Almost Great

The Urbana swimming team developed into one of the midstate powers in '69. Their record was a mediocre 5-5 but they rose to the occasion in the district and conference meets, finishing third and second respectively. It was a tremendously successful year from the standpoint of individual performances, as five new records were established and three men plus a relay qualified for state competition. Leon Yankwich qualified in the 50 freestyle and set a new district mark of 22.7. He also set a school record of 57.0 in the 100 freestyle and won two conference crowns. Ted Odom closed out his high school career in freestyle as he qualified for state on the strength of his district diving win. He also set the conference diving mark. Andy Miller was indispensable in winning two firsts in conference and district, setting a 400 freestyle record of 4:07, and qualifying for the state meet. The 400 yard freestyle relay team of Creighton Laz, Jim Glasa, Jim Weisiger, and Leon Yankwich also qualified for state as they broke the school record in 3:33.5. Another record, the 160 medley relay, was tied in 1:24.5 by Jim Weisiger, Chris Brown, Creighton Laz, and Leon Yankwich.

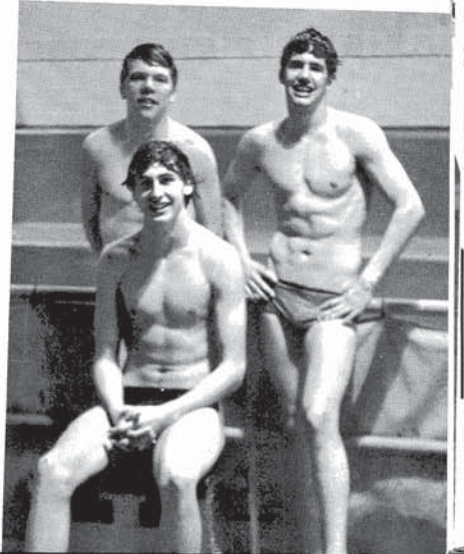

Many swimmers contributed to the effort, Chris Brown in the I.M., John May in Butterfly, Jim Glasa and Creighton Laz in sprints, Jim Weisiger in Backstroke, and Bob Glasa in Breaststroke. The necessary depth for any successful team was provided by Pete Brown, Neil Frownfelter, Bob Hutchinson, and Dave Mussey.

Harrier Depth Proves Potent

With the help of three exceptional Sophomores and six returning lettermen, Bill Plymire's '68 Tiger Harriers compiled a fine 10-4 dual meet record and finished third in both the conference and district meets. Among these four losses, two came against a powerful Danville team and the other two were suffered to teams which the Tigers beat convincingly in later invitational. To their dual meet record, the varsity added a first at the Paris invitational, and the Sophomores were undefeated in dual meets, first at both Paris and Centennial. Despite an injury to Captain Larry Abernathy and sickness of other top runners, some good individual performances and substantial depth proved potent against most opponents. Junior Gary "the Machine" Shaw and Senior John Sherrod led the Tigers to their ten victories and both qualified for the state meet at Savoy. A severe blow to the team was a knee injury to Captain Larry Abernathy, which put him out for the season. These two were supported by Sophomore Marc Chandler, Seniors Bob Werkman, Roy Roberts, Rich Cureton, Mike Giddens, and Jim Kruidenier and Sophomores Greg Shaw and Bill Judd.

Tiger Harriers walk the course and plan their strategy . . . and the race begins!

Rosemary— Shakespeare's Symbol of Remembrance

As the year progressed, the Rosemary staff became increasingly knowledgeable in all areas of yearbook editorship. After many hours and late nights, the editors were able to put new ideas to work to make this Rosemary unique. The well thought-out yearbook makes the remembrance an easy thing.

Urbana High School would not be complete without the contributions of its student government. Student Council performed many services for the school as well as for the community. These activities included cleaning bleachers, giving Christmas baskets and sponsoring council workshops. To make money, Student Council sponsored a "Chili Fiesta" in the fall. This was a pre-Talent Show dinner complete with candles and guitar music. In the winter, the council sponsored a formal dance which featured the crowning of "Miss Rosemary". The job of Inter-High this year was to serve as a channel for communication of ideas and opinions between the four high school student councils. In March Inter-High sponsored a semi-formal dance to bring all the students of the high schools together.

A.F.S. members spent many hours making money to help support our visiting exchange student. The first Shorts Day of the year was held in the early fall. Slacks Day came as its follow-up in the winter. As hard as the members tried, it seems the boys refused to pay to come to school on Slacks Day. However, this financial obstacle was overcome with the selling of chocolate bars and boxes of chocolate. Den Council offered the Tiger's Den as a year-long center for student relaxation. Various attractions such as silent movies and jazz bands kept the Den open for the changing times. The Den Council sponsored the Homecoming Dance, "Homeward Bound", and the music was by the Gay Poppers. Senior Council members were given the awesome responsibility of organizing the traditional activities of the senior class. They took in hand Class Night, the Senior Picnic, and the class gift. Between the desires of the seniors and the rules of the administration, they took a balanced position between preserving the glamour and the peace.

Early in the fall, members of the FTA Club were asked to serve at the School Board Tea. Later in the year, they held an initiation for all new members. Throughout the year the meetings featured guest speakers from the University, as well as from the Urbana School system. In the spring, the club held its annual Faculty Breakfast. Several of the club members attended the IAFTA convention in March. During second semester, the senior members of FTA were allowed to become cadet teachers in nearby schools. At the end of their teaching time, the cadet teachers honored the teachers they worked with at a potluck supper. FHA began its year of activity with a formal initiation featuring the traditional FHA ceremony. FHA meetings included a fashion show by Lewis' Fashion Board, and a lecture and demonstration by a well known hair designer. In the spring, FHA recognized National FHA Week with posters and radio announcements. On the state level, the club attended the Sectional Rally at Arthur, and the club president attended the state FHA meeting at Normal.

The Feminine Touch

74

SK, the all girls Social Klub at Urbana High, started the year off with the traditional Big-Little Sister Party. This gathering was to make the sophomore girls feel welcome and to help upperclass girls become acquainted with the underclass girls. Later in the year, the girls decorated the Christmas tree which graced the halls of UHS and later was given to a needy family. The club honored the senior girls with a breakfast in the spring. Pep Club worked hard this fall to arouse spirit for the football season. They decorated halls with crepe paper and balloons. Pep assemblies were organized and new enthusiasm surged with the "Victory Yell" competition. During the basketball season, balloons and hats heralded in the Champaign-Urbana games.

Looking Ahead

Distributive Education or D.E. is a national program that has been established in Urbana High School for about five years. The program includes classwork, job training and club activities. This year, the club participated in local and state competitions. Industrial Cooperative Education or I.C.E. has been at Urbana High School for almost a quarter of a century. This program, like D.E., is a national program which consists of classwork, job training and club activities. During the Christmas season, the club sponsored several Christmas baskets. Future Business Leaders of America or F.B.L.A. began its second year as a chartered club with several organizational meetings. To earn money, the members sold Christmas candles and Ko-Rec-Type. Throughout the year the club featured several guest speakers at their meetings. In the spring, the club attended a state convention in Springfield.

To start the year with a little money, Latin Club members sold baked goods at Lincoln Square. Their goal — a field trip to Chicago to see a play. The tradition of the club was upheld at the annual Latin Club Banquet. The feast was enjoyed by members in togas and tunics, and only the underclassmen slaves were heard grumbling. The Spanish Club began the school year with a picnic at Crystal Lake Park. Later in the fall, Alicia Seltzer spoke to the club on Argentina at a post-football party. They also listened to records from Bolivia as they munched on sugar doughnuts and hot chocolate. Later in the year the club had many successful money making projects. French Club planned their first activity around Christmas time. The club members traveled by bus throughout Urbana singing popular carols in French. Later a party was held at Mrs. Stravinsky's to warm up and sing a little more. In the spring, the annual picnic was held.

This year the Debate Team began their busy schedule with contests with Centennial and Bloomington. They chose the draft as their topic. In the spring, they participated in the sectional and state contests. Many members of the Art Club were able to travel to Europe last summer in a student art program. In the fall, the students reported their experiences to the club. During the Christmas season the club sponsored a Christmas party. This spring art students submitted several works to the Scholastic Art Awards Show. Telescopes, lasers, and rockets were studied, duplicated, and experimented with by members of the Jets Club. In the fall, the president of the State Jets Club visited the high school club here to talk with the members. In the spring, the club made field trips to the University to see the electronic and observatory labs there. When they were not doing individual experiments or sightseeing, the members worked on group experiments.

The Wet and Dry of It

Early this year tryouts were held for girls and boys interested in becoming members of Orchesis. The girls learned various types of leaps, turns and routines. In addition to this, each girl was required to create her own dance. The old members and Mrs. McWhorter, their sponsor, judged tryouts. The goal of the club this year was to present the best show possible. "And All That Jazz . . ." included every type of dance from jazz and ballet to an African drum dance.

Terrapin also sponsored clinics for all interested girls. Shortly after, they had tryouts and selected new members. The new members were subjected to the annual initiation. This included such hardships as competing against the old members in relays, serving as slaves, and singing at a moments notice the club song. The water show, which was presented in April, was entitled "Swimming the Channels", and it dealt with the various types of television programs.

The activities of the Thespians centered around the two plays, See How They Run and their contest play The Glass Menagerie. To become a Thespian, one must earn ten points by working a hundred hours on the various crews or by being in the cast of the play. During the Christmas season, they sponsored a bake sale to earn the money needed for producing the plays. To become a member of Delta Sigma one must earn half of the necessary points to become a Thespian. This year's Delta Sigmas worked in cooperation with the Thespians on the crews for the plays. They also earned extra points by helping with the bake sale.

The A Cappella choir began a busy schedule of appearances with their annual fall concert. Throughout the year they filled their calendar with performances in various churches and clubs throughout Urbana. In the spring, the choir went on tour to various communities in Illinois. The all-girl Canzoni choir sang for the fall and winter programs. Like the A Cappella choir, the Canzoni choir made several appearances for community organizations. The Madrigals sang for many private organizations as well as for school concerts. Madrigals groups originated in the 15th century with their own unique style. The girls in their long skirts and the group assembled around a table helped to recreate the 15th century atmosphere. The Varsity Band, directed by Mr. Davis, also performed for numerous school concerts. Between concerts the boosted Tiger spirit at many of the home football and basketball games.

The Marching Band: The stomping feet, sounding horns and booming drums of the Urbana High School marching band spurred on Tiger spirit at every home football game. Even through the blizzards at the Champaign-Urbana game, the marching band entertained spectators at half time with favorite melodies and expert formations. The formations were highlighted with costumes, dance steps and appropriate props. The band was led by Drum Major, Paul Kilgore, and his assistant Drum Major, Bob Wikoff. The Majorettes: Once again the majorettes tossed their batons over the end goal post in the traditional Goal Post Review. At Homecoming this year all five of the batons were successfully thrown and caught. Tradition says that for every baton successfully thrown and caught, the Urbana Tigers will win a football game. The Pom-Pom Girls: The high-spirited girls in the short white skirts never stopped jumping, smiling, or shaking their pom-poms. During half time activities, the orange pom-poms bloomed across the football field. The Banner Girls: Marching with the band, the Banner Girls supported flags bearing the names and colors of each school in the Big 12 Conference. When they were not marching with the band, they complemented the formations of the band with their own marching routines. On October nineteenth, the Urbana High School marching band traveled to Wesleyan, Illinois, to participate in the Homecoming activities there.
