Bands were busy this year. The marching band and drum majors Cathy Rowan and Greg Prose competed in two contests and placed better than ever before. The band's high finish was a first place in parade competition. They also provided half-time shows for each home football game. After the marching season ended, the band split into two groups and began the concert season. Placing in state contests qualified the band for a place in the super contest at Krannert Center on the U of I campus. The bands played at home basketball games and raised money to finance a trip for the 1981 band. The awards banquet sponsored by the Music Boosters completed the year.

The U.S.S. orchestra under Jim Calhoun's direction was much larger than in previous years because many enthusiastic and talented sophomores joined the group. The increased number and instruments allowed more flexibility in music selection. Concerts at nursing homes, Lincoln Square and school provided wide exposure for this group. Ensembles prepared for ensemble contests with a first all ensemble concert. The entire orchestra participated in the state contest and enjoyed the year end trip which was funded by candy sales.

Increased interest permitted the forming of two jazz groups this year. Practices were held once a week out of school. Many types of jazz were studied and played with an emphasis on improvisation. The group competed in a festival at Milikin University and placed well. They ended the year with a first trip to St. Louis where they played in an international competition and then spent a day at Six Flags.

One of the high spots in the year for the choirs came when Robert Ray guest conducted them. They sang his version of the Gospel Mass at a fall concert. The choirs made many appearances throughout the community in December. The year was topped off by their annual trip which they financed by the sale of candy bars.

fall's french farce fares well

THE UHS DRAMA CLUB PRESENTS...

DIRECTED BY GREG CHEW
DECEMBER 7, 8, AND 9, 1979

8:00 p.m., December 7, 1979. Cobb Auditorium explodes light and laughter. It is opening night for the production of Anouilh's farce Anouilh's Thieve's Carnival. The french resort town of Vichy comes alive as three thieves, Peterbono, Hector and Gustave chase three coincidentally rich ladies. Much to the chagrin of all, one Gustave and one Juliette fall in love. Add one very suspicious Lord Edgard, two desperate bankers, a wandering clarinetist and a mishmash of townspeople, and you have a wonderful funny addition to the Urbana troupe's many credits.

1. Juliette (Gail Klein) catches her lover Gustave (Chris Jensen) stealing everything. 2. Peterbono, Hector and Gustave (Taira, Reedy, and Jensen) even steal from babies. 3. Lady Hurf (Kristen Otterbacher) silences Lord Edgard (Rick Rutherford). 5. Lady Hurf starts her own comedy. 6. Drama does its own advertising.

the play's the laugh

Second semester the speech team put together a production of NEXT OF KIN to be performed at the District Speech Contests. On March 15th, the Urbana players made everyone laugh as a dead man forced his brother and his brother's daughter to give up being artists and singers because they had no talents for it.

speech gets new coaches

The speech team, coached by Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Cox, attended five meets this year. The team competed in humorous and dramatic interpretation, humorous and dramatic duet acting, original comedy, prose and verse reading and radio speaking. Shoshanna Ahart placed third in dramatic interpretation at district competition, while Madeline Strong placed second in original comedy. Both competed at sectionals and made it to the final round of competition.

The U.S. Echo, sponsored by Clare Barkley, informed and entertained the student body. Alicia Banks edited the newspaper first semester and Peggy Savage took over for the remainder of the year. The Echo contained school events, jokes, cartoons and other features. In order to select a new logo, the Echo held a contest to which interested students submitted their art. The students selected the logo drawn by John Barkley and it was used in the Echo for the rest of the year.

February activities were highlighted by the Valentine's dance at the Holiday Inn. Alicia Banks was president first semester and Gala Brown took over second semester. Easter entertainment at the County Nursing Home culminated second semester activities.

The Future Secretaries of America is an organization which gives interested students the opportunity to learn and practice secretarial skills. Members expanded their techniques by attending workshops around the area. All meetings were held in evening hours and programs were geared to helping the members know beforehand in the ins and outs of real secretarial jobs.

Vocational Education grows each year as new programs and co-curricular activities are added. D.E., I.C.E., C.W.T., H.E.R.O. and W.E.C.E.P. classes support student interests in work areas.
