Peer Counselors and EHI Participants Get a Taste of Work

The nationally organized UHS Peer Counseling group became a huge success in a short period of time. These trained peers were there simply to help the students cope with everyday life, which isn't always that simple. Approximately 21 students are involved, and after a 6-week training program by Grace Wingfield, these students were available to help during all lunch hours. Peer Counseling has also sold pizza at the Finals Dance and were hosts to other schools coming to observe this program. These students definitely deserve a hearty thank-you, and hopefully next year will be just as successful.

Another group acquainted with vocational training is the Executive High School Internship program, or EHI. Led by Adviser Karen Robertson, the group actually goes out to the workplace in different fields. This program is quite rigorous, and takes a lot of time during the week. If the students wish, they can also take a class only during first period. Many different businesses from around Champaign-Urbana cater to the program. In the past, students have taken part in internships at radio stations, hospitals, area schools, newspaper, and a wealth of other areas.

Some students at Urb School choose to take an approach towards school. This, not the only way to go the school. Many students are in the Co-op education or programs. These students have to meet graduation requirements, then are free to gain experience in careers and jobs high school.

Through Recruitment of New Staff, Echo Publishes Papers

The Echo is an all-school newspaper, which is very informative on school functions and extracurricular activities. Through the Echo, students are able to express their opinions in the editorials and reviews. Students are allowed to submit articles to be put in the Echo and with the approval of Mrs. Barkley, the adviser for the Echo, the articles are printed.

The Echo has been published for 75 years and still continues to be a great success. With the work of the staff and their adviser the Echo is published frequently throughout the school year.

Key Club Works Hard And Plays Hard During 88-89

This year, the Urbana Key Club raised money for several charities through a variety of activities. They participated in a Bowl-a-Thon against Central Key Club as well as a Rake-a-Thon of laws across C-U. The number one money-maker this year, as in years past, was the grapefruit and orange sales. The money earned from the sales (about $500) was given to the local Women's Shelter.

However, Key Club is not "all work and no play." The members really enjoyed taking part in the Bowl-a-Thon and the Rake-a-Thon, and the group also had a picnic, an end of the year trip, and their annual Lock-In. For the students involved, Key Club is a great way to help others and have fun at the same time.

Classes:

Different Shapes

With the new shape of the school and all the work that was done, it was easy to overlook the really important things — among them students. Let's face it — without students, what would a school be? No matter how nice it looks, a school without students would be a building with a bunch of teachers talking to themselves.

We're Not Square

The Sophomores were busy during the 1988-89 year. They worked hard on selling Christmas items, as well as candy. They held these fundraisers in anticipation of paying for Prom next year.

The 88-89 sophomore class is unique in that they are the last group to enter the high school as sophomores. The following year the new "juniors" will have two new classes to pick on. And despite what this year's seniors said, sophomores proved that they weren't square.

The junior class was quite busy raising money for the 1989 Junior-Senior Prom and also for their own graduation in 1990. They conducted such fundraisers as the selling of posters and various Christmas items. The class of 1990 looked forward to being the first class to graduate from the totally renovated high school. The Junior class suffered through two years of renovation and anxiously awaited a construction-free senior year.

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT: D. Larson and R. Ynestroza watch the MacArthur game. G. Beard comes to save T. Yasunaga's latest victim. Is it ying or is it yang? This is no Danny DeVito or Arnold Schwarzenegger. I love what you've done with this room! W. Sarver investigates mysterious life forms. Why is A. Wilson so happy? The Ynestrozas prepare for their next class. T. Osterbur, J. Wizecki and J. Beck keep warm at the football game.
