What a Difference

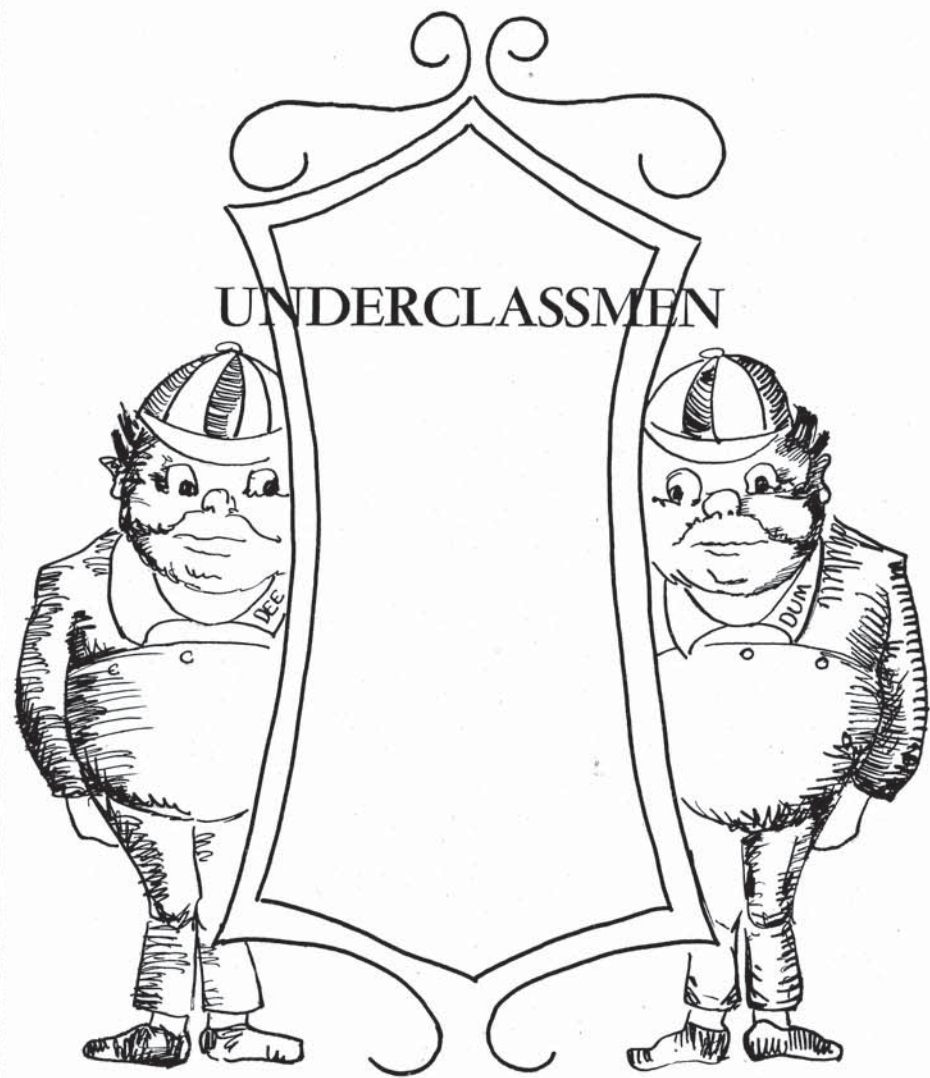

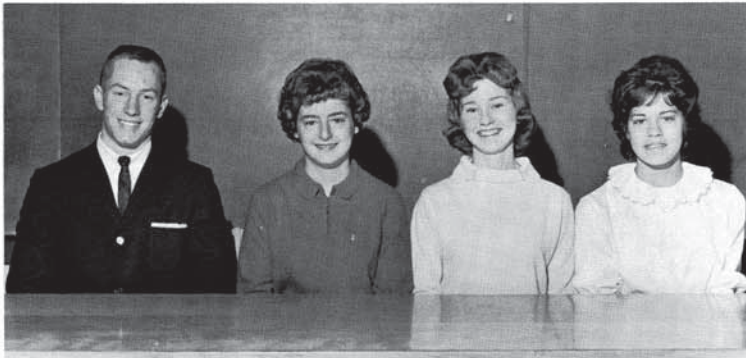

Ten Years Make!

UNDERCLASSMEN

Earnestness and determination are shown on the faces of the Junior Class officers, Mike Carrington, president; Pam Bidwell, vice-president; Sue Overman, secretary; and Carol Ginsberg, treasurer.

JUNIOR CLASS

"Golly, we're finally juniors!" This surprising comment held the junior hopes for a successful year. And a successful year it was from the election of class officers Mike Carrington, president; Pam Bidwell, vice-president; Sue Overman, secretary; Carol Ginsberg, treasurer; and advisers, Mrs. Barbara Fletcher and Mr. Joseph McGuire, to the Junior-Senior Prom in May.

The junior formula for fun was enthusiasm plus spirited participation in CHS's many activities. School dances and diversified sports found this eager and versatile class always ready to join the fun. The juniors sparked both the football and basketball squads besides distinguishing themselves in many other activities. Heading these events was "Champaign Night at the Ice Rink." A student-faculty basketball game and a junior play entitled "Four Little Words" followed this initial success. In late spring many juniors swelled the ranks of CHS honoraries and were inducted into Thespians, Quill and Scroll, and National Honor Society. The climax of this busy year was the Junior-Senior Prom, a never-to-be-forgotten night for all who attended. However, the juniors look forward with eagerness and enthusiasm to their senior year.

Clare Shapland, Nancy Ackermann, and Mary Shirley compose one of the acts which took the students on a tour through Europe in the colorful 1961 Stunt Show.

Decorating the halls during the joyous Christmas season are Linda Trulock, Sandy Flewelling, Lee Ann Wilder, Bonnie Bowen, Teri Spiegel, Pat Pierre, and Roberta Roy. They are a few of the students who helped to spread the Christmas cheer throughout our school.
