Without this group of girls what would Coach Fredricks and Coach Vance do? The girls took times, kept score and made sure things ran smoothly for both girls and boys home swim meets.

Half Nelsons

As aides to the wrestling coaches, the Half Nelsons have many duties. Scoring, timing and general information runners, these girls are a crucial part of the meets. The Half Nelsons, in the years to come, hope to get an earlier start in the year to enable them to participate in some fund raising projects. But as a whole, the Half Nelsons are the extra help needed to produce successful wrestling meets.

Conservation Club

Nature hikes and similar kinds of field trips were common practice for conservation club members. One such "Field trip" was to Devil's Lake, Wisconsin, for cross country skiing. The Conservation Club's endangered species for the year was the wolf. The club had T-shirts made up with a wolf on the front.

With the help of our Student Council the Conservation Club sponsored Earth Week, and the highlight of the year the all-school paper-drive which lasted the second semester.

Chess Club

Getting together after school to play chess was habit forming for the Chess Club members.

Mr. Spoonamore's room was filled with the members challenging each other and sharing tactics with one another.

Computer

This year the computer club became involved by sponsoring an open gym. The computer club also gained enough recognition to be allowed to use the Plato facilities in the library.

In the Amateur Radio Club there is everything from novices to experts. All are trained in Morse Code and taught how to handle emergency situations. When no emergencies arose, communication across continents kept things going.

Melanie Ignakiak, Homecoming Queen, Crowns DeDe Fileccia for this year's queen.

Homecoming activities were exciting and each student was involved with the spirit of the upcoming game. The Annual National Honor Society Bonfire was held the night preceding the game. The rock group of Centennial's own students "Sphinx" was the highlight of the evening.

The day of Homecoming, mums were distributed by the band members as a way for the student population to send Homecoming greetings to their friends and acquaintances. The Student Council held an intense assembly, past Homecoming kings of Centennial and past cheerleaders came to help keep the spirit of Homecoming high. The candidates for Homecoming queen were presented with their escorts, and the Senior Girls Council (Interserve) performed a skit.

After school, the floats were judged in their respective class competition and the Seniors proudly took first place. Decorated cars, bikes and floats all took their positions, and the Homecoming parade was underway and a large success.

The Pep Club Chili Supper was held after the Varsity Show and then the game we all had anticipated was nearing. The Chargers were renowned in their performance on the field and the game was a spirited success. At halftime DeDe Fileccia was crowned as Homecoming Queen by Melonie Ignasiak, '77-'78 queen.

The Homecoming Dance ended the week of activities and it too was a success. Mark Hartman reigned as our Homecoming King. And when completed, the excitement of the week lingered on to be remembered by all those participating in Homecoming activities.

The Thanksgiving assembly is not only to recognize the football players and basketball stars, but tradition, the crowning of Miss Jinglebells is held during this assembly. As the candidates walked out onto center gym, the lights dimmed and excitement grew. Denise Hyde was crowned Miss Jinglebells by our Homecoming King Mark Hartman and Homecoming Queen DeDe Feliccia. Denise and her court welcomed Santa to Country Fair Mall and assisted him through the holiday season.

Business Associates

All teachers in the Business Department of Centennial are involved directly or indirectly with the sponsoring of the Business Associates Club. Students enrolled in Business courses are eligible to be in the club. Members meet once a month and are often the audience of Business men and women of Champaign and Urbana. Their December project was a Disco Dance, and they hope to raise money through candy sales to plan their annual field trip.

Being chosen Senior-of-the-Month is an honor filled with self-pride. The faculty and this committee work together to choose the outstanding seniors in academics, sports, and activities each month.

Afro-American Club

The Afro American Club arouses the curiosity of those interested in the Afro American culture. The club began the year with Derby Day which they sponsored. They had an active second semester.

It all started as a way of keeping in shape during the winter months. Members of the Cross Country team have spent time, about two to five times a week, running outside in our "Champaign winter" weather. These guys have shown great loyalty toward the Striders and their efforts will prove well worth it in the end.

Soccer Club

With the support of health teacher, Mr. Skizas, intramural sports were started as after school activities. The soccer club began this way. Its popularity grew, and the students at Centennial supported their games. The club played in the fall and hopes of its continuance in the years to come are high.

This year has been a new beginning for Title Seven. The group is concerned with peer and inter-racial relationships throughout the school. Funds have been provided by the Government for projects of cultural and social participation by the school population. This year Title Seven sponsored a trip to "The Wiz" and a viewing of an opera at Krannert. Meetings with other Title Seven groups and the school board are requirements of each member of the Title Seven board.

Seniors Make It To The Top

As the year draws to a close there are different attitudes taken by seniors. One of happiness, getting away from teachers, homework and finals. But for some it is a feeling of sadness, leaving the place where they have spent three years; separating from friends and looking on to the future.

The long hard hours working on the Homecoming float finally paid off with a first place.

As the seniors flip their tassels at graduation, Centennial will lose a fine group of students and people. Good Luck to the Class of '79.
