

Whether our team wins or loses, our cheerleaders are always cheerful!

Directing the Marching Maroons in their formations is Leader Carolyn Lewis.

The Marching Maroons serve as enthusiasm-boosters as the Urbana football game gets underway.

During the year '63-'64 the Marching Maroons, who until this year were called Pepettes began a new project. Eight girls were selected to make up a Big 12 Honor Court, an addition which helped to make the Marching Maroons a more colorful and interesting group.

With a membership of fifty-two senior girls, the Marching Maroons Club works on precision drills with pompons and in uniform, and also form the Block "C" at basketball games. Meetings held on Wednesday evenings give the girls a chance to learn the particular routine for each week.

The goal of all Marching Maroons is to do their best to provide interesting and enjoyable entertainment at basketball and football games. The leadership of Mrs. Mary Major, the adviser, and Carolyn Lewis, the head Marching Maroon, did much to make the club a popular one.

As the football team comes on the field, the Marching Maroons form a victory aisle for them.

"Win or lose, but do it with grace." To the members of the Girls Athletic Association this advice has quite a special meaning. In all school sports, they strive for the goals of sportsmanship, promoting athletic interest, and learning the principles of leadership and responsibility.

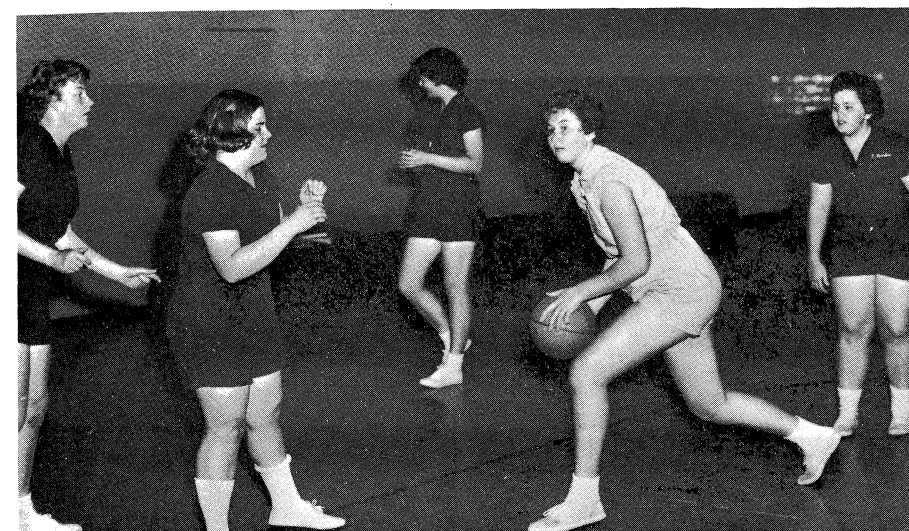

This active club, which meets twice a week, has various projects. At Thanksgiving the club took fall-colored corsages and favors to patients of a nearby nursing home. At Christmas time they helped the Y.M.C.A. sell Christmas tree tickets. Also in December the girls' fathers were invited to "Daddy Date Night" where the fathers beat the girls in basketball.

The autumn was spent planning the annual camp-out. In February the solemn Formal and gay Informal Initiations took place; the year ended with the State Bowling and Basketball-shooting contest.

Pom—Pom Performers

C.H.S. football and basketball just wouldn't have been complete without the energy, pep, and strong-voiced cheers of the Peparoons!

Peparoons has been in existence as a club since 1954 and this boasted a membership of nearly 350 girls.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Gerald Trimble, the members each attend a minimum of two out-of-town games. Many attend more than two, and most Peparoons attend all the games played in Champaign. Busses are provided for fans traveling to "away" games.

Members are required to decorate the halls and cafeteria with posters, crepe paper, and signs advertising home games. Each member, upon the payment of dues, receives a small maroon and white pom-pom to add color to the Peparoon cheering section. This year for the first time, the Peparoons, all wearing white blouses, sat and cheered as a group at games.

C-Club is an honorary organization for all male athletes who earned "C" letters in any sport. The organization is responsible for setting standards to strive for school leadership. The main activity was the C-Club Dance in march, which helped to finance a spring picnic held at Kickapoo Park in Danville, Illinois, to honor C-Club members. A second activity of the club is planning the awards assemblies at which athletes receive letters. The officers of the club introduce the coaches and preside over the sports assemblies.

Sports

Bob Christiansen anchors the last leg of Champaign's winning mile relay team.

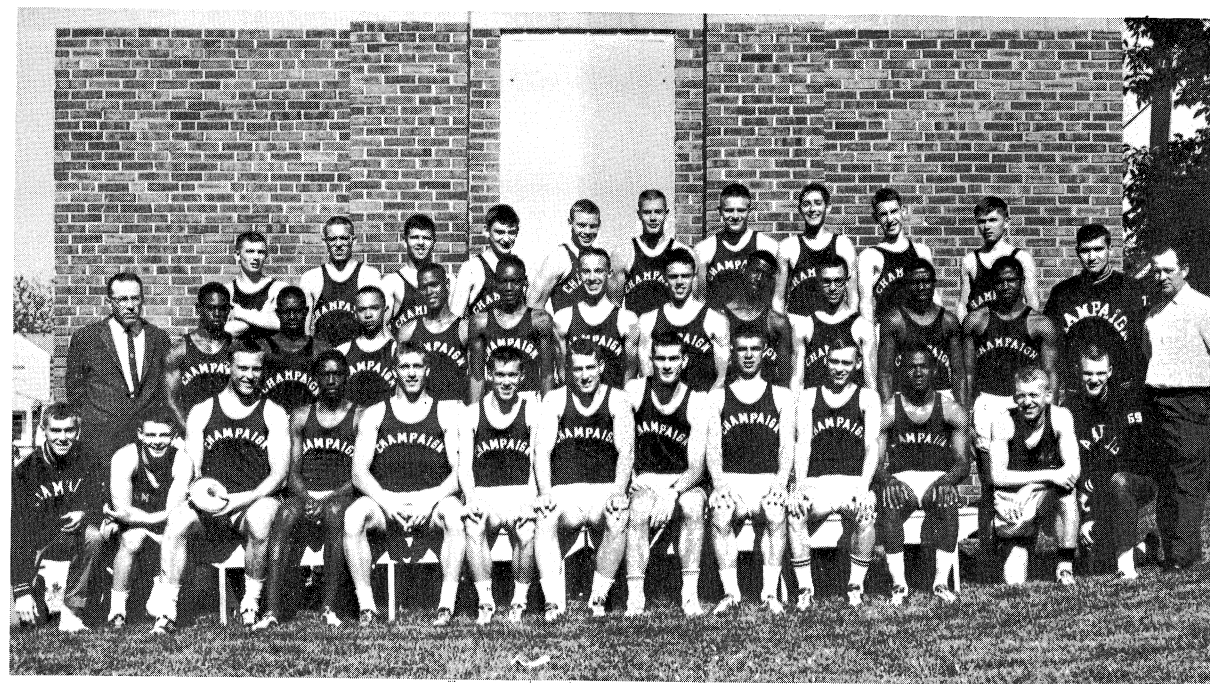

The 1963 track team gave Coach Harold Jester his third consecutive Conference track title, making the seventh time in the last eleven years that the Maroons have taken that crown.

The squad had many individual performances, but most notable was the consistent excellence of sophomore cinderman Bill Huston. At most meets Huston managed to compete in four or five events, and could always be counted to win points. Captain-elect John Ingleman, the only junior to letter, ran the 440, often bringing back a first; a leg of the tough mile relay; and at the end of the year, tried the half-mile. His time of 1:59.7 was good enough to tie the existing C.H.S. record.

Seniors Bill Blackwell and Roger Capan also tampered with school records. Blackwell posted a 53' 2 1/2" effort for a shot put record, and Capan threw the discus 170' 6 1/2" to establish a new mark. Out of the outstanding crop of sophomores, Mike Butler tied the 180 low hurdles mark with a time of 20.1.

In dual meets the Maroons dropped only one, a 61-57 squeaker to Decatur MacArthur. The Maroons picked up a third at the Woodruff Relays and a second at the Mattoon Relays. In three other big meets the C.H.S. cinderman garnered three blue ribbons, the District, the Conference, and the Shelbyville Open (tie with Urbana).

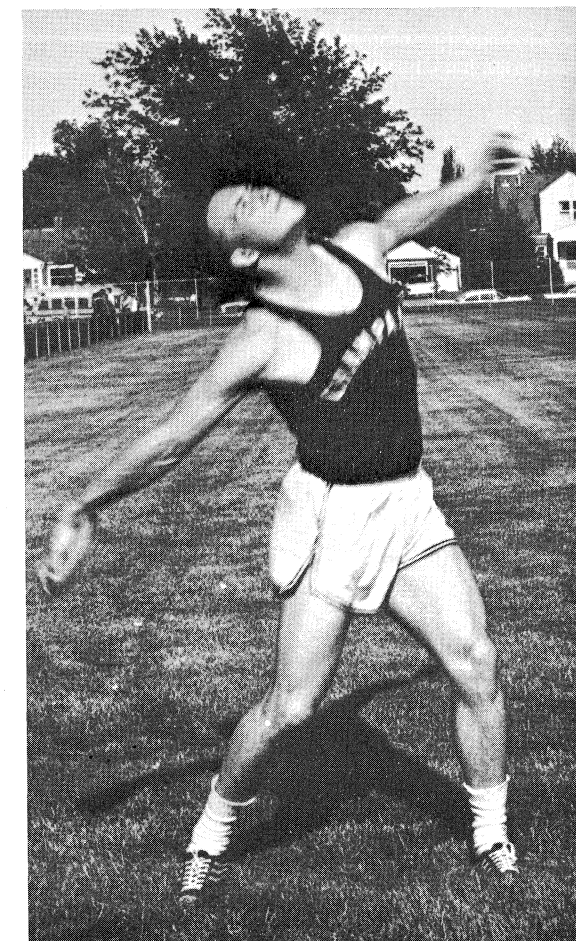

The squad loses nine seniors, but Huston, Ingleman, Butler, and four other underclass letter winners, will return to bolster the 1964 team.

Tennis Team Racks Up

Helping the 1964 captain-elect of the tennis team, Mike McDaniel, with an important grip, is the team's coach, Fred Attebury.

Coach Fred Attebury's 1963 tennis team got off to a running start, experienced a mid-season slump, then finished strong, as they compiled a mediocre four wins, six losses, and one tie season.

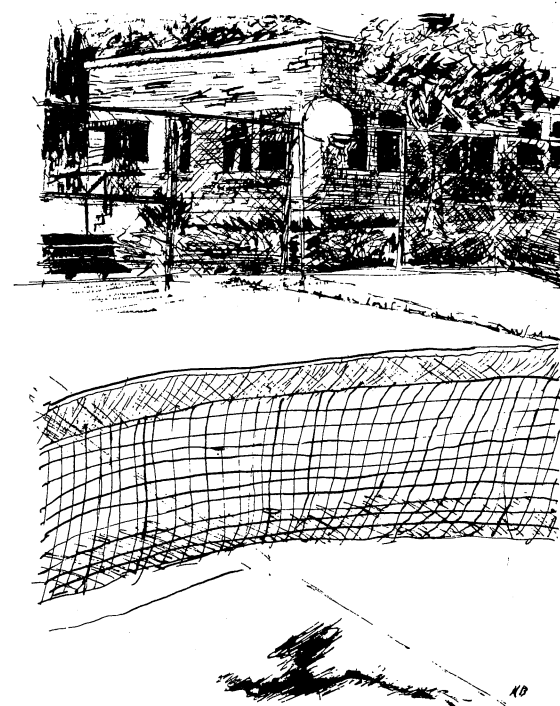

Senior Captain John Younger consistently led the netmen, often winning both a singles and doubles match, getting help in the latter from one of his teammates. Younger, John Peirce, and Alvin Williamson were the only returning letterwinners from the 7-7-1 1962 squad.

The Maroons started off in fine style, winning two of their first three meets, tying the other with conference foe Mattoon.

In the next six meets the netters were able to win only one, a Big 12 contest, 5 to 2 against Lincoln. They lost to conference opponents Danville, Bloomington, and Mattoon, making their Big 12 record 1-3-1. The two non-conference losses brought the netters' overall tally to 3-5-1.

C.H.S. split the remaining two contests, whipping Rantoul for the second time, and losing to Springfield 4-3.

Before the last two meets, the Maroons took second place in the eight-team district tourney, coming in behind conference powerhouse Danville. John Younger and 1964 Captain-elect Mike McDaniel won second place in the doubles competition. Kankakee finished three points behind the Maroons in third place.

Coach Attebury and his assistant, Colonel John Frothingham, will again have three returning lettermen in 1964, McDaniel, Denny Kunza, and junior Chuck Spencer. A promising group of 1963 reserves should add to the squad, giving the netters a chance for a winning season.

As the season ended, letters were awarded to seniors John Younger, Al Williamson, John Pierce, juniors Mike McDaniel, Denny Kunza, and sophomore Chuck Spencer.

Champaign's golf team was sparked to a very successful season this year by three outstanding juniors: Ron Essenpreis, Jeff Hindman, and John Mulliken. These three led the team throughout the season, Essenpreis through the month of April, Mulliken in May, and Hindman consistent throughout, with flashes of brilliance on occasions. Also, contributing to the success of the team were senior lettermen Mike Braun and Tom Trigger and junior letterman Arlen Holter. Trigger played fourth during the year, while Braun and Holter dueled for the last position on the varsity.

The Maroons opened the season by smashing seven successive opponents in duel meets, shutting out one of them, while holding the rest of them under five points. Included in these victories was a trouncing of Urbana. Mulliken, Essenpreis, and Hindman copped low-scoring honors in these meets.

The golfers suffered their first defeat in the hands of New Trier and Quincy in a quadrangular meet at Savoy.

The Maroons then took the District title at Lake of the Woods for the second consecutive year on the strength of outstanding team balance. Their victory earned them a berth in the state meet where they finished fourth. Hindman, Trigger, Braun, Mulliken, and Essenpreis carried the team to their strong finishes. A week later C.H.S. took the Big 12 trophy with Mulliken, first; Hindman, third; and Essenpreis, fifth.

Bat in 17 — 2 Season

1963 was a very successful year for Coach Charlie Due's diamondmen, as they came out of the regular season with 17 wins and two losses.

In nine conference games the Maroons dropped only one, the nightcap of a twin bill with Springfield, but had to settle for second place in the Big 12 to Danville.

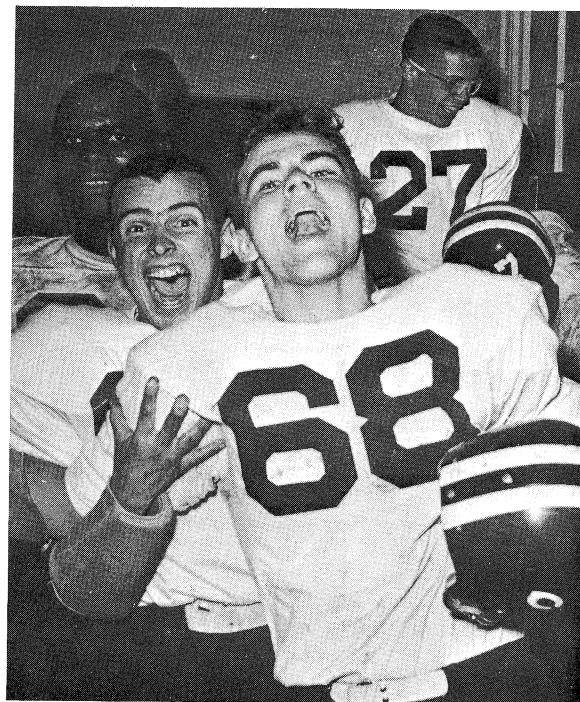

In the Sectional Tourney, the Maroons had to get past the eventual state-placing Vikings of Danville, or be eliminated. A double-header was staged, one to decide the Sectional champ, one the Conference winner — the Maroons dropped both games 6-4 and 5-2.

Seniors Jim Cavanaugh, Butch Hausserman, Willie Jackson, Fred Klemm, Don Langhoff and Don Slater spearheaded the team, along with juniors Larry Bundy, and Brice McWethy and diminutive sophomore Stan Kucharczyk. Sophomore Jim Madix also did an able job filling in for Kucharczyk during an illness.

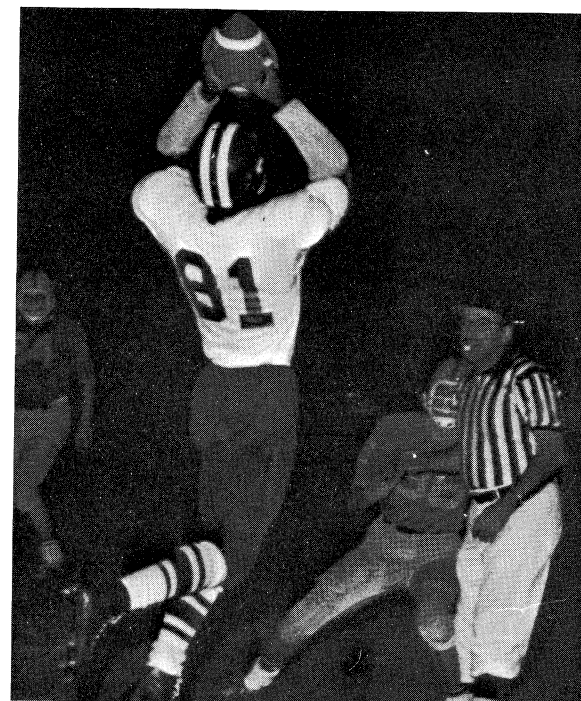

The Maroons ended the season with 19 wins and four losses and a team batting average of .278. Hausserman and Bundy led the batsmen with .427 and .392 averages respectively, and Willie Jackson was top hurler at 8-2.

C.H.S. Shares Conference

As has been his custom, CHS head football coach Tommy Stewart came through with a winning season. The Excellence of the work by the coaches was especially significant as the Maroons employed a new offensive alignment, an unbalanced line with a device backfield of Bill Huston and John Ingleman. The offense was especially adapted for the fleet Huston, and it payed big dividend for both him and the Maroons. Huston became the first Maroon to gain 1000 yards in a single season since 1956, all-stater Stu Clark, eclipsing Clark's mark by 184 yards. This total, aided by two 200-yard performances, places Huston in the top spot in C.H.S. football history for single season yardage. His 216 yard effort against Galesburg was the best single game total in the conference. Woodruff made no indication of such a glistening season, as their defense was porous and their offense was diluted. Warrior fullback Bill Allen stood out in the game.

The gridders first home tilt was a completely different story as the Maroons posted Kankakee 26-6. Bill Huston showed his stuff, gaining 176 yards, including touchdown sprints of 31 and 22 yards. John Ingleman, Huston's running mate, at halfback, chalked up a 16 yard T.D., and end Jeff Trigger took a three yard, John Mulliken aerial in for the final Maroon score. A second period 71 yard march provided the initial conference action for the Maroons in the tight defensive battle. On an end-around play, Mattoon nearly reached paydirt, as Jeff Trigger and the Waves' Dick Ronchetti expired together on the Maroon six after a 70 yard jaunt. The Maroon defense held and then Mulliken marched C.H.S. to the game's only socre on his own one yard plunge. Dave Fisher's last second, man tackle preserved the margin for the win.

For Homecoming, the Maroons topped the Danville Schlarman Hilltoppers 34-6, making up for the 1961 Homecoming loss to the same outfit.

Title in '63

Bloomington and twice all-stater, Ron Bess, squeaked by the Maroons 14-7 in a conference battle, but the Maroon defense shone in defeat holding Bess to 37 yards rushing. It was a touchdown on a 36 yard pass play to Bess, however, that broke the 7-7 halftime tie. Having one of his best games, halfback John Ingleman recorded the only C.H.S. rally on a splendid 57 yard run.

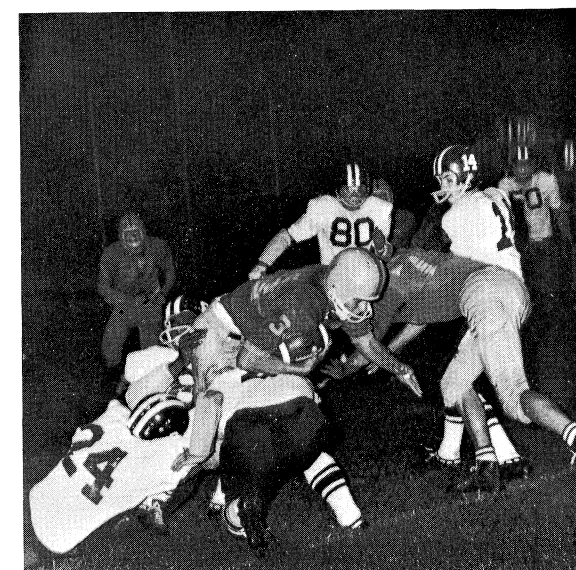

In a must game for both Decatur and C.H.S. the Maroon defense again came through with an outstanding performance. A tremendous effort by the Maroons did not go for naught as the 24-0 victory put them right into the thick of the title race with two Big 12 games remaining. Dave Riddell's 57 yard TD run highlighted the victory.

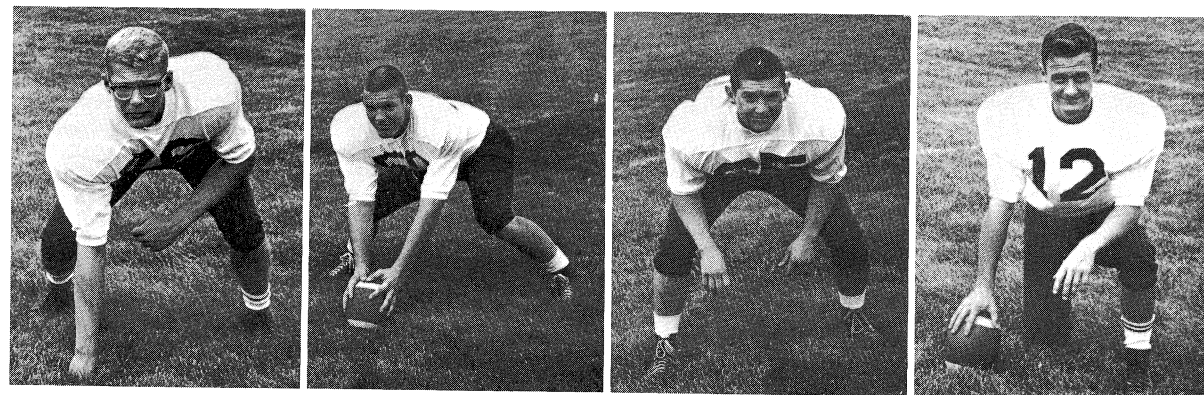

In the Maroons 31-7 win against Galesburg, the C.H.S. offense showed its potency, especially in the form of Huston, who gained 216 yards, including a 56 yard touchdown. John Ingleman chipped in two touchdowns and Kenny Johnson another on a 23-yard aerial from Mulliken.

6 — 0 Season for Sophomores

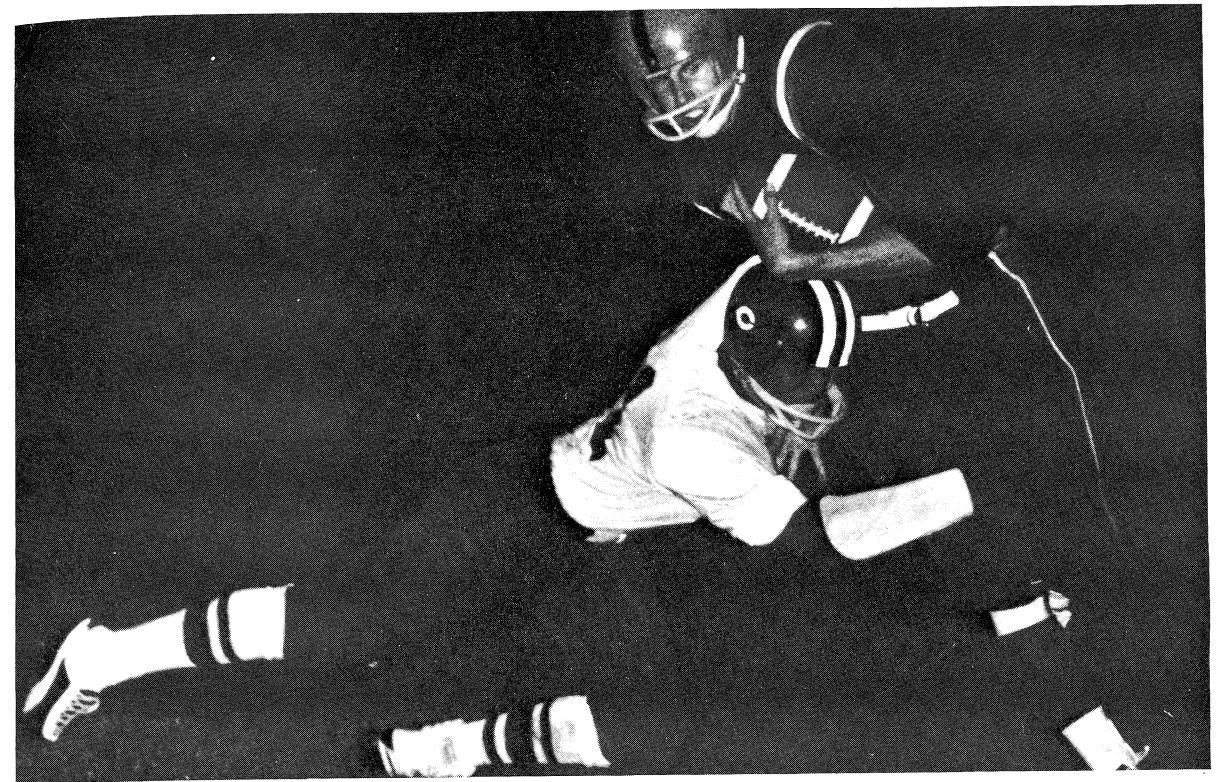

"Get that tip!" Chuck Spencer attempts to block a pass.

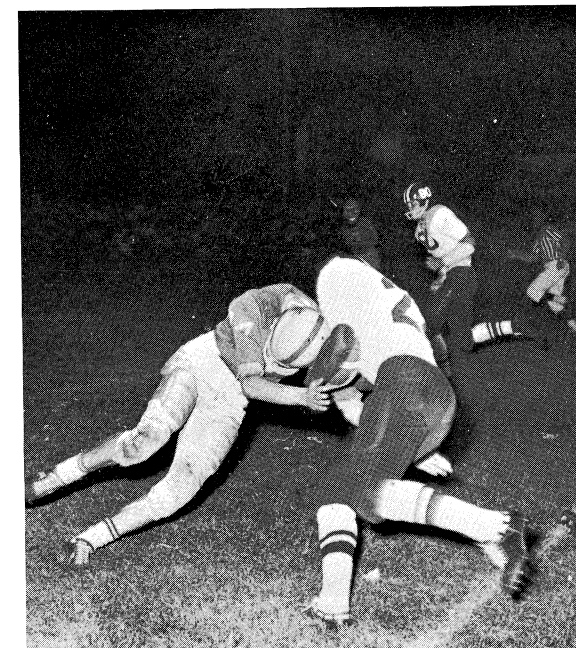

The 1963 sophomore football team went through their season without a loss making them the fourth straight sophomore team to accomplish this. They ended the season with a 6-0 mark.

Coaches John Macek and Dick Wooley ably developed a winning team, despite a lack of speed, by using a grinding defense that seemed to wear their opponents down. Their tough running game plus a fine passing attack made the sophs tough to stop.

Numeral winners of the season were: Danny Ambrose, Richard Buschback, Taylor Davis, Mike Haley, Craig Hubert, Genick Kucharzyk, Jim Lateer, Tommy Long, Bruce McGlasson, Pat McEvoy, Richard Patton, Rocky Peacock, Randy Phippen, Bill Purkiser, John Ross, Kenny Shellabarger, Charles Stahl, Gary Thurman, David Trover, Don Tucker, Bruce Wettman, Steve Williams, and Managers Jim Weinman and Steve Williams. These boys should prove valuable to next year's varsity squad.

Coach Harold Jester welcomed his most inexperienced squad ever in the fall. The cross-country team started with absolutely no letterman, and many boys had never run in varsity competition before. The harriers started off very weakly and ended the duel meet season with a log of two wins and six losses.

In the first duel meet of the season, Rantoul clipped the home town forces 28-29. The Maroon's second encounter was with Urbana. Being led by one of the finest runners in the state, Mark Schmidt, Urbana won 15-49. The cross-country team then traveled to Danville, where Danville emerged a 23-32 victor. In the Paris Invitational, Champaign entered a team in the sophomore division, and they copped second place laurels.

The Maroons then traveled to Lincoln and took their first duel meet of the year by a convincing 18-45 margin.

Danville breaks out to an early lead as the meet begins at Hessel Park.

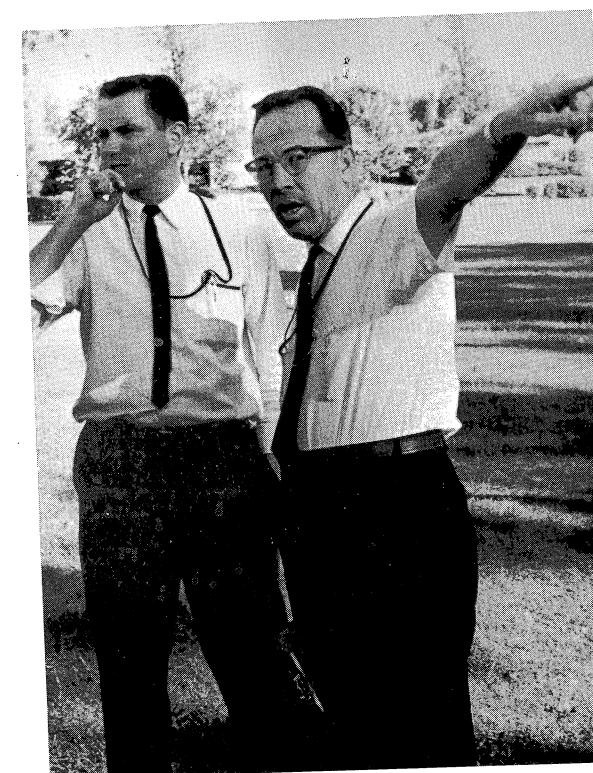

Season

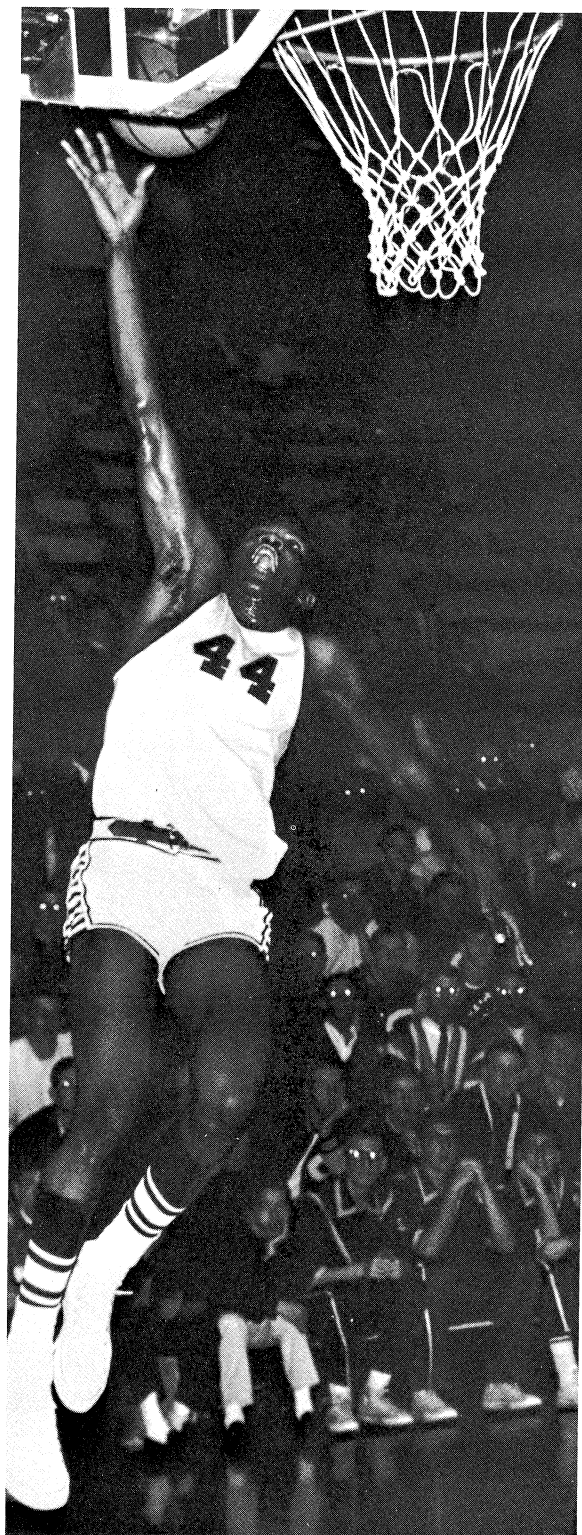

After a narrow 24-32 loss to Danville, the harriers traveled to Rantoul where they hoped to avenge an earlier one point defeat. Rantoul was not to be denied, however, and they won their second meet of the season from Champaign by a score of 28-29, again one point.

In Cumberland the Maroons smashed their opponents 21-40 for their second duel victory of the campaign. They closed out the duel meet season by again being beaten by arch-rival Urbana, 15-50. The harriers then ran in the Conference meet, where they took fourth. The last competition for the "Bunny-chasers" came in the form of the District meet. Champaign took sixth.

Varsity letter winners included: Steve Billhymer, Jan Hoffman, Jeff Mills, Willie Harden, Captain-elect, Bill Jarman, Joe Mason, John Woods, Bob Kell, and John Witt.

Coach Harold Jester points out the course to the Danville coach.

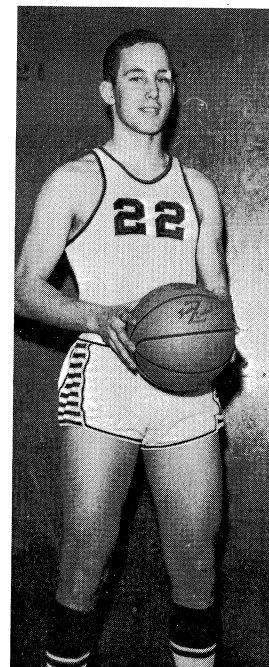

Starter, Willie Harden, in a familiar shot.

Cabutti's

Basketball Coach Lee Cabutti was faced with the same problem this year as the last seven — lack of height. Returning were three lettermen, however, John Mulliken, Ed Miller, and Don Michael, and a bunch of potent juniors, including Willie Harden who returned to CHS from the East. After giving regular basketball a chance, Cabutti decided that the "slow-break" was the best for the Maroons, and the results confirmed this. In the first ten contests the Maroons won five and lost five, 2-3 before the transformation, just the opposite after.

For his slow down offense Cabutti uses a "first six" and two alternates. The offense is sometimes unique this year in that the pivot will be worked by a player only 5'6", Bill Huston.

In the annual opener with Rantoul, the Maroons hinted at the format of the coming games, by defeating the Eagles 64-62 in a triple overtime, and the game was that close all the way. Bill Huston led the CHS scoring with 15 points.

Starting Six Tromp Cross-town Rival

Wells of Chicago's tough Public League next challenged the Maroons and came out on the short end of a 45-36 verdict. Highlighting the game was the ability of the Maroons to rebound with the taller team, an asset which is a must in slow-down basketball. Huston again led the scoring with 14 points.

The Senators of Springfield furnished the Maroons their first conference tilt and at the same time first Big 12 loss, 44-40 in the C.H.S. gym. The contest was close all the way, but the Solon's fire power at the end was just too much for the cold Maroons. John Mulliken and Willie Harden both had ten points C.H.S.

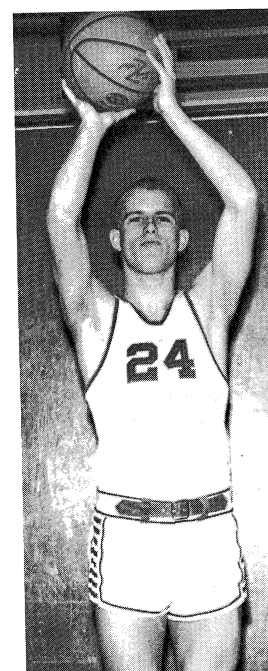

A missed one-and-one situation in the final seconds prevented the Maroons from topping the Lincoln Railsplitters who went on to a 44-40 victory. A hot third quarter for the Railers and some C.H.S. turnovers were very significant in the contest. Percy Herod highlighted the Maroon effort, bagging 8-14 from the field and one charity toss for 17 points.

The tall, talented Danville Vikings were next and too much for the Maroons, taking home a 55-35 verdict. This was the loss that ushered in the slow down style this season.

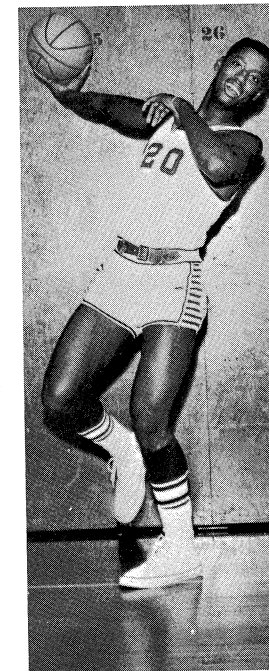

The slow-break offense was exhibited in near perfect form by the Maroons in their clash with third ranked Decatur, resulting in a well deserved 45-41 C.H.S. victory. John Mulliken copped game point honors with 17.

In the Holiday Tourney at Centralia, the Maroons met and defeated two more state-ranked teams, Benton and Springfield Lamphier. Then they fell to two more prep powers, Belleville and arch nemesis Pinckneyville.

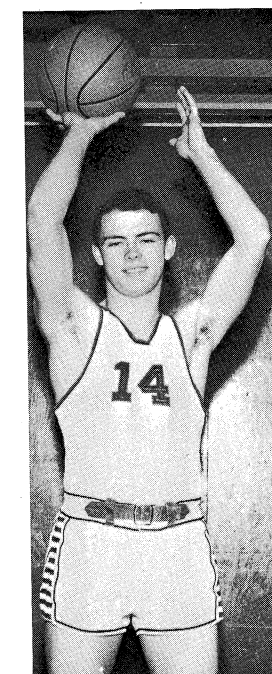

This set the stage for the first cross-town basketball tilt of 1964. The Maroons reversed the inappropriate Urbana slogan of "We don't sweat Champaign" with a decisive 34-26 victory. They completely outdid the timid Tigers, most notably in rebounding where the smaller Maroons took a 32-19 advantage.

A frigid first half at the charity stripe put the gaggers 10 points back of Alton, but the Maroons came back red-hot, only to have a last second shot by hard-working Willie Harden roll around and out for a 46-45 loss. Percy Herod again paced the Maroons with 16 points.

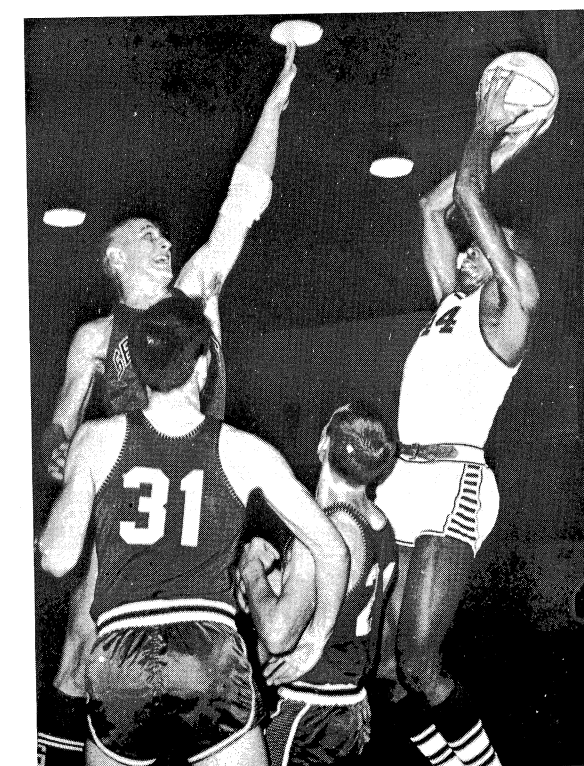

A complete team effort by C.H.S. stifled a stiff Bloomington bid, for the Maroon's third conference win to go along with three losses. John Mulliken had 11 for the winners.

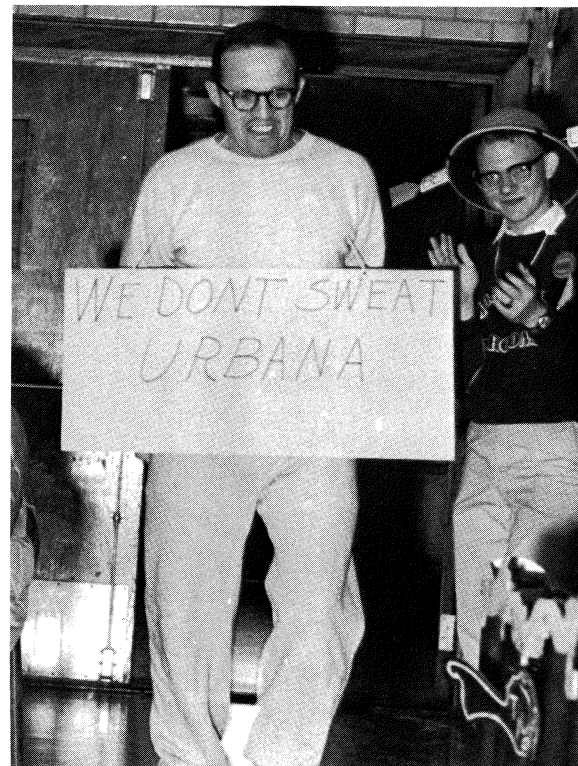

Erratic play cost the Maroons a 44-35 defeat at Mattoon as the Wave capitalized on CHS mistakes to maintain a lead.

This left the cagers mid-season with an even 7-7 record and a 3-4 conference slate.

Charlie Due's sophomores have compiled a 7-3 record this far with wins against Rantoul, Springfield, Decatur, Urbana, and Bloomington, and losses to Lincoln, Danville and Mattoon sophs. Victories over Rantoul and Taylorville gave Due's squad their second straight Clinton tourney title.

Grapplers 4—3 at Mid-Season

This year C.H.S. welcomed a new head wrestling coach, Don Pittman. He greeted a very inexperienced squad which boasted only two returning lettermen; senior Ed Bruce, and junior Gary Melchi. In this situation a coach usually will try to build for the future while fielding a respectable team for the present season.

This is happening this year, as the grapplers, though dominated by underclassmen, are managing to keep their record above the .500 mark. After suffering a loss to Rantoul in their opening meet, they rebounded to stomp Urbana on the strength of outstanding performances in the lower weight classes. Following a second loss to Mac Arthur, the wrestling Maroons racked up three consecutive victories, one from Bloomington and two from Danville. The grapplers then travelled to the Crawfordsville invitational where they copped third place and got individual victories from Gary Melchi, 103, and Steve Moore, 154. The Maroon's meet resulted in a thrashing at the hands of the powerful Pekin Chinks, leaving the Maroons with a respectable 4-3 record.

In athletics, most great teams are followed by a team which is building for the future. Champaign's 1963-64 swimmers are proving this to be a paradox.

After last year's outstanding team, C.H.S. is having another successful year. Led by Vern Tock, captain, the swimmers beat arch-rival Urbana by a score of 54-40. Although they lost to Bloomington, Danville fell almost as badly as last year.

The tankmen took sixth at the Riverside Invitational and are now showing the strength of underclassmen who will be the backbone of another great team next year.

As far as the record books go, Kip Pope, breast-stroker, is the only one to get any new ones those being at Danville, Urbana, and Champaign.

Refusing to be overshadowed by 1st year's greats, Dave Frerichs, 100 yard butterfly; and Dave Dickey, free-styler; are helping this year's team come through with another victorious season instead of an average "building year."

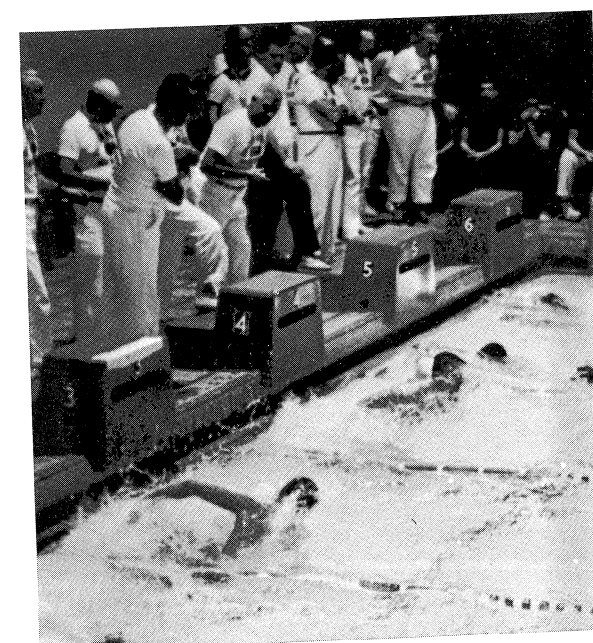

The gun sounds . . .

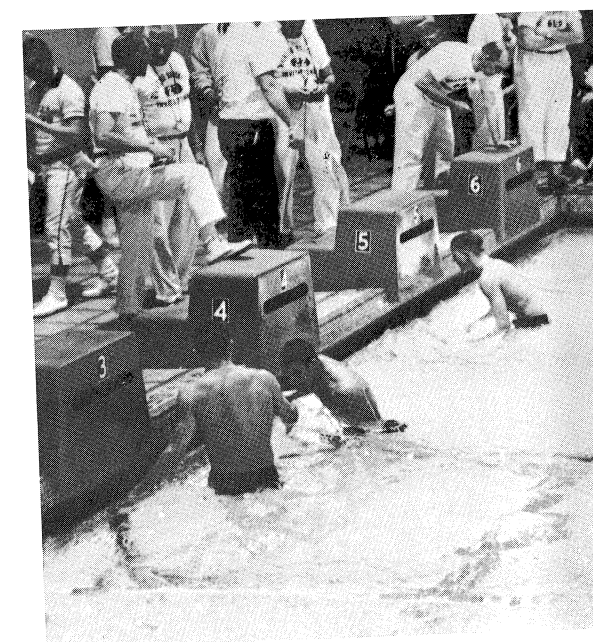

Beginning of the second . . .

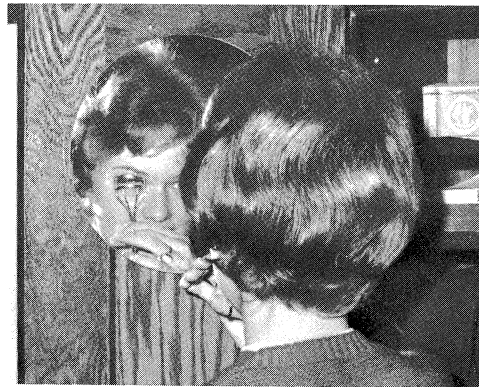

End of the first lap . . .

Champaign proves supreme.

Class of '66

"I've got to catch that bus!" was a familiar battle cry to nearly half of the Class of '66, who attended classes half-day at Jefferson Junior High and the other half at C.H.S. Their problem was even more difficult than that of those students trying to get used to the traffic pattern at the high school itself.

This year's sophomore class includes 673 assorted students, of whom 347 are girls and 326 are boys; 23 are redheads; and 149 wear glasses.

Also characteristic of the Class of '66 is that it represents three junior high schools, and may have the honor of being the first graduating class of two senior highs.

"Oh, those poor little sophomores," is hardly the way to describe the school's youngest class. These hard-working students steamed their way through the year, generating loads of enthusiasm and pep, and gaining themselves an honored place in C.H.S.'s student body.

Junior class officers: Terry Flewelling, vice-president; Doug Myers, president; Mary Black, secretary; and Claudia Allhands, treasurer.

What member of the Class of '65 will ever forget his junior year activities? Some to be remembered were: selecting a class ring; choosing Doug Myers, Terry Flewelling, Mary Black, and Claudia Allhands as class officers, and Mr. Selby Klein and Mrs. Mary Major as sponsors; and arranging the year's Junior-Senior Prom.

But the class will remember equally well some of the events it did not share with classes of the past: those still unfamiliar arrows up and down on the stairs, the beautiful new choir robes, and perhaps most of all the strange idea of a future Champaign with two high schools. No one could mind giving up the large classes and trampled toes of an overcrowded school, but many regretted the necessity of losing the undivided Champaign loyalty.

1963-64 also meant to the Class of '65, active participation in nearly every field of competition, including a marching trophy for the band, award-winning plays, and a Conference football title.

The Interstate Exchange Program enabled C.H. S. juniors to receive visitors from and send representatives to high schools in all parts of Illinois, and to trade ideas on successful experiences in every phase of high school life.

Seniors

Senioritis strikes again!

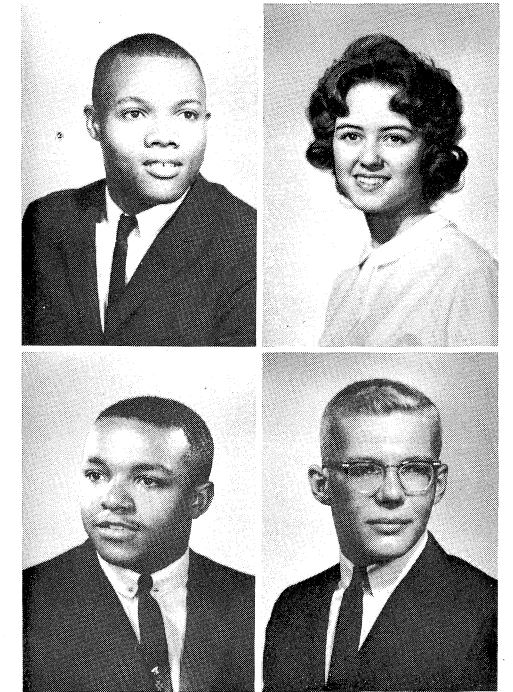

The class of '64 had a glorious year, as all senior classes do. Many fads came and went — like culottes and wooden rings — which puzzled the administration, but they stood it well. An alert teacher could catch a glimpse of the posterior end of a student crawling under the desks in the language lab to discuss with a friend, something that couldn't possibly wait until after class. Skirts got still shorter, and the dress rules became still stricter, but seniors bore up to these codes of CHS.

The teachers were as patient with students as can be expected, and vice versa. Memories of the games, exams, one-way stairs, and assemblies will remain with us always.

Yes, we seniors of 1964 suffered all the whims of that dreadful disease, senioritis, but we managed to muster up stamina and complete our final year at Champaign Senior High.

Senior class officers, Nancy Evans, President; Larry Johnson, Vice-President; Jeanie Hixson, Secretary; and Sally Dickerson, Treasurer; look over the endless list of seniors and wonder how they will ever manage to organize a class reunion.

Dear C.H.S.,

The yearbook staff has had a wonderful time producing the 1963-64 Maroon for you. We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your co-operation and patience throughout the year. Meeting deadlines, taking pictures, and writing copy have been only phases of our work; meeting and working with the student body and administration have proved to be half of the fun.

The yearbook is yours—enjoy it—but if we've made a blunder anywhere in the Maroon, tell anyone but us—we would like to relax now!

The Editor

Special Thanks to . . .
