

Laird Salisbury, Lisa Brems, and Frank Lees anticipate future as they choose graduation announcements.

Memories Will Remain

So eager for their day of freedom all year long, students suddenly took on mixed emotions as the long-awaited day finally arrived. Happy at the thought of vacation, with no homework or high-school routine, students ripped through hallways, leaving their trails behind them.

Sadness, however, engulfed some seniors as they reminisced over their three years of high school. The end of high school seemed to mean the end of carefree school days, as new adventures and opportunities began to open to them.

With the vigor and vitality so typical of U.H.S. students, Martha Henry and Barbara Gartner write final exams.

Our newspaper staff published 18 issues of the Echo, including a unique April Fool's issue and a special eight-page senior edition. The issues, well-seasoned with spicy Rhet words in interesting articles on a wide range of topics, informed students on the goings-on at Urbana High. The seniors gained recognition in "By the Way," a feature presenting interviews with three students in each issue.

As in the past, staff members of the Echo attended the ISHPA Journalism Conference in the fall. The Echo benefited from the guidance and help of their sponsor, Mr. Stanley Hynes.

The International Honorary for high-school journalists, Quill and Scroll, encouraged and rewarded students for individual achievement in journalism. Members of Urbana's Quill and Scroll were juniors and seniors who were in the upper one-third of their classes scholastically, and who had done superior work on either the Echo or the Rosemary. Also, each member was recommended by the supervisor of his publication, and approved by the secretary-treasurer of the national society.

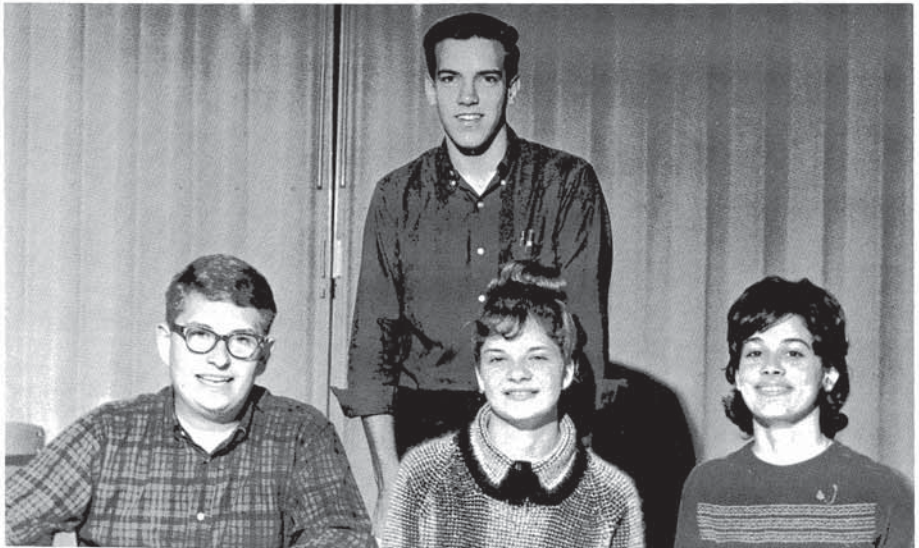

Student Council members, Vickie Applegate, Phil Knox, and Bill Hang, donate their Saturday morning to aftergame clean up.

Student Council, the school improvement organization, participated in a variety of activities, both old and new. Sponsoring the Tri-High and Winter Dances, hosting the State Board of the Illinois Association of Student Councils, and participating in the student exchange program with various Illinois high schools kept the Council members busy. The collection of food and clothes for the needy at Christmas time was the main civic project undertaken by the Student Council.

By offering the students opportunities for leadership and for assuming responsibilities, the Student Council benefited the school.

The "U" Club at UHS honored the lettermen in all sports. The only requirement necessary for membership was a varsity letter.

The "U" Club's aim was to form one unit from all athletic activities, thus promoting better relationships between athletes and coaches. Maintaining the highest possible standards of athletic competition was another of the club's important goals.

The formal initiation of new members was held in the spring in conjunction with the "U" Club Dance.

The French Club started the year with a formal initiation of new members. Later, Lisa Johnson entertained the club members with slides from France. After the annual Christmas caroling festivities, the club members enjoyed French pastries at Mrs. Stravinsky's home. A potluck banquet, in which the members came in costumes relating to France, highlighted the year. Mrs. Stravinsky and Mrs. Koster were the co-sponsors of the French Club.

The Spanish Club related to its members the experiences that some Spanish students had in Latin America. Lectures were given on Mexico, Ecuador, Peru, and Spain by students who had lived in or visited these countries. The climax of the club's activities consisted of an informal picnic in the spring. Mrs. Helen Nelkins acted as the sponsor for Spanish Club.

FTA served a dual purpose: it provided information about the teaching profession, and it provided members with the opportunity of cadet-teaching.

Activities of FTA this year featured the Region IV FTA workshop, held at UHS on October 26. At Christmas, members made scrapbooks for children in local hospitals. Throughout the year, speakers informed members on opportunities for teaching in various places, including the Peace Corps. In March, the senior members of FTA benefited from the opportunity to visit classrooms in session at local schools. Miss Marie Bauer sponsored the organization.

A hot dog party was a warm welcome for the new FHA members. Selling candy to raise funds, putting out an FHA Handbook, and preparing a Christmas basket for a needy family in the community challenged the girls. The Christmas Family Potluck, the Mother's Tea, and the annual Senior Breakfast helped fulfill the club's goals of increasing their worth to others. Mrs. Hazel Hasty sponsored the FHA organization.

The Tiger's Den, a place for friends to meet outside of school, was open almost every Friday and Saturday night this year. In addition, the Den sponsored special dances several times during the year. The Homecoming and Christmas Dances supplemented similar functions which took place at school. The Valentine Dance was the highlight of the year. A king and queen, elected by the students, were crowned with ceremony. Later in the year, the Hard-Times Dance was a contrast to the more formal functions.

The Council officers improved the Den by adding a new record player and speaker. In the spring, the Den Council held a picnic for old and new members.

The AFS Committee made it possible for Urbana High School to sponsor a student exchange program. Early in the fall, the committee screened the junior applicants for the American Field Service program. Having made the general selection, the committee then narrowed down the applicants to three students.

One of the main goals of the AFS program was to raise money to help both the local representative and the foreign exchange student financially. Volunteers sold chocolate to supply the needed funds.

The brother-sister program which helped students get acquainted with Marion Joseph was also sponsored by the AFS Committee under the guidance of Miss Bauer.

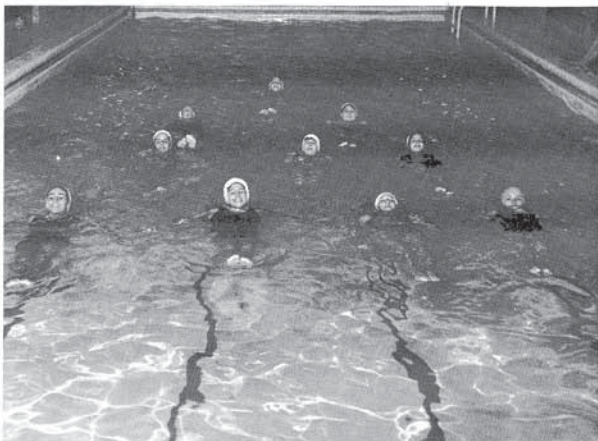

Juniors support AFS as Sandy Starr sells and Linda Faust buys.

Terrapin members build pyramid in practice.

Tryouts for Terrapin were based on the girls' ability to perform stunts and basic strokes. The new members were welcomed into the club with an informal initiation banquet in the fall. The girls began work in December since there was much preparation to be done for the spring show.

The costumes and scenery represented the hard work put in by the club members. The theme of the show was reflected in each of the numbers.

Mrs. Ione Nauseda and Miss Sherry Bovinet acted as co-sponsors for the club.

Orchesis Presents Professional Show

An open meeting in September informed interested girls about Orchesis. A three-week training period followed, ending with the selection of twelve dancers. Enlarged to twenty-four, the club picked chairman to choreograph the group dances. This year, Orchesis members decided to give two performances in May. Girls danced under the theme, 'Seasonal Review '63 and '64.' They worked hard, starting in November, to put on a good performance. Mrs. Johnson acted as sponsor.

Orchesis members, Kathy Dilley, Marilyn Bonney, Deanna Timpone, and Carol Olson, create new routine for spring show.

CHEMISTRY CLUB OFFICERS—Frank Lees, V-Pres.; Mike Bowman, Pres.; Lisa Brems, Sec.

Chemistry Club was re-established at UHS this year. It was formed with the purpose of providing both extra material for students especially interested in chemistry and an opportunity for them to spend more time in the lab experimenting.

The club had speakers come to talk about different areas of chemistry. Club members also took trips to places of interest in the area. In addition to outside speakers, several club members spoke concerning projects they were involved in. Miss Rose Rehm, sponsor, and Mrs. Carolyn Conrad, advisor, aided the club members in their individual pursuits in chemistry.

G.A.A. was an invitation to all girls interested in sports and in making friends while having fun. The new sponsor this year, Miss Bovinet, participated in games with the girls, enjoying the high spirit and fun.

Swimming, ping-pong, badminton, bowling, and the annual play-day entertained the members. Girls received points for G.A.A. participation, and at the end of the year, three awards were presented to the girls having the most points.

Science Clubs Keep Busy with Projects

JETS, the Junior Engineering Technical Society, is a club devoted to developing interest in science and mathematics at Urbana High School. All members are encouraged to work either on a project of their own design or Regitiae, the club's digital computer project. All projects will be displayed in the science contests at the university in the spring. Mr. Paul Smith acts as sponsor for the club.

Commercial Club and GAA Promote Special Interests

Two credits in a business education course were the ticket for Commercial Club membership. Goals of the club included the promotion of interest and careers in commercial work.

Compiling the TIGERECTORY, a student directory, was the main project of the year. Other activities included a celebration pizza party after the TIGERECTORY was completed, field trips, and guest speakers. Throughout the year, members became acquainted with local businesses and learned of job opportunities in commercial fields. Mrs. Alderson and Mrs. Kolkhurst were co-sponsors.

The Social Klub membership was open to all girls at Urbana High. Early in the fall, the club sponsored a "Big-Little Sister Party" so the sophomore girls could get better acquainted with the junior and senior members. Marion Joseph sang and played her guitar as part of the entertainment.

Also, Social Klub sponsored the Homecoming Dance. In December, S.K. members decorated two flocked Christmas trees for the school. In the spring, the newly elected officers planned a breakfast honoring senior members.

The Art Club provided an opportunity for artistically inclined students to work creatively on special projects, such as oil painting, weaving, and sculpturing. At regular meetings, members worked on personal art projects, held group discussions, and enjoyed guest speakers.

For their money-making project, Art Club members made and sold tiger heads. As supervisor, Mrs. Ruth Ross aided the students in their art work.

During Book Week, the Library Club sold paperbacks covering a wide range of interests to students at Urbana High. In addition, the money raised by a successful newspaper drive supplemented the club's funds.

Social activities included a Christmas Party, several Gym 'n' Swim Nights, and a tea for faculty members. The Library Club members benefited from the trips to the regional and states conventions, and enjoyed a spring picnic at Turkey Run.

GERMAN CLUB OFFICERS—Front row: Sally Schmidt, V-Pres.; Nancy Wakefield, Pres.; Second row: Dave Lang, Co-Program Chrm.; Peggy Hageman, Sec.; Steve Gilbert, Parliamentarian; Absent: Melinda Brookins, Co-Program Chrm.

Mrs. Koster sponsored the newest language club at Urbana High School, the German Club. The club's purposes for organizing were to promote participation in activities for German students, to stimulate interest in German culture and language, and to provide an opportunity for fellowship among German-speaking students.

Students held monthly meetings, and, as a special activity, organized a German banquet. To raise funds, the club members sold pompoms.

Library Club and D.O. Provide Students with Practical Skills

Juniors and seniors were eligible for Diversified Occupations, co-operative part-time vocational training. The D.O. program enabled students to receive, simultaneously, a high school diploma and on-the-job experience. After extensive counseling by the D.O. Co-ordinator, Donald McAllister, students were placed in jobs for a minimum of three hours daily. Students also received one hour of related classroom instruction each day. Until their training was completed, students earned beginners wages.

THESPIAN OFFICERS—Alicia Weber, Treas.; Bill Walker, Sec.; Nick Altenbernd, Pres.; Kathy Brown, V-Pres.

Energetic students with interest in Urbana-High dramatic productions formed the club of Delta Sigma and Thespians. Students earned the required number of points for membership by participating in the cast of a play, or by working on one of numerous committees.

To be eligible for Delta Sigma, five points were required; ten points were required for membership in the National Thespians Society. The two clubs met jointly, with the same officers; the main projects of both clubs were the spring and fall productions, "You Can't Take It With You" and "The Twelfth Night." Mrs. Korn acted as the drama coach.

Orchestra and Band Provide Musical Entertainment

Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Giewartowski, the Urbana High Orchestra had a very successful year. The students enjoyed studying a wide range of composers, including the semi-contemporary artist Samuel Barber, and the very modern composer Paul Hindemith. The orchestra spent a great deal of time working on the famous Second Symphony by the Finnish composer Jean Sibelius.

In February, the orchestra held an assembly to give a preview of the Winter Concert. Before playing the pieces, Mr. Giewartowski explained to the students a little about the structure of a symphony.

In March, under the direction of Mr. John Book, the Varsity Band presented a concert in co-operation with the Concert Choir and Girls' Glee Club. In the spring, the Varsity and Concert Bands combined to perform the annual outdoor Twilight Concert.
