The Senior Class was among the busiest of the organizations at UHS. They pulled off a series of very successful Homecoming activities, including the Parade, Floatbuilding and the Dance (see beginning of book). One of the pinnacles of the year was winning float-building for their first time ever.

This class handled the brunt of the Renovation, surviving more than two of their three years while the school was under construction. However, maybe because of the renovation, they tried harder. The class that left the building in June of 1989 was certainly better adapted than they were as sophomores. Unfortunately, they graduated without seeing the project completed. Hopefully, though, they'll look back on these years knowing that in 1988-89 they were in Tip-top shape.

The Trends and Events

The school year of 1991 was most any other year, was full of events and sports events, as well as a few of those items.

News

In international news, the clash with Libya in which jets were shot down, Pan Am was blown up over the village of Lockerbie, Scotland, killing everyone on board. The Reagan-Gorbachev summit was short in December of '88 by an earthquake in Armenia — 60,000 people were killed. In addition, troops were pulled out of Somalia after nearly ten years of occupation.

In national news, the presidential election dominated the news, ending in George Herbert Walker Bush and Dan Quayle defeating Michael Dukakis and Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. And in January of 1991, the two candidates bid farewell to Ronald Reagan, his 8-year term as president.

Odds and Ends

Popular movies included Top Gun, The Untouchables, The Untouchables, Who Framed Roger Rabbit, Man of Steel, Working Girl, and Burning at the Stake.

Big music makers included R.E.M., Tracy Chapman, The Police, Debbi Gibson and Tiffani Amber, Edie Brickell and the New Power Generation, Bobby McFerrin's "I Wanna Be Like You," the Bangles, and rap music gained popularity (such as Tone Loc).

The Trends and Events of 88-89

The school year of 1988-89, like almost any other year, was filled with news and sports events, as well as fads. Below are a few of those items.

News

In international news, the U.S. had a clash with Libya in which two Libyan jets were shot down, Pan Am flight 103 was blown up over the village of Lockerbie, Scotland, killing everyone aboard, a Reagan-Gorbachev summit was cut short in December of '88 by a colossal earthquake in Armenia — over 20,000 people were killed. In addition, Soviet troops were pulled out of Afghanistan after nearly ten years of occupation.

In national news, the presidential election dominated the news for months, ending in George Herbert Walker Bush and Dan Quayle defeating Governor Michael Dukakis and Senator Lloyd Bentsen. And in January of '89, legislators bid farewell to Ronald Reagan after his 8-year term as president. In November, the country mourned the 25th anniversary of John F. Kennedy's assassination, and for months the country was stuck in the lingering drought that proved disastrous for many parts of the country.

In news closer to home, the government recommended the closing of the Chanute Air Force Base in Rantoul, making many area citizens begin the fight to keep it open; and Mercy and Burnham hospitals merged. And at UHS, there was controversy over the administration's policy on wearing caps backwards, as well as the district's teacher cutbacks. Attendance at sports events generally increased, and students finally gained their parking privileges.

Odds and Ends

Popular movies included Big, Cocktail, Who Framed Roger Rabbit, Rain Man, Working Girl, and Mississippi Burning.

Big music makers included U2, R.E.M., Tracy Chapman, the mallduo of Debby Gibson and Tiffany, Gun 'n' Roses, Edie Brickell and the New Bohemians, Bobby McFerrin's "Don't Worry, Be Happy," the Bangles, the Replacements, and rap music gained much popularity (such as Tone Loc's "Wild Thing").

In television, shows such as "Thirtyso-mething," "The Wonder Years," "The Cosby Show," "Roseanne," "Family Ties," and "Wiseguy" were popular. Another big news-maker were the variety of talk shows, some of which were called "trash TV." These shows gained a surge of controversy, and in turn, popularity. In addition, pro-wrestling remained popular.

Sports

In sports news, the Illini football team got a new head coach in John Mackovic, the San Francisco 49ers won the Super-bowl, the Los Angeles Dodgers emerged victorious in the World Series, and there was much public furor over the lights installed in Chicago's Wrigley Field. And in March, the Illini basketball team advanced to the Final Four. Hopes were high, but the Illini fell to Michigan in the semifinal game.

Volleyball Bonanza a real winner

National Honor Society nets the best.

The National Honor Society has again had another prosperous year. The members of NHS, who must have a 4.5 grade point average, participated in many helpful and fun activities throughout the year. These included; Tiger Tail-great, sponsoring two volleyball games a year, and a fundraiser through proctoring psychology exams at the U of I. The money raised is used to help all types of student organizations. Thanks to NHS, many of our biggest events become successes.

Noteworthy Students

Students Receive Various Awards

Every year at Urbana High School, different students are honored with different rewards. Among these awards are the National Merit Scholarship Award, the DAR/SAR awards and membership in the PSP.

National Merit Semi-finalists include students who scored in the top one percent of the PSAT. The semi-finalists for 1988-89 were Sara Brierton, Kerrie Maloney and Brady Montz. Once every year, one male and one female student are chosen by the Societies of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution to receive an honorary award. The recipients for the 1988-89 year were Mehrdad Azemun and Sara Brierton. Members of the Principal Scholars Program are students who have been honored by eligibility for scholarships. All of these students are truly noteworthy.

Hola, Bonjour, Guten Tag

Do games, food and good times sound like something fun? They are, and the language honor societies and clubs are enjoying them all. There are three languages offered at UHS; Spanish, French and German. Each has an honor society for students who have earned more A's than B's in their respective language.

There are also language clubs for those who want to play an active role in language activities. The clubs are open to everyone and plan most of the events. The societies are mostly just honorary. Each has an induction ceremony each year for new members.

The clubs host many activities. Probably the most famous is the annual soccer game series. The clubs play each other in an informal yet very competitive game. The victor earns bragging rights for the year. Other activities include; potlucks, bake sales and field trips. This year the Spanish club had a culture exchange with a school in Nicaragua.

All three groups share fun and their language's culture with each other.

Senior Of the Year

Seniors Select Rosemary Award Winner

February 18, 1989, Dr. Craig and Athletic Director Jim Graham and Robert Atkinson as the winner of the Rosemary Outstanding Senior Award. Also honored were nominees Brian Faulkner, Catherine Bloome and Mehrdad Azemun. This prestigious award is given away once every year. Seniors nominate the candidates and cast the ballots for the final voting. The senior of the year must be a student who basically creates a positive image of Urbana students, and is in a word — outstanding.

The Outstanding Senior Award goes to a student who creates a positive image of Urbana High students. This positive image is reflected in that student's:

- Maintaining a good academic record
- Participating actively in school activities
- Assuming leadership responsibilities
- Working congenially in the school community
- Achieving excellence in areas not necessarily academic

Leisure Rules

Students Take Part in a Variety of School-Oriented Events

In addition to the academics, the sports and the organizations many students are also active in other school sponsored activities.

Several of these events are coordinated by special clubs and groups, but are open to anyone in the school. National Honor Society, Student Senate and the Athletic Boosters are among the most active.

The most popular include: the Thanksgiving Dinner, the Auction, the Basketball Bonanza, Pep Busses to away varsity games, All School Dances, both formal and informal, and the Volleyball Bonanzas.

These events have become annual occurrences and students look forward to them from year to year. As soon as the fall Volleyball Bonanza is over teams are already being set up for the Spring. Just a few days after the Dinner suggestions and ideas for next year's are being worked out.

For both students and faculty at UHS these happenings are the result of a lot of time and hard work usually resulting in a good time for all who join in.

Our Teachers

The shapers — C'mon no matter how much you may try to deny it teachers really do have a major influence on us. They help us determine our likes and dislikes, goals and skills. A good teacher can have a profound effect on a student that will positively influence him for years to come. Faculty members not only teach, but they learn with us through classroom experiences and extracurricular activities.

Many teachers supplement their class work by sponsoring a club, sport or activity. They can provide experience and knowledge in a more casual atmosphere.

It is in this kind of situation that's often more enjoyable, but just as worthwhile. And it wouldn't be possible without teachers.

When you consider that a teacher may have 150 or more students a day and a student has only six or seven teachers, it is obvious that these adults play a major role in your life. As you look back 10 or 20 years from now certain teachers will stand out in your mind as The Shapers.
